NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—(AP)—After six consecutive declining sessions, the stock market today dug in for a steady rally that, at the best, lifted leaders fractions to more than 2 points.

Lack of volume on the come-back, however, was a handicap to recovery sentiment and profits taking in the final hour reduced or cancelled out gains in many cases. Transfers were around 600,000 shares, the smallest turnover in more than two weeks.
