WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—In this space, a week or so ago, business men were mocked for spending their hard-earned dollars on the shabby aggregation of fixers, chiselers and false-fronts known as Washington lobbyists. So many business men have written in to inquire, or protest, that it seems worthwhile to present a sort of "who's who" of the lobbying business.

Speaking generally, Washington lobbyists may be divided into two classes—those who take your money, pocket it, and look wise, and those who take your money and try to make some return. The first class is by far the more numerous.

Among the chiselers and false fronts in class one, there are scores of variations. Several well-defined types may, however, be distinguished. They are:

The men who know somebody: The most commonly prosperous and frequently fraudulent species of lobbyist. The somebodies they know range from the president downward, since every man has a few unscrupulous friends. Almost without exception, they trade on their friendships behind their highly placed friends' backs.

The spavined political wheel-horses: These moth-eaten, broken-down ex-senators, ex-congressmen and ex-party officials, both Democrat and Republican, have no assets except their empty titles and their few remaining shreds of patronage in the federal establishment. Boobs seem to love to hire them, however, for the pompous pleasure of being able to say, "former senator so-and-so is handling the matter for us."

The bogus trade association operators: These are sharks living on the fringes of business, in the shadows of the honest trade associations. The fake public relations counsels: About all a public relations counsel can tell a business man in trouble in

WILL NOT PERMIT FOREIGN INVASION OF SISTER STATE

Foreign Policy Stated On Visit to Kingston — Refuse to Accept Twists of Secret Diplomacy

By WILLIAM B. ARDERY
 KINGSTON, Ont., Aug. 18.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today citizens of the United States "will not stand idly by" if Canada is threatened by foreign aggression.

The president made this frank foreign policy statement in an address in the stadium of Queens university here.

Beside him were Premier Mackenzie King of Canada and Lieut.-Gov. Albert Matthews of Ontario.

Mr. Roosevelt repeatedly emphasized a strong bond of friendship exists between Canada and the United States.

Met by Premier. The president was met at the Kingston station by Premier King and other Canadian officials. Mr. Roosevelt left his train between a double column of red-coated Canadian Royal Mounted police.

"We as good neighbors are true friends," the president told his applauding audience, "because we refuse to accept the twists of secret diplomacy, because we settle our disputes by consultation and because we discuss our common problems in the spirit of the common good."

The president stood on a canopy-covered platform on the edge of the stadium playing field. He was surrounded by Canadian officials attending in formal morning clothes.

When the president reached that section of his address asserting that Americans would not stand idly by if Canada were threatened, there was prolonged applause.

No Longer Isolated. He added, "We in the Americas are no longer a far away continent, to which the eddies of controversies beyond the seas could bring no interest or no harm."

"Instead, we in the Americas have become a consideration to every propaganda office and every general staff beyond the seas. . . ."

"The Dominion of Canada is part of the sisterhood of the British empire. I give you assurance that the people of the United States will not stand idly by if domination of Canadian soil is threatened by any other empire."

The president, speaking only two days after Secretary Hull's call for a seven-point program to bring about world peace, spoke in vigorous terms about "wanton brutality" and "undemocratic regimentation" by a government.

He did not, however, name any foreign nation.

Through Mr. Roosevelt's address ran the theme civilization and education transcend international borders, and the Americas now are largely responsible for maintaining the tradition of a free interchange of ideas between nations.

The occasion of the president's talk was his acceptance of an honorary degree from Queens university.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—State department officials interpreted President Roosevelt's speech at Kingston, Canada, today as an extension of the Monroe doctrine to Canada.

Hitherto the famous doctrine has been interpreted as applying solely to the Latin-American republics. It states the United States determination to oppose aggression by an outside power in the western hemisphere.

Lewis of Maryland, the latter went on the air to criticize the voting record of Senator Millard Tydings, his opponent in the Maryland Democratic senatorial primary. Lewis is shown during the broadcast.

