

COPCO DISPLAYS GERM DEATH RAY, NEW HEAT UNIT

Two of Latest Electrical Devices at Local Utility Headquarters — Public Inspection Is Invited

Two new electrical products—one a "death-ray" for use in killing germs, bacteria and mold and the other a cooking unit said to be the most revolutionary development in the history of commercial cooking equipment—are on display in the basement of the California Oregon Power company building at 216 West Main street. The public is cordially invited to inspect the two products.

The "death-ray" called a Sterilizer is a new product which destroys all bacteria with remarkable effectiveness due to the ultra-violet radiation it produces. It's uses are many, according to Don Runyard, Copco employe, and it will kill typhoid germs in six seconds from a distance of 18 inches, he explained.

It develops its amazing power by the stepping-up of 120 volts to 3000 Mr. Runyard said. It is now available on the market.

The new type cooking unit, developed by the Griswold Manufacturing company after 15 years intensive research, is twice as fast doing the same job as present electric units, and 15 per cent more efficient and economical, it was explained. One quart of water reaches the boiling point in two minutes with the new unit.

It is called a transposed induction cooking unit. It employs the induction method of heating, with all the heat being generated within the utensil, while the unit remains comparatively cool. When the unit is turned on, a powerful magnet holds the utensil in place and it cannot be removed until the current is turned off. Magnetic lines of force are introduced into the utensil, generating the heat within the utensil itself.

Although the new cooking unit is new on the market, it doesn't out-date present equipment, according to Mr. Runyard. However, it will prove a tremendous benefit to certain establishments which desire lightning-fast speed in cooking. The new unit will not be installed on regular stoves in the near future, Mr. Runyard stated.

Owner Of Hotel Rewards Helpful Hint From Clerk

A woman airplane passenger grounded here yesterday afternoon stepped up to the cigar counter in the Hotel Medford to buy a magazine. Mrs. Betty K. Bevan, owner of the stand, asked the woman where she was going. To Spokane, said the woman.

"While you're there you ought to stay at the Davenport because it is a very fine hotel," Mrs. Bevan said in her helpful way.

"Well," the woman replied, "whenever you come to Spokane you are to be a guest of the Davenport with all your expenses paid. I'm Mrs. Louis M. Davenport, owner of the hotel."

HOPPERS PAINTED TO CHECK FLIGHT

SIDNEY, Mont., July 21.—(AP)—Eight thousand grasshoppers—winged freebooters of the grain fields—were painted silver and gold today in the interest of science.

The bureau of entomology of the U. S. department of agriculture wants to know how far and how quickly the "hoppers" fly.

In an effort to obtain this information, 4,000 "hoppers" found in the area 12 miles northwest of Sidney were painted a bright gold color. Another 4,000 trapped 12 miles west of Williston, N. D., were painted silver.

Harold Willis and Ellis Westlake, bureau of entomology representatives, asked persons finding the painted insects to send them to the bureau at Montana State college, Bozeman, giving the exact locations where they were found.

Mother Gets Navy Burial.

VALLEJO, CAL.—(UP)—The plans of Mrs. Mary Lyons, 80, of Kenosha, Wis., who 17 years ago obtained permission of the navy department to be buried in the Mars Island navy yard cemetery, where her only son, a former marine, is interred, have been carried out.

Eleanor Curry Weds In South

Word received in Medford yesterday tells of the marriage of a prominent Medford resident, Miss Eleanor Curry, daughter of Mr. James R. Curry of Marion, Ind., and the sister of Mr. Allen D. Curry of this city.

Miss Curry was wed to Mr. Orville Hamilton at a pretty ceremony on June 12 in the Christian church in Santa Ana, Cal. Only immediate members of the family and close friends attended the service. The Rev. Mr. Buchanan performed the rites.

Mrs. Hamilton, a popular member of local society, taught in the Medford schools for a number of years, recently being a member of the Lincoln school faculty. She was outstanding in civic musical events here.

Mr. Hamilton is the brother of the Rev. James M. Hamilton of this city.

The couple will reside for the present in Anaheim, Cal. Mrs. Hamilton plans on returning to Medford to resume her teaching at the Lincoln school this fall.

It was erroneously stated in yesterday's paper that Miss Grace Curry was married.

Gates Home Scene Of Dinner Party

Getting together to talk over former days in Illinois was the privilege of several guests invited to dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gates on Crater Lake avenue Friday evening. Those invited were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hawkins of Applegate and their guests, Miss Lydia Garver of Yuma, Arizona, and Misses Mary Lohmes and Luella Hissel of Pekin, Ill.

The group, including Mr. and Mrs. Gates, have been residents of Illinois. Misses Hissel and Lohmes have returned east, and Miss Garver will attend summer school at Salem, after which she will spend several weeks with her parents in Illinois before returning to Yuma.

Festival Actress Is Medford Guest

Miss Grace Forsythe, member of the Oregon Shakespearean Festival company, visited Medford yesterday as the guest of Mrs. Almus Pruitt. She was a dinner guest of Mrs. Pruitt at the Rogue River lodge last night.

Miss Forsythe is cast as Portia in the Merchant of Venice and as the queen in Hamlet in the Shakespearean festival plays to be presented in the Elizabethan theater at Ashland beginning August 5. She has been a member of the well-known Provincetown Players and has taught at the Cornish school of drama in Seattle and at King-Smith in Washington, D. C.

Dessert Bridge Party Enjoyed

Mrs. William F. Campbell was hostess Tuesday at her home on East Main street for a pleasant dessert bridge party.

