The Harold H. Brown Agency, which has occupied rooms in the Jackson County Federal Savings and Loan association for the past eight years, is moving to new offices today at 123 East Main, just across the street from the old location.

Mr. Brown, who announced that his agency has been appointed exclusive representative for the General Insurance company of America, an old-line capital stock company issuing a preferred policy for preferred risks only, said:

"General's preferred risk plan and the fact that it is rated as one of America's strongest companies convinced us that this insurance would enable us to offer our policy-holders the most for their money.

"Every district in which General operates is carefully mapped. Marked in red are the properties classified by as 'K. O.'—meaning keep off to company agents. Good risks are not made to pay for the bad. The resulting savings have enabled General 20 per cent premium dividends to its preferred risk policy-holders every year since its organization."

NO CLUES FOUND IN MYSTERIOUS BULLET FIRED AT TOLLEFSON

No clues have been found by the authorities as to identity of the person who fired a shot Sunday night at A. O. Tollefson, operator of an East Main street service station. Sheriff Syd L. Brown said today, investigation failed also to reveal any motive for the act, the sheriff said.

The bullet passed through two windows of the lubricating shed and then evidently sped across East Main street. From the holes the authorities figure the bullet was about .32 calibre and followed a slightly uphill course. The officers also deduce that whoever fired the shot, knelt behind a lilac bush, near the south fence of the service station. The gunner evidently fled by leaping over the fence, but left no tracks.

Another puzzling feature is that neither Tollefson, nor any nearby residents heard any report. Tollefson heard tinkling glass and thought the bulb of a hydrometer had burst, until he saw the bullet hole in the window pane.

If Tollefson had been standing erect, it is claimed, the mystery bullet would have hit him in the head. When the shot was fired Tollefson was leaning forward, slightly stooped.
