

Bette Davis Stars in "Jezebel"; Opens Craterian Showing

The most widely discussed Bette Davis picture the blonde star has ever made—"Jezebel"—opens a four-day showing today at the Craterian theater.

With a succession of triumphs starting with the memorable "Of Human Bondage," Miss Davis has made a name for herself in the portrayal of "wicked heroines." The new picture marks the culmination of all her past triumphs.

Henry Fonda and George Brent have the two leading male roles opposite Miss Davis, while others in the cast include Donald Crisp, Fay Bainter, Richard Cromwell, Margaret Lindsay, Henry O'Neill, Spring Byington and John Lital.

Another outburst of selling in the afternoon was short-lived but rallying power was limited. Today's closing prices for 32 selected stocks follow:

TO CRUISE TIMBER UNION CREEK AREA

E. J. Parker, member of the staff of the chief of timber survey at the United States regional forester's headquarters in Portland, arrived here last night to take charge of a timber cruise in the Union Creek district. Camp for the crew was being esablished at Union Creek today and the cruise was to be started early next week. Nine men will be engaged in the work. Purpose of the survey is to obtain an accurate inventory of the timber stand by species so that Rogue River national forest headquarters can prepare a management plan for the cutting of timber on a sustained yield basis. It was explained. The work will require three months and 20,000 acres will be covered by the cruising party, headquarters said.

The workers are coming from the Ochooco national forest where they recently completed a survey. Use Mail Tribune Want Ads.

Father's Mustache Cup had something

THE LITTLE gadget which kept the coffee from getting lost in the mustache and the mustache from getting lost in the coffee performed a widely unappreciated service. It took a strain off the lower lip which might have turned us into a nation of Ubangi, the plate-lipped people. Evolution, you know.

Nowadays the service station takes the strain off motoring—and makes motoring safer. Every veteran driver realizes it's dangerous to run out of gas—particularly at night. When the attendant brings your oil to the proper level he is handing you free, the very best accident insurance—prevention. Clean windshield and headlamps eliminate risk from darkness and glare not alone for the customer but for every traveler along the road.

What would the ease and pleasure of motoring be if there were no filling stations, no spotless rest rooms, no white-clad salesmen trotting across the pavement with their instant, smiling service?

Back in the days when handlebar mustachios were a decoration and a menace, when sideburns fluttered dangerously in every breeze, the mustache cup did a perfect job of forwarding comfort and safety. The service station operated by this company does a perfect job of it today.
