 SO. CAROLINA SENATORIAL CONTENDERS PUT ON SHOW
 CUSTOM DEMANDS ALL CANDIDATES JOIN DEBATE
 VOTERS ENTERTAINED BUT POLITICIANS UNENTHUSED
 SMITH, JOHNSTON, BROWN SWAP EPITHETS

GAFFNEY, S. C., Aug. 10.—South Carolina politicians have got to work for their places at the public trough. Since the days of Pitkin-Ben Tillman, the unhappy local office-seekers have been compelled by custom to tell their stories on the same platforms, at the same times, in joint debate with their enemies. The result is a little bit like a gas-attack, a little bit like an old-fashioned chaoucau, and a great deal like a circus.

In this little town, chiefly famous as the home of "Grit and Steel," Colonel Ed DeCamp's compendious trade paper of the cock-fighting business, your correspondents witnessed a South Carolina joint battle. They have to report that, while politicians don't seem to enjoy it, the voters, who must have unusual powers of endurance, appear to like it very much.

The scene was a vacant lot outside the county court-house. The time was just an hour short of high noon and the heat was something awful. Headless of the possible discomforts of being broiled alive, about a thousand people had gathered to see the fun. Farmers in overalls, work-worn mill-workers, a few plump and sweating storekeepers, housewives waving palm leaf fans—they stood about expectantly, knowing that the show was being put on for their benefit. A few of them talked before the respective merits of the three candidates, Senator Cotton Ed Smith, Governor Olin D. Johnston, and State Senator Edgar Brown. But more of them seemed to be interested in the cotton crop than in the senatorial primary.

The first performer to appear was Governor Johnston, a tall, paunchy, perspiring man with the expansive geniality southerners expect in up-to-date politicians. The governor's car had hardly stopped before he was in the crowd, pump-handle, all and sundry, and distributing a practiced smile to those whom he could not actually grasp. Before long, a preacher offered prayer, and then the speaking started.

Administration Loses In Only Clear-Test in Four State Primaries

James P. Pope of Idaho became today the second administration senator to go down in defeat this year before a Democratic primary opponent. He conceded Rep. D. Worth Clark, an avowed conservative, had beaten him in yesterday's Democratic balloting in which new deal support was the main issue.

The only comparable case was that of Sen. Herbert E. Hitchcock of South Dakota who lost his earlier primary race to former Gov. Tom Berry, a Roosevelt supporter with conservative leanings.

Temper New Deal Joy
 Pope's defeat tempered considerably the joy of administration lieutenants over Sen. Robert J. Bulkley's smashing victory over former Gov. George White in Ohio. Bulkley had assiduously supported the personal support of Roosevelt's personal support. Pope had been supported by Postmaster General Farley, who spoke for him, and had been openly and recently defended by Secretary Hull for his reciprocal trade treaty stand.

In the third senatorial race, Sen. Hattie W. Caraway of Arkansas, another whom the president called "friend" on his western trip apparently had a safe margin over her nearest opponent, Rep. John L. McClellan.

The Ohio vote assured Democratic renomination of Sen. Robert J. Bulkley who, with 7,498 precincts out of 8,601 reported, had tallied 428,419 votes to 176,523 for former Gov. George White. Bulkley was praised by Mr. Roosevelt when the latter visited Marietta early last month on his way west.

Taft G.O.P. Choice
 Ohio Republicans, balloting in smaller numbers than the Democrats, apparently nominated Robert A. Taft, son of the late president, to run against Bulkley in November. In 7,816 precincts out of 8,601 Taft had 281,614 votes and Arthur H. Day 203,497.

In Arkansas Sen. Hattie Caraway, who like Bulkley received public commendation from the president, was slowly pulling ahead of her nearest opponent, Rep. John L. McClellan. The count for 1,523 precincts of 2,902 gave Caraway 76,351 and McClellan 71,540. Venable had 1,540.

Because of President Roosevelt's show of preference for Senators Caraway and Bulkley the administration figured as an issue in their campaigns even though their opponents were by no means antagonistic to the White House.

Idaho Issue Clear
 In Idaho, however, the issue was clearly drawn. Sen. James P. Pope, a 100 percent Roosevelt man, was opposed in the Democratic primary by Rep. D. Worth Clark, who hammered home throughout his campaign he was not an administration "yes-man."

The vote in 831 of 802 precincts gave Clark 38,776; Pope 35,629.

In addition to the straight out administration issue, other factors which entered into the Pope vote were his stand on reciprocal trade treaties, for which he was praised recently by Secretary Hull and his leadership in sponsoring new deal farm policies in the senate.

Short of an open endorsement by the president Pope had substantial Washington backing. Not only did Hull write to him a few days before the primary but postmaster General Farley spoke in his behalf.

Yesterday's fourth primary, in Nebraska, was devoid of a senate contest. Gov. R. L. Cochran easily won Democratic renomination for a third term and Charles J. Warner was the Republican choice.