EXPECT HEARINGS SOON ON MARKETING PACT TO BAR UNDERGRADE PEARS

Hearings are expected to be held soon on a proposed marketing agreement covering fall and winter pears grown in the Pacific coast states. It was announced today by Ralph G. Bardwell, general manager of the Oregon-Washington-California Pear League, Inc.

The contemplated hearings are to be held in the Medford and Hood River, San Jose and Placerville, Cal., Yakima and Wenatchee, Wash., districts, Mr. Bardwell said. Dates of the hearings are to be announced later and all growers and shippers will be invited to participate, he added.

At last Saturday's meeting of the Oregon-Washington-California Pear Bureau in Portland application was made to the secretary of agriculture for the hearings on the proposed marketing agreement with the AAA.

"The proposed marketing agreement will eliminate the lower grades and undesirable sizes of fall and winter pears which flooded the eastern markets and caused a demoralizing marketing condition last year," Mr. Bardwell said.

The entire industry realizes that something must be done to improve the net returns to the grower, and it is felt that the only way to eliminate these lower grades and sizes is through a Triple A agreement.

JAPANESE BOMBS SEVER RAILROAD

HONGKONG, Aug. 18.—(P)—Japan's persistent air bombing campaign against the Canton-Hankow railway today appeared for the first time to have put that vital line of supply for China's armies out of commission, at least temporarily.

There has been no passenger service between Canton, China's southern metropolis, and Hankow, the provincial capital, for the past ten days and now, as far as can be learned, no military trains are being shipped.

Forty-two Japanese warplanes took part in the daily raid on the railroad today. The Canton-Kowloon railway linking Canton with this British colonial port, also was heavily bombed.

MOST USEFUL CITIZEN DIES OF HEART ATTACK

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Adolph Lewishin, 59, multi-millionaire investment broker, philanthropist and music patron often described as "New York's most useful citizen," died of a heart attack yesterday at his summer home here.

Lewishin, a German-born immigrant, who amassed between $40,000,000 and $100,000,000 in copper mining and smelting, was best known to the public by his gift of the $200,000 Lewishin stadium to the College of the City of New York.

PATRIOT REVEALS BRIDGES HOOK-UP WITH COMMUNISTS

Los Angeles Woman Identifies Affidavit Declaring Labor Leader Attended Red Meetings Under Alias

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Miss Margaret Kerr, patriotic society worker, identified for a house committee today photostatic copies of an affidavit declaring Harry Bridges, west coast labor leader, attended meetings of the communist party as "Harry Donagan."

The modestly dressed witness, obviously nervous, told the committee investigating un-American activities she had been active in the work of the Better America Federation for 18 years and had closely investigated many phases of subversive activities in California.

Questioned by Dies, Miss Kerr identified the federation as a patriotic organization and said it investigated subversive and un-American activities, especially on the Pacific coast.

CZECHS ARRIVE AT NEW CROSSROADS

By the Associated Press
 Conflict in Czechoslovakia between the government and Nazi-supported Sudeten German minority came to a new crossroads today. In China, Japan gathered new power for her Yangtze river campaign and, in Spain, government and insurgent forces locked grips on two important fronts.

A foreign official in Praha disclosed a meeting had been arranged between Viscount Runciman, unofficial British mediator in the issue over the Sudeten Germans demand for autonomy, and Konrad Heilein, leader of the Sudeten party.

It will be their first direct contact and it was understood Lord Runciman would plead the Sudeten Germans take a less uncompromising attitude than that expressed yesterday in a manifesto proclaiming dissatisfaction with present procedure which "lead nowhere."

CALIFORNIA ENGINEER MYSTERIOUSLY ABSENT

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 18.—(P)—Co-operation of all peace officers in California has been asked in investigating the disappearance of John F. Taylor of Oakland, a district civil engineer of the California state department of public works.

