STOCK EXCHANGE, SEC COOPERATE ON REPORT
RESIST TEMPTATION TO AIM SPEECHES AT WALL ST.
LACK OF PROTECTION FOR OUTSIDERS IS STRESSED
SEGREGATION OF BROKERAGE AND UNDERWRITING TALKED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The most dramatic happenings in the capital are frequently the least conspicuous. Long struggles such as the battle between the New York stock exchange and the New Deal take place in the very center of the public stage. And then, when the struggles end, the incidents which excitingly symbolize the new reign of peace are little noticed or not seen at all.

Such an incident, and a remarkably interesting one, is the composition of the securities and exchange commission's report on the case of Richard Whitney. There was a headline the other day, reminding the public that Whitney had just finished his fourth month at Sing Sing. But there was no headline indicating that the vitally important report on his delinquency is being prepared in sensible cooperation between those former enemies, the stock exchange and the SEC.

The report has now reached second draft form. As it stands, it is in three parts—the first, comprising the evidence taken at the SEC's Whitney hearings; the second, a summary of that evidence telling the story in connected form; and the third, a list of recommendations by the SEC.

In the old days, the Whitney case would have been accepted by the whole SEC as a god-given opportunity to impose its will on the exchange. There are still some who believe that the SEC should have used the report to pillory the entire financial community. But the wiser counsels of Chairman William O. Douglas, who believes in keeping the peace once it has been made, have rather naturally prevailed. The report glosses over nothing; pulls no punches. But, on the other hand, it burns no witches, and calls for no crusades.

CHARGE IS FLUNG DURING TESTIMONY IN RADICAL PROBE

Rural Electrification Heads, Forest Service Chief, Interior Secretary's Aide Are Among Mentioned

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—(AP)—The labor department disclosed late today the immigration bureau's record of the deportation case against Harry Bridges, west coast C.I.O. leader, would be turned over tomorrow to the special house committee investigating un-American activities.

The department said it was acting in response to a committee request for information on the department's deferred attempt to deport Bridges to his native Australia.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Representative Mason (R., Ill.), a member of the house committee investigating subversive activities, today named eight government officials to-day as "acknowledged members" of the American League for Peace and Democracy, which he said had connections with the communist party.

The officials named are Harry Lambertson, assistant rural electrification administrator; Dallas W. Smythe, of the central statistical board; Fred Silcox, head of the forest service; Robert Marshall, chief of the public lands service of the agriculture department; Oscar Chapman, assistant secretary of the interior; John Carmody, rural electrification administrator; Mary Anderson, director of the women's bureau, and Allice Barrows, in the office of education.

Mason made his charge during testimony by H. L. Challaux, American Legion official, concerning communist activities in the United States.

Earlier in Challaux' testimony, Committee Chairman Dies (D., Tex.) and the witness agreed public funds are being used indirectly to promote communism in the United States.

Tammany Aide At Retrial

HEAT WAVE RELAXES CLAMP ON EAST AS SHOWERS APPROACH

The heat wave that has taken a heavy toll and brought discomfort to millions abated slightly today, and the prospect of scattered showers augured relief for part of the sunbaked eastern seaboard.

In Pennsylvania, nine deaths resulted from the weather in the last three days; Washington, D. C., had 18 hospitalized prostrations yesterday, and dozens of others were given first aid by ambulance crews; Baltimore counted six prostrations; but the sweltering heat also had some whimsical aspects.

Weather bureau employees in Washington had a partial holiday yesterday, because of the weather—along with thousands of government clerks.

As the mercury soared to 94 in Pittsburgh—the highest for August 16 since 1888, Rufus Middlebrook reported to police the theft of a fur-lined jacket from his home.

The city water division of Newark complained that 15,000,000 gallons of water were being wasted daily by boys who turned on hydrants to keep cool. The drain, the division said, was threatening water pressure.

TAMMANY LEADER GOT $500 WEEKLY GRAFT IS CLAIM

New York Prosecutor Opens Trial With Accusation Hines Received Cash for Protecting Policy Gang

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—(AP)—George Weinberg, an associate of the late Dutch Schultz, today testified Tammany district leader James J. Hines was present at a 1932 conference in Schultz's apartment at which plans were made to "protect" a multi-million dollar policy syndicate.

Weinberg, the second witness called by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey at Hines' conspiracy trial, declared $1,000 was passed to the politician during the conference.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—(AP)—District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey told a supreme court jury today James J. (Jimmy) Hines, 61-year-old Tammany district leader, was paid $500 a week, always in cash, in return for political protection for the late Dutch Schultz' multi-million dollar policy racket.

Dewey's statements, made in his opening address at Hines' trial on charges of conspiracy in connection with the policy racket, were denounced by defense counsel, Lloyd Paul Stryker as "diabolical falsehoods."

"I shall show you James J. Hines never conspired with anyone," Stryker told the jury. "He never received $500 a week from Dutch Schultz."

"The whole case," he said, "is saturated with the rankest perjury presented to a jury in New York county."

