

McDonald and Belcastro Don Gloves Tonight to Settle Mat Feud

TEN-ROUND FIGHT IS MAIN EVENT ON WEEKLY PROGRAM

Both Contestants Former Pugilists—Britt and Strelich Will Grapple in Semi-Final Event On Card

In 10 rounds or less in the Medford armory wrestling ring tonight, Sockeye Jack McDonald, the ex-logger from the Seattle district and Pete Belcastro, the Mad Italian from Weed, Cal., settle their bitter feud as men have been doing since the Stone age—with their fists.

McDonald and Belcastro, both earning their bread and butter as pros in the grappling industry, will forget their bone-bending activities for one night, and once more don eight ounce gloves to fire rights and lefts like they did in their more youthful days. Both are former pugilists, Sockeye being a pretty fair trial horse for the top-fighters in the northwest, and Pete doing considerable ham and eggging in northern California before he turned wrestler.

Promoter Mack Lillard announced today that a sellout crowd would be on hand for the first professional prizefight to be staged in the armory in over two years. He advised fans to plan to get to the armory as early as possible in order to obtain seats. "Advance reserved seat ticket sales are the best in history," the impresario stated, "and it looks like standing room only."

All arrangements have been completed for the heavyweight classic, born last week when Belcastro refused McDonald's challenge to fight it out with gloves at that time, and signed a contract promising to meet the ex-logger this evening. Earl Yoskey will referee and Russ Adams and Bill Hulen will act as judges. The contract gives Belcastro 25 per cent of the gross gate, and McDonald nothing.

Although slated for 10 rounds, few local fans believe the thing will go the limit. McDonald is a terrific biter with either hand, and Belcastro carries considerably more than ticks in his padded mitts. Sockeye will weigh about 180, with Belcastro tipping the scales at 191.

The heavyweight fight will start immediately after the completion of the middle wrestling event, featuring Alvin Britt, former junior heavyweight champion, and Mike Strelich in the opening match. Bulldog Ken Hollis meets Juan Sebastian, the handsome Spaniard from Mexico City. Both matches will be for six 15-minute rounds, or the best two out of three falls.

EIGHT TO DARE DEATH IN QUEST OF GOLD AT AERIAL RACE CLASSIC

CLEVELAND, Sept. 5.—(AP)—In the brief space of 75 minutes, eight men will divide a pot of $45,000 this afternoon—the world's richest purse in one of the world's most dangerous, sports-air racing.

Eight men will split it if eight men finish a pounding, punishing flight over a closed, 10-mile course at speeds approaching 300 miles an hour. Sometimes they don't.

One member of their fraternity, Russell Chambers of Los Angeles, has died in six days of qualifying and competitive flights at the national air races, aviation's annual big show.

Another is critically injured. A third, at the point of jumping from his tiny, stub-winged mount as fire ate into his cockpit and streamed back under the belly of his fuselage, managed somehow to land.

The final race of the three-day meet, today's Thompson classic, is over a route of 300 miles, cut into segments of two and a half miles, the distance between the pylons marking the quadrangular course.

HOGAN AND GHEZZI WIN IN BEST BALL TOURNEY

HERSHEY, Pa., Sept. 5.—(AP)—The victory of Ben Hogan and Vic Ghezzi of West Plains, N. Y., and Vic Ghezzi of West N. J., in the Hershey round robin best-ball golf tourney was a story of success against odds.

They wound up yesterday with the amazing margin of 15 points over the second place team of Paul Runyan and Sam Sneed.

Ghezzi, who substituted for Tommy Armour at the last moment when the latter was unable to appear, had never played a full round on the Hershey Country club course previous to the tourney's opening Thursday.

Hogan never had been ranking among the leading money winners.

KENASTON GETS CHANCE AT DUDE CHICK'S TITLE

Horrible Hollis

Bulldog Ken Hollis (above) the Arkansas bad man, unwinds his special brand of dirt for the benefit of Juan Sebastian in the opening wrestling bout at the armory tonight. Hollis has been absent from here for many months, and very few persons are glad to see him return.