Davey, Sawyer Close
 Gov. Martin L. Davey and Charles Sawyer, Democratic national committeeman, ran a shifting neck-and-neck race as returns from Ohio's gubernatorial primary came in. With almost 1,000 precincts to go Sawyer led Davey then swung out in front but further unofficial returns again put Sawyer in the lead. Reports from 8,538 precincts of 8,601 gave Sawyer 438,212 and Davey 414,040.

Davey's campaign was complicated in its closing days by social security board charges he was bringing political pressure on old age pension beneficiaries.

In Arkansas the race for Democratic nomination for governor had Gov. Carl E. Bailey almost 9,000 votes ahead with three-fourths of all precincts reported.

Returns in the Idaho Democratic gubernatorial race gave former Gov. C. Ben Ross 22,873 to 29,904 for Gov. Bardella W. Clark.

WIFE SLAYER FOUND EATING IN KITCHEN OF VICTIM'S COUSIN

SHELTON, Wash., Aug. 10.—(AP)—Convicted wife slayer Bernard Leuch, a tired, hungry fugitive, was captured by a posse today and returned to the Mason county jail where he escaped Sunday by overpowering a jailer and a matron.

Leuch was found shortly before 10 a. m. at the Shelton home of Hugo Seipold, whose wife is a cousin of the late Mrs. Lena Leuch, for whom murder the former St. Cloud, Minn., policeman awaits a mandatory death sentence.

Unarmed, Leuch walked quietly from a bedroom when officers entered. "I'm all through, boys," Police Chief Ray Starvich said he told them.

The Seipolds, fearing Leuch would come to their home, had stayed with neighbors most of the time since his escape. This morning Seipold went to his home and found Leuch eating in the kitchen.

Seipold rushed downtown to notify Starvich, who quickly gathered a posse of state patrolmen and sheriff's officers and hurried to the house.

ARMY AIRPLANES ATTACK INVADER

VANCOUVER, Wash., Aug. 10.—(AP)—Army planes bent on protecting the Pacific northwest from a theoretical enemy—a slick of aluminum power on the sea off Cape Flattery—roared out of Pearson field today to join other squadrons from Tacoma and Spokane in attack maneuvers.

The "enemy" was attacked in relay. First the 34th attack squadron left here to join the 19th bombardment group from Grey field, Tacoma, and launch the battle shortly afterward, the 73rd attack squadron will join the 88th reconnaissance flight from Grey field in a second air "battle," with the 73th bombardment squadron from Pults field, Spokane, getting its licks in still later.

TEAMSTER GOONS ARMED WITH BATS

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Two hundred heavy baseball bats were kept constantly on hand in the Los Angeles teamster union headquarters and issued to the union's "goon squad" when they were sent out to "take care of" rival unionists, non-union men, or even recalcitrant members of their own union, Paul McKnight, teamster, testified in the labor terrorism trial of nine other teamsters and officials.

McKnight, who has been one of the defendants, related numerous details of fights and beatings in which he said he had participated. In each instance, he testified, he received his order either from Eugene Dexter Lewis of the teamsters' local or International Organizer Harry Dall, one of the defendants.

CAPITAL UNBENDS TO GREET FLIER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Douglas Corrigan, the "wrong way" Atlantic flier, came to Washington today and the capital completely ignored a committee plea to make the reception "dignified."

Throng of government workers scrambled out of buildings along historic Pennsylvania and Constitution avenues and cheered him as he passed.

Other thousands leaned from windows and showered the parade with scraps of paper—most of it green, red and white bits torn from scratch pads.

Fairfax Naulty, reception chairman who had suggested that Washington avoid any "hick town" demonstration of paper-throwing, did succeed in one plea.

"Don't kiss him!" Naulty shouted as Corrigan stepped from the big airplane which brought him from Baltimore.

The girls didn't.

FARLEY WOULD SAVE TWO-PARTY SYSTEM

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Democratic Chairman James A. Farley says collapse of the two-party system would be a serious blow to the country.

"It would be a tragedy for Uncle Sam if either the Democratic or Republican party were to pass from the scene," he wrote in the issue of the American magazine released today. He added emphatically:

"We don't want three major parties in this country, and we certainly don't want any more than that."

ROOSEVELT URGES GEORGIA BACKER FOR SENATE SEAT

President Tells Warm Springs, Ga., Luncheon Guests He Hopes Camp Will Succeed Sen. George

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Aug. 10.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today he hoped that Lawrence S. Camp, Atlanta, running on a New Deal platform, would be nominated for the senate seat now held by Senator George.

The president, speaking at a luncheon in the Warm Springs foundation hall, said he was glad to have Gov. E. D. Rivers of Georgia and Camp, federal district attorney, with him.