EUROPE DISAGREES IN INTERPRETATION OF HULL'S APPEAL

France, Britain See Warning of War Dangers in Central Europe — Rome Sees Attack on Have Notes

By the Associated Press
 Secretary Hull's appeal against "international lawlessness," broadcast a world already beset by wars in China and Spain, was welcomed by France and Britain today as a warning of war dangers in central Europe.

But in Rome fascists saw the speech, counselling a swing from from force to armament reduction and economic reconstruction as a basis for world stability, as an attack upon the "have not nations," Germany and Italy.

The speech came as reports reached Paris the Spanish insurgent had cast their lot definitely with Italy and Germany, perhaps ending hopes of Britain and France to withdraw foreign volunteers from the civil war.

Inaugural sources in Paris expressed the belief the insurgent note, given Britain's representative, Sir Robert Hodgson, yesterday, would raise so many technical objections to the non-intervention proposal that the reply might as well be an out and out no.

The Barcelona government, meanwhile, came out of a ministerial crisis apparently stronger than before, with Premier Juan Negrin firmly in control of all factors and pledged to fight the conflict to the end. Two ministers, reported to favor an armistice, were ousted from the cabinet.

Loyalists Revive
 On the battlefield, government militiamen continued to show new force. They held most of the gains made during the past three weeks on the Ebro front in eastern Spain and were reported to have halted General Franco's drive on the south-western front.

POLITICIANS WONDER IF F. R. WILL ADD TO PERSONAL PURGE LIST

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Addition of Sen. Millard Tydings (D-Md.) and Rep. John O'Connor (D-N.Y.) to President Roosevelt's so-called "purge list" left capital politicians wondering today whether he would denounce other anti-administration candidates.

Speculation centered principally on Sen. E. D. Smith (D-S.C.). The president did not mention Smith's name last week in an appeal at Greenville, S. C., for election of liberal legislators, but some persons thought he might do so before the primary August 20.

The only other senate race in which he might take a hand is in Connecticut. Sen. Augustine Lonergan, who voted against some White House bills, is endorsed by Attorney-General Cummings, and most politicians consider it unlikely the president will intervene.

Mr. Roosevelt announced his opposition to Tydings and O'Connor—and support of their New Deal opponents—at a press conference yesterday.

Greener's Republican opponent probably will be Frank O. Horton of Saddle River, N.Y., national committeeman and personal friend of former President Herbert Hoover. Returns from 400 precincts gave Norton 12,645 votes to 9,386 for Alonzo M. Clark of Westeyne.

COUNCIL APPROVES PWA APPLICATION FOR STREET FUND

To Pass On Special Bond Election Thursday at Adjourned Meeting — Big Saving to City Foreseen

The city council last night adopted a resolution authorizing the filing of an application for a PWA grant to help finance the reconstruction of all paved streets needing repair.

The meeting was then adjourned to 5 p.m. Thursday when action will be taken on an ordinance calling a special election to vote upon a bond issue to complete financing of the reconstruction project.

On approved projects the PWA makes an outright grant of 45 per cent of the cost, the sponsor providing the remaining 55 per cent.

The resolution authorized the city superintendent, Fred W. Scheffel, to file the application and to furnish the PWA with such information as might be requested.

No sums were specified in the resolution. Figures on the cost of the reconstruction program, however, are to be stated in the election ordinance. Meantime it was necessary to notify the PWA of the city's intention to seek a grant to aid in financing the project.

Under a $50,000 bond issue authorized by the voters last year, a few of the city's most badly deteriorated streets have been reconstructed. At the time they approved the bond (Continued on Page Eight.)

DOUBT PT. ORFORD METEOR LOCATED

EUGENE, Ore., Aug. 17.—(AP)—Possibility samples of the supposed Port Orford meteor, recently thought rediscovered, were "not in the least meteoric" and should the meteor actually have been rediscovered it would already belong to the Smithsonian Institution, was revealed here today by Dr. J. Hugh Pruett, western director of the American Meteorological society and University of Oregon astronomer.

Dr. H. H. Nininger, national meteoric expert of Denver, wrote Dr. Pruett he recently received a sample of the material found by Robert Harrison and thought to be from the famous meteor, and upon examination it was found "not in the least meteoric."

No salary was disclosed by the studio, which said Corrigan will be both a leading role and act as technical advisor. Pandro S. Berman, vice-president in charge of production, said he already had writers working on a script.

The seat of neither Sen. J. C. O'Mahoney nor H. H. Schwartz was at stake, and Rep. Paul R. Greener, Wyoming's only congressman, was unopposed on the Democratic ticket.

Greener's Republican opponent probably will be Frank O. Horton of Saddle River, N.Y., national committeeman and personal friend of former President Herbert Hoover. Returns from 400 precincts gave Norton 12,645 votes to 9,386 for Alonzo M. Clark of Westeyne.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—(UP)—Jack Dempsey denied today that he had any intention of moving his family from New York to Salt Lake City because of kidnapers or for any other reason.
