

NAVY INCREASES EAST'S DEFENSE BY 14 WARCRAFT

Atlantic Given First Organized Force in Nearly Seven Years—War Maneuver in East Next Year

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—(AP)—The navy is designating 14 warships as an Atlantic squadron, giving the east coast its first organized sea force in nearly seven years.

The new squadron becomes effective September 6 under command of Rear Adm. Forde A. Todd. It will consist of seven cruisers and seven destroyers.

The navy announced last night this would be a temporary arrangement to prepare for general maneuvers next year, and to visit "such ports as are designated." No ports were named.

The general maneuvers will bring the main fleet of about 150 warships from the Pacific to the Atlantic for war games involving defense of the Panama canal. The fleet was moved to the Pacific during the 1931-1932 Sino-Japanese crisis and has remained there except for a visit to New York in 1934 for a presidential review.

Completed Recently
The 14 ships in the new squadron were completed only recently and had been assigned to the main fleet in the Pacific. The order issued by Adm. William D. Leahy, chief of operations, did not say whether they eventually would go to the west coast.

It left the way open for speculation whether a revision of defense strategy was in prospect and whether European tension influenced the decision.

The squadron will be composed of the cruisers Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Savannah, Nashville, Boise, Honolulu and Phoenix, all of 10,000 tons; the destroyers Mugford, Somers and Sampson, of 1,850 tons, and the Raleigh, Talbot, Helm, Shaw and Warrington, of 1,500 tons.

Another defense step announced yesterday was a decision to have a committee of high government officials draft a plan for linking together with other power lines the nation's key munitions and manufacturing centers.

AMERICAN GIRL FOUNDS ORDER

VATICAN CITY, (UP)—How a Chicago girl went to Wu-chang, China, to open a dispensary and instead founded a Chinese sisterhood of which she is the only foreign member, is told by the Congregation for the Propagation of Faith.

"The Chicago girl—Miss Mary Hubrich—after eight months' language study, opened a dispensary in Wu-chang and soon gathered about her a small group of women helpers who three years later were organized into a 'Good Works Society' under the patronage of St. Joseph," writes the Congregation.

Five years later (1933) the Holy See permitted the reorganization of the group as a religious community, according to the Congregation. It concludes:

"Under the guidance of the Rev. J. S. Espelage, vicar apostolic of Wu-chang, the community adopted constitutions based on the rule of the Third Order of St. Francis.

"It numbers at present 10 professed sisters, seven novices and some 20 postulants and aspirants. The sisters conduct a number of dispensaries, childhood centers, catechumens and a school. They also do sick-visiting in hospitals, institutions and private homes."

OWLS HEAD, N. Y., Sept. 2.—(AP)—This Adirondack mountain village reported a temperature of 20 above zero at 5:30 a. m. today.

ATTRACTIONS AT STATE FAIR

The 4-H club contests will be a major attraction at the 77th Oregon state fair, September 5 to 11, at Salem. Shown above, a happy winner receives his prize. Below, in action, Jack Stiekietky of the spectacular Russian Cossack troupe which will appear this year.

FOREST CREEK SCHOOL STATE FOUND STRONG IS VISITED BY THIEVES FOR CHARLES SPRAGUE

FOREST CREEK, Sept. 2.—(Spl.)—Mrs. Nettie Armstrong, teacher of Forest creek school, reported last week that thieves entered the school house some time lately and removed a number of articles, including the clock, first aid kit, a can of kerosene and some paper and pencils. An Aladdin hanging lamp was destroyed. Entrance was gained by prying open a window. This is the second of a series of similar incidents in this community. The cabin home of George Lewis was entered in July and money, clothing and groceries were taken.

Due to the lapse of time between the robberies and discovery of them no trace of the thieves has been found.

ROSS MCINTYRE NAMED ON RELIEF COMMITTEE

SALEM, Ore., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Ross McIntyre, Portland, was appointed by Governor Martin today to the Multnomah county relief committee, succeeding Jefferson Meyers, Portland chairman.

Verne Dusenberry, Portland, now a committee member, was elevated to chairman.

PORTLAND, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Major Republican candidates will be elected in November if they continue to offer constructive programs and refrain from generalized criticism of the administration, Harold G. Pruitt, Salem, Republican club's state president, predicted yesterday. He had just returned from a tour of the state.

Sentiment appeared strong for Charles A. Sprague, Salem publisher, and Republican gubernatorial candidate, Pruitt said, because he was a "successful business man with a real program and not a politician."

G. A. Nye, Salem, the only person who has attended all 76 of the annual state fairs, will display a picture he made 61 years ago.
