EYSTON IS ROBBED OF SPEED RECORD BY TIMER FAILURE

Electric Eye Fails To Function On Return Dash After Fastest Speed Ever Attained By Automobile.

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Capt. George E. Eyston, founder of his big automobile through the measured mile at 347.155 miles per hour today, the fastest ever attained by man on land, but failure of an electric eye timing device on the return journey robbed the Englishman of a new record.

Eyston drove his seven-ton "Thunderbolt" at lightning clip down the 13-mile salt track and back again for the two runs necessary to establish an official mark.

The timing apparatus, which functioned perfectly on the first run, failed to register on the second just as Eyston roared into the measured mile in an effort to better the mark of 311.42 miles per hour he established last year.

Eyston's time for the outward mile was 10.37 seconds, far ahead of his fastest previous single run, 11.33 seconds or 317.74 miles per hour.

Officials admitted Eyston traveled faster on the return trip than on the outward sprint, possibly approaching 355 miles per hour or nearly six miles a minute, but failure of the timing device frustrated him.

"I don't feel the run was at all in vain," Eyston said. "The new thunderbolt ran perfectly. I'll run again just as soon as the timing eye is fixed."

The tough-luck Englishman explained the bright morning sun caused the electric eye beam to fail. It clicks when the car's shadow passes through the beam.

PETE, KENASTON GRAPPLE MONDAY

Two rough and tough hunkles—Pete Belmont and Sgt. Bob Kenaston—will meet in the main wrestling event at the Medford armory next Monday night, it was announced today by Promoter Mack Lillard.

In the center attraction, Sockeye Jack McDonald will give away about 18 pounds to take on Mike Strelch, the boy who walloped Joe Simolinski last Monday; and in the opener, Bobby Chick will face Juan Sebastian, a Spaniard from Mexico City weighing 195.

It will be Sebastian's first appearance here, and according to the promoter he is a clever, clean and scientific youngster whose hobby is music. Lillard has been trying to obtain Sebastian for several months, he explained, but was only able to do so recently. He is reputedly a great crowd-pleaser.

Billy Hulen says:

Negro Domination Of Fistic World Late Development

We agree perfectly with Mr. Barney Cody of Jacksonville, who writes a nice letter stating that he "don't think the colored boxers are entitled to all the laurels." And, like Mr. Cody, we can be the number one mitt-slinger as long as he wants, regardless of the Henry Armstrong's, Joe Louis' and Al Hostaks of the present generation.

No sir, not by a long shot do the Negro boys deserve all the applause and honor awarded prizefighters by the sport-loving public. For every Joe Louis, there are a dozen Jack Dempseys, Gene Tunneys, Jim Corbett and Bob Fitzsimmons, for every Henry Armstrong, there are scores of white welterweights, lightweights and featherweights who have shown down through the years they had everything it takes.

However, at this time, colored boys do just about rule the roost of boxing, so far as championships in the eight weight divisions are concerned. Five of those eight crowns are perched upon the heads of three Negro battlers, and as we pointed out in this column recently, there has never before been such a Negro domination of the top spots as now held by the Messers, Louis, Lewis and Armstrong.

Armstrong is also the first man in history to hold three titles simultaneously. Mr. Cody writes that "lanky" Bob Fitzsimmons wore the three-way crown when he bested Jack Dempsey, "The Nonpareil" in San Francisco for the welterweight championship, Jim Hall in New Orleans for the middleweight and Jim Corbett in Nevada for the heavyweight." Now, it is true that Fitz, during his career, wore three crowns, but not simultaneously, according to Frank G. Menke's All Sports Record book. And, the titles weren't the welter, middle and heavy, but the middle, light-heavy and heavy, so says the record book.

Fitz copped the heavyweight championship on March 17, 1897, by knocking out Jim Corbett in 14 rounds. He won the light heavyweight title November 4, 1903, by outpointing George Gardner in 20 rounds, and won the middleweight division by stopping the original Jack Dempsey in New Orleans, January 14, 1891. Fitz never lost the middleweight title, retiring from that division 50 fight higher men and leaving Kid McCoy, Philadelphia Jack O'Brien and Tommy Ryan to squabble among themselves for the championship.

Even though Fitz didn't hold three crowns at the same time, what a fighter he must have been. His weight, in his prime, varied between 163 and 170, and he went in there with men pounds heavier and shelled plenty of them. He was only an overgrown middleweight, but he asked absolutely no quarter from any man. He started his career in 1880, and fought his last battle in 1914, when he went six rounds, no decision with K. O. Sweeney in Philadelphia. He was 52 years old then and had seen 34 years of ring warfare. During that time he had 40 matches, won 23 by knockouts, won 3 on decisions, was knocked out 5 times, lost 1 decision, drew in 1, lost one on a foul and engaged in 4 no-decision encounters.

Cobb Enters Car For Speed Test Run

Walking a plank from a nearby truck to the cockpit of his unique racing automobile, John R. Cobb, London fur broker, is shown as he prepared for another test run on the Bonneville salt flats in Utah, where he attained a speed of 300 miles an hour. He hopes to better the present record of 311.42 miles an hour, held by another Englishman, Capt. George Eyston, who is also at the salt flats for further tries at his own record.

SEALS BOUNCE BACK TO THIRD PLACE BY WHITEWASHING SUDS

By The Associated Press

The socking San Francisco Seals bounced back into third place in the Pacific Coast baseball league today after displacing the Seattle Suds with a 12 to 0 whitewashing.

Heavy attack work and effective pitching paved the way for a San Francisco victory last night. Sad Sam Gibson checked the Suds with eight hits while his teammates cracked the offerings of three Seattle pitchers for 14 hits, including a home run smash by the circuit's reigning homer king Ted Norbert, in the third.

Second place Sacramento out of the lead of the league leading Los Angeles Angels to four and a half games and ended a six game losing streak by besting the Oakland Acons, 4 to 2 while the Hollywood Stars punched out a 10 to 1 win over the Angels.

The Hollywood win advanced the Stars to sixth place as San Diego blanked the Portland Beavers, 6 to 0, to drop them into seventh place.

POOL GRANTED TIME TO GET NEW LAWYER

Louis Pool, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a local 13-year old girl, had to change lawyers and when the time came this morning to appear in justice court, he was granted a continuance until this afternoon. The first lawyer retained and negotiations were started by Pool to obtain another, the district attorney said.

Pool, when arraigned, demanded a preliminary hearing. With the girl in the case he hitch-hiked to Roseburg and was arrested in that city Saturday and returned here Sunday.

The district attorney's office reports Pool has a prison record, being sentenced from this county on a forgery charge.