E. Raymond Cato, chief of the state highway patrol, said Taylor was last seen August 3 when he left Sacramento on a routine inspection of projects in northern California. His wife received a letter from him from North San Juan, Nevada county dated August 4, Cato said.

DRAMA STORY OF RACKET TOLD AT HINES' TRIAL

Negro Testifies to Threats of Death Ride by Dutch Schultz Gang Unless Policy Racket Coin Divided

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(AP)—A dramatic story of "death ride" threats by members of the Dutch Schultz mob, in taking over control of the multi-million dollar policy racket, was told in supreme court today by Wilfred Brunder, 45, a West Indies negro.

Testifying in the racket conspiracy trial of James J. (Jimmy) Hines, Tammany district leader, Brunder told how his partner in a Harlem policy "bank," Fred McLaughlin, was threatened with death by a carload of Schultz men when he refused to turn over his policy business to the mob.

Threats by Gang. "I was quitting the racket," Brunder said, "and I told the mob that what was left belonged to Fred McLaughlin."

"We are coming out of a shop when a car rolls up with Abe Landau, who then told McLaughlin: 'You've got to kick in that business. You want to live don't you. You want to live to ride in that car, don't you?'"

Brunder quoted McLaughlin as replying: "I am going to live to die in that car. I have lived through the World War and I am going to continue living to ride in that car and I am not giving you any business."

Brunder said shortly afterwards he "left town" and went to Detroit and then to Washington, D. C., to escape the mob's wrath. It was not brought out what happened to McLaughlin.

Earlier, Brunder had testified that when he came out of prison in 1932, he learned the the Schultz mob was "moving in" on the game.

Had Monopoly. He said another Harlem policy "banker," Joe "Spasm" Leon, told him Schultz had squeezed out small individual operators.

"Schultz has got a cold monopoly," Brunder quoted Leon as telling him. As Brunder began his testimony, Defense Atty. Lloyd Paul Stryker interrupted with frequent objections. Leaping to his feet the tall defense counsel called loudly: "I object to it as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial . . . not germane to the issue . . . not in the foundation of the defendant."

When he had finished, out of breath, Justice Ferdinand Pecora said dryly: "Objection overruled."

"Exception," scowled Stryker. And the testimony went on.

Babs and Count Meet for Chat At Venice Bar

VENICE, Italy, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow arrived at Venice today by airplane from Budapest for an hour's conference with his wife, the former Barbara Hutton, from whom he is separated.

The count's sudden appearance caused Venice society to speculate on the possibility of a reconciliation, but it was believed the meeting was merely another conference to arrange the affairs of the couple.

The countess waited in the lobby of her hotel for her husband's arrival. The two then went to a quiet corner of the hotel bar for their talk.

SOVIET AIRMEN STAGE THRILLING SPECTACLE CELEBRATING AIR DAY

MOSCOW, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Airmen of Soviet Russia today staged a thrilling three-hour spectacle in celebration of the Soviet "aviation day," holding spellbound a huge gathering which included Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh.

The American flying couple, who arrived yesterday from Warsaw, were seated with high Soviet officials at some distance from other foreigners, diplomats and correspondents.

The program began with the ascension of a gigantic portrait of Joseph Stalin lifted by a globe-shaped balloon on which was painted a map of the world. Portraits of other Soviet leaders followed, towed by plain balloons.

Most picturesque feature of the show was the mass jumping of several hundred parachutists. For a moment opening parachutes seemed to fill completely the sky in front of the spectators.

Afterward Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh were dinner guests of the United States charge d'affaires, Alexander C. Kirk, at Spasso house, the embassy residence.

MARTIN URGES PEOPLE RETURN TO 'FAITH OF FATHERS,' CEASE STRIFE

TILLAMOOK, Aug. 18.—(P)—Governor Charles H. Martin in a speech at the annual Tillamook county fair yesterday, urged the American people to "return to the faith of our fathers."