With Governor Rivers on his right and Camp on his left, the president said: "We are very much interested in having today as guests of Warm Springs Governor Rivers, who is an old friend of ours, and also a gentleman who I hope will be the next senator from this state."

Mr. Roosevelt conferred throughout the luncheon with Camp and Rivers, presumably going over the Georgia political situation. The luncheon was held on the eve of two speeches scheduled by the president.

George is seeking renomination. Other candidates opposing him are former Governor Eugene Talbot of Georgia and William G. McRae of Atlanta.

JAPANESE CLAIM REDS REPULSED; FRONTIER QUIET

MOSCOW, Aug. 10.—(AP)—It was reported today in Japanese circles in Moscow the Soviet commissar of foreign affairs and the Japanese ambassador had agreed to suspension of hostilities in the Far East, effective immediately.

Ambassador Mamoru Shigemitsu, Japanese sources said visited the foreign commissar, Maxim Litvinoff and made a new truce proposal which Litvinoff accepted.

(By the Associated Press.)

A Japanese army communiqué said a charge of Soviet infantry and tanks on "Hill 52," a half mile south of Changkufeng, was driven back and that the four-mile Siberian border front was comparatively quiet at 10 a. m. after 20 hours of Soviet shelling.

A foreign office spokesman in Tokyo said Japan was prepared to concede to Russia equal representation on a joint commission for demarcation of the border—a concession that seemed of marked importance in diplomatic efforts to settle the dispute.

It was believed likely the new international alignment would be discussed soon by Mamoru Shigemitsu, the ambassador in Moscow, and Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff.

MARSHFIELD, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Mayor Charles Huggins, president of the League of Oregon Cities, announced today that a campaign for a seven percent allotment of state gasoline tax receipts for street maintenance in cities would be launched with 300 city officials being circulated on a proposed legislative program.

Huggins said a study showed about one-third of all motor travel was on city-maintained streets. He said Washington and California allot a fifth of their gasoline tax revenues to cities and that the Oregon proposal would not hamper the present state highway program or endanger loss of federal funds which the state must watch.

The mayor said city officials were being urged to confer with their legislators and demand affirmative action.

NAVY REFUSES TO PROSECUTE PAIR

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 10.—(AP)—The navy department, in a telegram today to Gov. Charles H. Martin, indicated it would not assume jurisdiction in the fatal beating July 31 of Haines Vierl, cook on the steamship Colorado.

Vierl was beaten during fleet week in Portland and died five days ago. Albert Rothbrock of the U. S. S. Anselmo, and Ross Edwards of the U. S. S. Tuscaloosa, both in custody of the commander of the scouting force, have been charged with second degree murder.

Governor Martin asked the navy yesterday to assume jurisdiction because a trial in Multnomah county would necessitate extradition of the two sailors and the holding of three members of the Colorado crew as material witnesses. The Colorado will sail from Portland in 10 days.

The acting secretary of the navy wrote that the navy does not have jurisdiction to try by court martial on a charge of murder committed in the United States.

CCC MAIL THEFTS ARE ADMITTED BY CIVILIAN WORKER

Clerk at 'Message Center' Arrested After Postal Inspector Baited Trap With Marked Currency.

Paul A. Levy, civilian employee, acting as mail clerk at the CCC "message center," entered a plea of guilty to the larceny of two letters, one containing three $1 bills and the other a $5 bill, in justice court this morning. Passing of sentence was deferred until Thursday morning. Levy was arrested Tuesday noon following a visit to the postoffice. The complaint against Levy was signed by Capt. W. H. Driscoll, CCC officer.

A postal inspector, following the report of letters disappearing from the CCC mails, launched an investigation, he informed the court. Two test letters, containing the marked bills, were mailed Tuesday morning and reached the "message center" from the fairgrounds camp, shortly before noon. A check of the mail after receipt showed the two letters missing. The defendant was then traced to the postoffice.

One of the letters was found in Levy's possession after his arrest, the postal inspector told the court, adding that two letters containing $80 and $25 were also missing. Levy admitted he had taken them. A number of letters were found under supplies at the "message center," with contents indicating they had once contained money. Due to the fact the letters had never technically been placed in a postoffice, or official mail receptacle, Levy could not be prosecuted under the postal laws, the court was informed.

Levy, asked if he had anything to say in his own behalf, replied in the negative. He is a married man with a wife and two children. He lives in this city and receives $105 monthly as a civil service worker.

PRIMARY RETURNS GIVE HOOVER HOPE

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover scanned election returns from Idaho, Ohio and Arkansas today, and observed:

"These primary returns indicate to me that more than 80 per cent of the Democrats are against the notion of rubber-stamps in congress."

"The desire of independent Democrats for an independent congress, such as the constitution provides, has been in evidence in every place where there have been contacts between Democrats for nomination. I think that indicates a gain for Republican principles."

The former president came here by plane from West Yellowstone, Mont., where he had been fishing.
