

U. S. STEEL ORDERS REGULAR DIVIDEND DESPITE DEFICIT

Improving Demand for Steel Seen Since Middle of July — Companies May Decide Wages Too High

NEW YORK, July 27.—(AP)—U. S. Steel Corporation today reported a deficit of $5,010,426 for the June quarter compared with a deficit of $1,201,000 in the previous quarter and a net income of $36,173,982 in the June quarter of last year.

Directors ordered the regular dividend of $1.75 on the 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock. The corporation has been paying the regular dividend on the issue since the summer of 1937.

Since the middle of July, a company spokesman said, there has been an improving demand for steel products as evidenced both by incoming orders received and the increased production of the steel industry.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—(AP)—Republic, Inland and U. S. steel officials intimated today they might decide steel wages are too high, in view of recent price reductions in the industry.

Republic asked a labor department board to delay a determination of wage minima for government contracts until there can be "a more thorough understanding and study of the present wage structure with relation to existing prices."

Wages also must "permit effective competition," said William Beye, spokesman for U. S. Steel subsidiaries.

CIO leaders have said they would strenuously resist any effort to reduce wages. The CIO has contracts with most of the industry.

PEASANT TYPE IS BETTER MATERIAL IN RESETTLEMENT

Social Worker Analyzes Tule Lake Reclamation Project Homesteaders — Peasant Type Apt to Stay

WASHINGTON, July 27.—(AP)—A farm security administration social research worker concluded today that the "peasant type" of American seemed the "best human material" on which to base a resettlement policy.

The social worker, Marie Jaany, avoided the term "peasant type" in the body of a report on original settlers in the Tule lake reclamation project in California and Oregon, but she used it in a footnote. Her report was based on a study of 136 homesteaders who settled in Tule lake in 1927 and showed that of this number only 66, or 48.5 per cent, remained when the survey was made late in 1936.

Of Two Classes She divided the homesteaders remaining into two classes, the "farmer type" and "capitalistic type."

In a footnote, however, Miss Jaany said she would prefer the term "peasant type" for "farmer type," and added: "But, unfortunately—and largely without present day justification—the term 'peasant type' seems to be tinged, to American ears, with notions of medieval backwardness and a physical drudgery not allowing for a decent cultural and material level of living."

Of this type of American, she wrote: "These settlers cling to their homesteads and want their children to grow up there. They seem, therefore, to be the ideal human material on which to base a resettlement policy aiming at strengthening of the rural section of the population."

Farmer Type Stays The report described the "farmer type" as the man who has a natural inclination for country life while the "capitalistic type" of homesteader was described as a man who considers his homestead primarily as an opportunity to get a good return from his investment.

Of the original Tule lake homesteaders who do not now occupy the land, Miss Jaany reported 17 made a practice of leasing while 53 had moved away.

Chief reasons for leaving were sale of the land for speculation, a dislike for country life, and assorted domestic troubles, including marital relations and drunkenness. The report concluded that a system of strict family selection is essential to the success of resettlement undertakings.

HORSE PARALYSIS AGAIN PREVALENT

Equine encephalomyelitis has broken out again and all horses should be given immediate preventive care, it was announced today by Dr. Giles A. Gitzen, county veterinarian. The disease closely resembles poliomyelitis or infantile paralysis among human beings.

Dr. Gitzen advised a generous use of fly spray on horses, for while actual cause of the disease is unknown it is thought to be transmitted by a fly. Vaccination as a preventive is satisfactory and a serum for cure was successful last year, Dr. Gitzen said. A year ago there were about 300 cases.