Telling an anecdote of President Harding, Governor Martin added: "He was so busy he had not had time to think of God. That is just the way I feel at times. It is just we need now. When you see the futility and strife among people today you realize the only thing that counts is the spiritual life."

"If people ever needed spiritual life, they need it today. The employer and the employee must be brought together in friendship, not torn apart in disorder. The employer should not feel that he can not fire the man who is not doing good work, because of the unions."

"We will never have prosperity until we bring our people together in a spiritual revival. It is not a question of politics. What we want is a great era of good feeling. I have not lost my faith in the American people—they will return to God."

"God help them, that it may soon pass."

One inning; 33 Runs
 BARNESVILLE, O. (UP)—Thirty-two runs were scored in one inning of a girls' baseball game here.

S. F. WAREHOUSES CLOSED BY VISIT OF 'HOT' BOX CAR

Labor Differences Spread to Grocery Industry After Closing 25 Public Warehouses — Oakland Next

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—(P)—A wandering box car, half-filled with children's school supplies, was the symbol today of labor differences that closed the grocery industry after closing 25 public warehouses.

From commitments on both sides, it appeared likely the setup would spread today to more warehouses, including seven grocery establishments, in Oakland.

CIO warehousemen refused to unload the car, contending the school supplies had been loaded by "strike-breakers" at the picketed San Francisco depot of the F. W. Woolworth company, and thus is "hot cargo."

Employers closed 25 San Francisco warehouses after shunting the car from one warehouse to another. The employers said warehousemen violated their contracts in refusing to touch the cargo.

Yesterday it was shunted around San Francisco bay to the MacFarland-Safeway grocery chain warehouse in Oakland, which was also promptly tied up.

Ray Heide, business agent for the union, said 50 CIO warehousemen at the grocery chain's private depot were "locked out" when they refused to go through picket lines and unload the car.

Heide announced warehousemen at Oakland warehouses had been ordered to report for work today, but to refuse to violate the box car picket line.

News that the box car had been sent to the Oakland warehouse came to an employer-union negotiations meeting in San Francisco as spokesmen for each side were asked for suggestions on ending the strike.

"Hide that car and let's sit down and talk," said Sam Kegel, union spokesman.

"Unless that car and let's sit down and talk," retorted Marshal Madison, employers' attorney.

FINDING OF BODY CLEARS MYSTERY

EUREKA, Calif., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The mysterious disappearance a year ago of W. E. Loesch, retired Portland service station operator, was believed settled yesterday, Sheriff Arthur A. Ross said.

The sheriff said the remains of a body were found near the south fork of the Trinity river, Loesch's car in which he left a Humboldt tourist camp more than a year ago, was found almost demolished and half buried 550 feet below the south fork road.

The skeleton of a man with Loesch's driver's license nearby, was found a few feet from the car. The discovery was made by children swimming in the river.

The sheriff said indications were that Loesch accidentally drove over a cliff while he was on a fishing trip. He was last seen on August 7, 1937, and an intensive search at that time failed to reveal his fate.

GOOSE LAKE BAD FOR WILD DUCKS

KLAMATH FALLS, Aug. 18.—(AP)—A rescue truck left Tulelake game refuge today for Lake county, where the duck population is threatened by an outbreak of botulism. Biological survey officials said they expected to bring rescued birds to the "hospital" at the Tulelake refuge if proper recovery facilities cannot be arranged at Lakeview.

A 75 per cent recovery is expected among ducks taken from Goose lake and placed on dry feed and in clean water.

Spread of Goose lake water over land that has been dry for many years is believed to have caused the disease among the ducks in that area.

Suspect Firebug. FOREST GROVE, Aug. 15.—(P)—Authorities investigated the "hoax-bully" today that a series of fires near here might be the work of an incendiary. Five blazes on farms have occurred in eight days, burning down outbuildings, prune dryer, hop dryer, a barn and a house.

A three-weekly air service is now operating between Peking and Tokyo.