Guests were served at card tables which were attractive with center pieces of roses in bud vases.

Enjoying Mrs. Campbell's hospitality were Mrs. Anna Deltwiler, Miss Vera Humphrey, Mrs. George Canode, Mrs. Mae Simmons, Mrs. Arthur Warrick, Mrs. J. A. Perry, Mrs. W. A. Gates and Mrs. Fredrick Johnson.

Mrs. Canode was awarded the bridge prize for high score.

Miss Inman Visits Parents Here

Miss Winifred Inman of Santa Monica, Calif., is vacationing here at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Inman, in Battle Creek.

Miss Inman plans to remain here for several weeks. She has been honored at several informal entertainments since her arrival.

The visitor is associated in the navy department of the civil service bureau in Santa Monica.

Don't Let Constipation Drag On!

Do you often have days when you wake up tired—when you feel dull, sunk, "all bogged down"? It's time you did something about it. And something more than just taking a physic! You should get at the cause of the trouble.

If you eat what most people do—just bread, meat, potatoes—chances are that just this fact is responsible for your "bogged down" "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft, "bulky" mass in the intestines that helps a bowel movement.

If this is your trouble, what you need is crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains "bulk" plus Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B. Eat it every day, drink plenty of water, and see if your old sparkle doesn't come back! Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Relatives Visit At Brockway Home

North Dakota relatives and guests at the A. E. Brockway and Ira C. Jones residence on Stewart avenue include Mr. and Mrs. Roger Peet and two sons from Fargo, N. D. They were accompanied by Miss Marjorie Lambert of Minot, N. D.

Mr. Peet was joined here by his mother, Mrs. E. L. Peet of Pasadena also his sister, Mrs. H. W. Williams and daughter of Bakerfield, who were house guests at the Brockway home.

Saturday was spent at Crater Lake and Diamond Lake, the guests returning to the Brockway home for dinner. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Waldron and children also accompanied the group to the lakes for picnic dinner and dinner in the evening.

The Peets are on an extended tour of National parks and are going on to California and Mexico before returning to their home. The visitors were greatly impressed with Oregon and its many scenic points of interest.

FAREWELL HONOR PAID DURHAMS AT HOTEL LUNCHEON

Salvation Army Leader and Wife Hear Tributes On Eve of Departure for Duty in Portland Office

Seventy men and women representing more than 40 Jackson county organizations paid a farewell tribute this afternoon to Adjutant and Mrs. G. R. Durham of the Salvation Army. Adjutant Durham has been promoted to a divisional position in Portland and will leave Medford Monday after serving as the Salvation Army head here for the past five years.

The tribute was paid to Adjutant and Mrs. Durham with a testimonial luncheon in the Hotel Medford. The gathering presented the Durhams with a traveling bag and Boy Scouts presented them with a set of book ends.

Little Patricia Banwell made a picture of blonde loveliness as she thanked Adjutant Durham for his sympathetic interest in children during his service here. Sea Scouts Larry Schade, Jr., Chris Barker and Don Younger and Senior Scouter Jack Thompson thanked the adjutant for his unselfish service to various groups of people in this district.

M. N. Hogan who presided, said it had been his pleasure in the past few years to serve with Adjutant Durham in community chest work. He described the adjutant as a real giver, one who gives from his heart in service to humanity. An organization, said Mr. Hogan, is judged by its personnel and by this standard the Salvation Army has been elevated by Mr. and Mrs. Durham. Mr. Hogan made the presentation of the traveling bag to the adjutant.

Adjutant Durham said the gift would always remind him and Mrs. Durham of the lasting friendships they have made in Medford. These friendships, he added, make it difficult for him to leave, saying it would be his preference to remain here, but for the opportunity afforded by his transfer to widen the scope of his service.

Whatever has been accomplished here by the Salvation Army is due to the cooperation of the people of the county, Adjutant Durham said. "Nowhere have I ever found a city more cooperative than Medford," he declared.

Dr. Sherman L. Divine, pastor of the Presbyterian church announced that the weekly outdoor vesper service in city park Sunday evening would be a civic farewell to Adjutant and Mrs. Durham and he invited the public to attend. Adjutant Durham will deliver his farewell sermon and city leaders will take part in the program. Dr. Divine said.

Pioneer Miner Discloses Site of Missing Meteor

MYRTLE POINT, July 21.—(AP)—

Noted geologists who have sought the long-missing Port Orford meteor for years probably felt a little upset today when Robert Harrison, pioneer miner, announced he had known its location since 1882.

Harrison first saw the great rock he believes to be the meteor when, as a boy of 14, he accompanied his father into the Salmon mountain range. They met Dr. C. D. Elgin who located a nickel claim in a gulch drained by Poverty creek.

After Dr. Elgin's death, Harrison found the claim again in 1900 largely because he recalled the presence of a hard, heavy stone, rich in nickel ore. He sent a specimen to Dr. J. F. Dillar, federal geologist, who urged him to send the whole rock, undoubtedly a meteor, to the Smithsonian museum.

The miner, who estimated the rock weighed 15 or 20 tons, said he was offered no financial assistance and promptly forgot the proposal. His interest in the rock was revived by publicity about the meteor last winter.

Harrison said the rock was about one and a quarter miles from the U. S. Chromium, Inc., camp. It is about 30 or 40 miles southeast of Port Orford and about 12 miles from Powers and five miles from the forest service road to Chiloquin flats.

The rock apparently sliced through Bald Knob and descended into the gulch where the years have covered it with undergrowth.
