On Monday evening the Rosenbergs invited a group to their home for dinner after which they attended the Shakespearean Festival in Ashland. Wednesday evening they were hosts again for a delightful informal party—a barbeque held on the grounds of their home.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. David Rosenberg feted the out-of-town visitor with a luncheon and bridge party at her home on Reddy avenue. Eight guests were bidden to the affair.

On Thursday evening Mrs. Taylor and the Rosenbergs were among the twenty guests invited to "Big Rock," the summer home of Mr. William Isaacs on the Rogue river. Mr. Isaacs with Miss Frances Kenney and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pringle were hosts for the very enjoyable party. Dinner was served on the beach, after which cards were enjoyed.

Informal Picnics Held By Players

Interesting informal social affairs help to lighten the routine of the rehearsals of the Shakespearean players and afford the relaxation necessary to carry on with their brilliant performances in the evening.

One of the enjoyable playtimes was a picnic held yesterday afternoon at Lithia Springs, south of Ashland. The affair followed a "line rehearsal" at the theatre. While on the picnic players merely lounge and rest and indulge in bits of pleasant conversation with all thoughts of their evening performances discarded for the time.

Players present at the picnic yesterday included Miss Doreen Leverette, Miss Frances Shilling, Angus Moore, James Baughman, Grace Forsythe, John Reischer, Gordon Davis, Harry Priestly, LeRoy Lindner, Tom Fairchild and his mother, Mrs. A. E. Fairchild of Raymond, Wash., who is in Ashland especially to attend the Shakespearean Festival and of course to regard her son's acting with sympathetic interest.
