"X" marks the spot sometimes

IN THE DAYS of Spanish I plate ships and the jolly Roger — when Morgan sailed and Blackbeard scoured the seas — the banks were few and scattered. Furthermore, a banker was likely to suspect a depositor who wore ear-rings and carried a knife in his teeth. So a practicing pirate had no choice but to bury his treasure and mark his map with an "X."

If there could be a map of the oil industry, that would have an "X" upon it, too — perhaps several of them. But this would be no "X" which marks the spot. It would be "X" in another form — representing the unknown.

How many persons know, for instance, that for what has been taken out of the oil industry investors have put in more than twelve billion dollars? ... Or that above four million persons depend for support upon its 1,250,000 workers? ... Or that two million Americans share in its dividends?

Did you, to be specific, know that government has obtained more income from petroleum products than the industry has earned from their sale?

Such facts, we believe, should be known to everybody — because they affect everybody. The "X" on an ancient treasure map is mostly romance. Our "X" is one of hard-boiled mathematics — personal both to us and to you.

CHICAGO PASTORS ASK GOVERNOR TO PROBE GAMBLING

Connection Between Racket and City and County Politics Claimed — Would Follow New York Policy

By PHIL NEWSOM (United Press Staff Correspondent) CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—(UP)—Chicago churchmen "turned the heat" on the multi-million dollar gambling racket today with a demand Gov. Henry Horner investigate the connection between the racket and city and county politics.

"Names are too well known to mention," the Chicago church federation advised in an open letter to the governor.

"It is reported constantly in order to open up a gambling joint a payment of $250 a week in some instances must be paid. How this is divided up and what officials participate in this unholy profit is a matter for official investigation."

"If the city and county refuse to investigate, we respectfully ask you as chief executive to institute an official inquiry."

The federation, representing 1,060 Protestant churches, demanded the investigation be similar to the one conducted by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey in New York. Coincidentally with the federation's letter, state attorneys "hatched" men were continuing a series of raids, started a week ago against the handbooks.

Failure to obtain convictions in the courts where in the last two days 94 persons arrested in gambling raids have been released, led to organization of the wrecking crew designed to undertake a drive to make handbooks operation strictly a hazardous and expensive venture.

Texas Fugitives Captured

Pentless and dog-tired after eluding fugitives for more than four months, Ted Walters (left) and Floyd Hamilton, fugitives from a Texas jail, were captured by police at Dallas, Tex., Walters walking along a downtown street with only a few pennies in his pocket, was quietly captured; Hamilton, favoring a bullet wound in his leg, was found in a river bottom where he was trying to hop a freight train.

greater part of today's session but opened one eye in the final hour and chalked up gains of fractions to a point or so for earlier hesitant leaders.

A few motors, steel and specialties came to life in the last lap, while selected utilities and rails maintained a moderate amount of plus signs throughout. At that, losers of modest amounts were plentiful at the close.

Volume was less than half that of the previous session until the finishing period when activity picked up a bit and lifted the approximate turnover to around 650,000 shares.

GOLDEN GATE BRIDGE IS USED FOR SUICIDE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Authorities expressed doubt today they ever would recover the body of a man who leaped to his death from the Golden Gate bridge yesterday before the eyes of two bridge employees who watched in awed helplessness. The body plummeted 240 feet from the center of the 4,200-foot span and was carried out to sea in a swiftly-running tide. Coast guard cutters hunted vainly for the body for four hours.

The coroner's office tentatively identified the man as Harold Juda, 25, San Francisco cash register salesman.

Juda's mother, Mrs. Viola K. Juda, a widow, protested the victim could not have been her son. She collapsed when he fell to return home last night.

Cook with COLD

Your electric refrigerator does more than keep things cold. It does cold cooking, too. In it you can make delicious frozen and allied salads, and wonderful home made ice cream and water ices. You can regulate it for quick freezing or slow, so that it will fit in with your meal-getting schedule nicely. Cold cooking is very inexpensive, too. The refrigerator does it at the same time that it keeps all perishable foods safely cool, and you know it does that for only a few pennies a day. Find out how easily you can have one.
