Pritchett Offers Comfort Ideas For A Motor Vacation

Going on a motor vacation? If so, why not equip your car with accessories that will give you greater safety, comfort and economy on your trip, suggests C. H. Pritchett, local manager of the Western Auto Supply company on South Riverside avenue.

"The part that accessories play in safe, comfortable driving is often times overlooked by the motorists who make careful plans for the enjoyment of every corner part of their vacation trip," Pritchett states, "for owners of new and old cars alike find that the driving can be made as pleasant as the stopping if their car is properly equipped."

"Accessories that can be classed as an important safety aids include tires, brakes, and lights, although there are many other articles which play their part, such as the battery, horn and bumper guards.

"In view of the mounting number of traffic accidents in 1938, the prespective vacationist should have his mechanic carefully check his brakes, and follow the lead of many Western Auto customers who replace old linings with our Supreme quality lining along before the old has completely worn out. But good brakes are of little value, if tires do not have sufficient tread to afford positive traction to prevent skidding on all kinds of roadways, so be sure your tires are safe before starting your trip. If you have new Western Giant Slick Grip on your car, you'll get road gripping traction and extra tire miles for a smaller investment.

"The place of bumper guards, lights and the horn in the interest of safety is easily understood, as is the battery, when you realize that it must furnish instant power to start the engine, foot the horn or light the highway.

"But comfort is also an important end that is served by accessories. Seat covers make driving more comfortable as well as lengthening the life of the upholstery. A Motorola car radio will entertain you while driving or stopping."

GRANGERS ENJOY POMONA PICNIC AT HOT SPRINGS

In an appropriate rural setting of green lawn stretching under the shade of alders at Jackson Hot Springs a good representation of Jackson county's prosperous farmers and their families gathered Sunday, July 31, in the name of the Pomona grange for their annual picnic and sports program. Every year Pomona selects the last Sunday in July as the day for their picnic and temporary release from the many obligations which are to be met in making their organization a success.

The entire table accommodations on the grounds were utilized in serving the 225 people who attended, and the basket lunches brought by the grangers were of such excellence that even a watermelon insecurely hidden underneath a lumber pile failed to draw attention.

Mrs. Olive Floyd, Pomona lecturer, was chairman of the committee arranging for the day's events in which the grangers frolicked on the lawn in numerous contests reminiscent of younger days down on the farm. Other committee members were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Conger, and Mrs. Cliff Maust, Harry Wiegant, and Jesse Fish.

Prizes Awarded. Upper Applegate grange won the prize for an outstanding lecturer's program presented in a recent contest for balanced programs. Six other granges entering and receiving rewards for their efforts were Jacksonville, Gold Hill, Live Oak, Central Point, Talent, and Upper Rogue.

Judge and Mrs. C. B. Lamkin of Bellevue received an award for having been married longer than any couple present, 51 years. "Believe it or not, it can be done," said Bill Britton of Bellevue, who was contest announcer. Mr. Lamkin is former mayor of Ashland and ex-county judge.

Mrs. Milo Kays of Talent represented the most recent newlyweds. With twenty-three per cent, of their membership present at the picnic, Talent grange won the attendance contest. Mrs. Lottie Cingedeo of Eagle Point had the largest family present, including two sons and three grandchildren, and won a luscious watermelon.

Women Drive Nails. Sixteen women entered the nail driving contest with Mrs. Earl Bostwick of Talent proving the champion. Even though she dropped a nail, she was able to retrieve it before it reached the ground without missing a hammer stroke. Emmet Nealon assisted from the rooting section, and Henry Conger gave aid by telling the ladies after the contest was over how to hold their hammers. Mrs. A. E. Brockway was unable to enter, being engaged most of the day in collecting a twenty-cent debt.

Something similar to the melody of a yodel occurred when several ladies lifted their voices to the south heavens in a hog calling contest, which was won by Mrs. Nellie Bindings of Applegate grange. "Griffinella," the partnership pig in the Griffin creek grange, heard her name called over the miles, no doubt. Jesse Fish, Gold Hill baritone, outdistanced the men's voices in a calling contest. Developing much gracefulness, Earl Bostwick and Win Arnold of Jacksonville led in a three-legged race, and Mr. Bostwick also displayed much preparedness when he won a pie eating contest, taking time out to inform his opponents that their faces were smeared.

Al Floyd of Medford was champion in a fat man's race, and Miss Aileen Hall of Bellevue won the women's foot race. By removing his necktie, Roscoe Roberts, Pomona master, tied with Lester Harris of Phoenix in a standing broad jump. Mrs. Emmett Nealon was champion bean bag thrower. In children's contests Wesley Hartley of Talent won a candy hunt, and Valia Vee Vandagriff of Phoenix grange excelled in a foot race.
