

MORE MOTORISTS LOSING PERMITS

SALEM, July 22.—(AP)—Revocations and suspensions of motor vehicle operators' permits in Oregon were 22 percent higher during the first six months of 1938 than during the corresponding period in 1937.

12 per cent more than during June of last year. All but six of the 88 revocations were for driving while intoxicated.

When children fuss and fret at the table, serve Kellogg's Rice Krispies. These foasted rice bubbles are so crisp and crunchy they crackle in milk or cream—and how children love that sound!

DANISH FREIGHTER BOMBED, SUNK BY INSURGENT PLANES

Crew Picked Up by British Cruiser — French Anti-Aircraft Batteries Fire On General Franco's Planes

LONDON, July 22.—(P)—Lloyd's reported today the Danish freighter Bodil was bombed by airplanes and sunk off the Spanish coast.

PERPIGNAN, France (at the Spanish Frontier), July 22.—(P)—French anti-aircraft batteries fired today on six airplanes which flew over the French border from Spain at Ossaiga, near Bourg-Madame, 50 miles west of here.

After three shots had been fired the planes swung about and returned to Spain. Border guards said they believed the planes were insurgent craft which, according to border reports, bombed several towns and villages in northern Catalonia during the afternoon.

HENDAYE, France (at the Spanish Frontier), July 22.—(P)—Insurgent dispatches reported today that government troops had been driven from the Espina mountains northwest of Segorbe, making it dangerous for government General Jose Miaja to continue to hold the main highway to Valencia.

Segorbe, a key to Valencia, is 8 1/2 miles southeast of Viver on the Turis-Sagunto-Valencia road, which the insurgents' heavy artillery blasted, preventing the government from moving up munitions and supplies.

The capture of the village of Hiqueras in the Espina range linked the armies of insurgent Generals Garcia Valino and Jose Varelo and gave the insurgents a continuous front from Viver, 34 miles northwest of Valencia, to the Mediterranean.

The campaign against Valencia, focal point of the general offensive, was resumed on all fronts. Insurgent dispatches from Zaragoza admitted that drives on the central-southern front were designed mainly to prevent General Miaja from drawing off troops to reinforce defenses of Valencia.

South of Madrid, along the Tagus river, and in Extremadura province however, insurgents said the offensives were developing successfully in their own right and were slowly reducing the amount of government-held territory.

ACTOR WALBURN ENJOYING VISIT

Raymond Walburn, Hollywood film actor vacationing here for the past week, has definitely decided that the Rogue river and surrounding country are wonderful.

Mr. Walburn may, however, be slightly prejudiced toward Medford especially since he had the thrill of making a limit steelhead catch last evening.

The well-known actor is at present a guest of Jimmy Valentine at his summer home near Trail, Valentine also landed the limit last night. The two sportmen were fishing directly in front of Mr. Valentine's home on the Rogue river.

Mr. Walburn is so much impressed with this location that he is planning on building or buying a summer home himself in the near future. He stated that he had no idea the valley could boast such a variety of excellent sports and he plans to spread the word around to many of his movie friends.

In an average 2 1/2 hour moving picture the eye sees 200,000 separate pictures.

FALL OF KIUKIANG BEFORE JAPANESE IS DECLARED NEAR

City Softened by Three Weeks of Relentless Hammering — Warships Able to Approach for Climax

SHANGHAI, July 22.—(P)—Foreign military observers predicted today the imminent Japanese capture of Kiukiang, defenses of which have been battered by three weeks of relentless bombing.

Authoritative information was that Japanese warships were able to approach Kiukiang, strategic city 135 miles down the Yangtze river from Hankow, whenever desired, to deliver the final assault with planes and ships.

Anti-aircraft guns having been silenced, Japanese warplanes could bomb the city at will. It was believed the Japanese were withholding the final blow pending a cleanup of the entrance to Poyang lake, ten miles east of Kiukiang, where the Chinese have resisted stubbornly every Japanese move.

After capitulation of Kiukiang, the next phase of the war would extend 30 miles upriver to a boom between Wusueh and Tienkiacheng, almost halfway to Hankow.

The invaders' planes incessantly raided Chinese positions on both banks of the Yangtze, while Japanese troops withstood Chinese counter-attacks in villages all along the narrow Japanese foothold.

The Chinese maintained they repulsed Japanese landing on the north bank. Land batteries damaged two Japanese warships.

The Shipping Review quoted "authoritative sources" that the Japanese aircraft carrier Notoro, 14,000 tons, was badly damaged by Chinese shells on July 3 she had to be towed to Japan. She carried 40 planes, the paper said.