Gridiron Gossip

Six-Man Football
EUGENE — (UP) — Four small high schools in Lane county have formed a league for six-man football teams. The schools—St. Mary's of Eugene, Oakridge, Pleasant Hill and Mohawk at Marcola—will open practice the second week in September. If the league is successful it is expected to develop into competition for some 15 "B" schools throughout the county.

New Gridirons
EUGENE — (UP) — Three new football fields will be inaugurated in Lane county this season. Eugene will open its new field which will seat 5,000 spectators. Junction City is developing another new gridiron which will eventually be turfed, and Springfield has acquired property for a field which is expected to be in shape for fall use.

Astoria Team Heavy
ASTORIA — (UP) — Coach Norvill May's Astoria football team will be heavier than ever this fall. About 35 members of last year's squad reported for workouts this week and almost all of them had gained weight during the summer.

Drill Eugene Squad
EUGENE — (UP) — Coach Ray Hendrickson of University high school drilled his 1938 football team this week in an attempt to find replacements for nine lettermen lost through graduation.

Hendrickson's team is expected to be light and fast and the first string will be built around seven returning lettermen and several transfers.

Silverton Wins State Baseball Championship
PORTLAND, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Silverton ran up the 1938 state league pennant Sunday and pitcher "Duke" Windsor almost pitched a no-hitter game as the Red Sox defeated Bend 4-0 in the deciding game.

Tribe defeated Eugene, 9-0, and Hill County beat the Portland team, 5-2, in other games.

CRATERS CLING

HALF TITLE WITH 10 TO 1 VICTORY

Locals Blast Grants Pass Moundman for 15 Hits—Turpin Turns in Fine Job With Good Support

With young Lyle Turpin holding the opposition in check with six scattered safeties and Orval Hampel and Billy Calvert pacing a 15-hit attack, Medford's crashing Craters walloped Grants Pass yesterday, 10 to 1, to clinch the second-half championship of the Southern Oregon baseball league and right to meet Crescent City, first-half title holders, in a three-game playoff series for the circuit pennant.

By their victory, Manager Paul "Hick" Hoffard's singles, Craters became undoubted second-half champions, breaking a two-way tie for the title produced when Medford and Grants Pass ended the race last Sunday with seven wins and one loss apiece. The game marked the first time this season Grants Pass has been defeated on its own diamond.

Turpin Is Master
While Lyle Turpin was buzzing his fast ball and pulling the string past Merchant batters to the tune of only one run, scored in the first frame, his Crater teammates blasted Orval Hoffman, Grants Pass hurler, for four tallies in the second frame to clinch the affair, and added six more in later innings to make it a run-away.

Turpin missed a shutout when the Merchants tallied their lone run in the first inning on Miller's single to left and Cook's boot. From then on, however, the Craters' youthful righthander was complete master of the situation, holding Grants Pass to five ineffective hits and no runs. Although Turpin pitched magnificent baseball, the Crater defense gave him spectacular support. Dick Lewis, shortstop, handled 11 fielding chances perfectly, and Riney Cook, third sacker, came up with eight chances in fine fashion, in addition to inaugurating a pair of sweet double killings.

Leading the terrific Medford battling attack was Orval Hampel, first baseman and league-leading batter, who socked five clean singles in five trips to the plate, and Billy Calvert, second-sacker, who belted a triple, double and single in four legal times at bat. Manager Hoffard hit a double and Cook collected two singles for himself.

The ball game was all over after the second inning, when the Craters scored four times. Tommy White opened the frame with a single to right, and after Lewis reached first on Blacksmith's error, Hampel smashed a single to center, Cook walked, and Sakraida single to center.

Calvert's roaring double to right-center in the fourth, chasing across Hampel and Turpin, who had singled, added two more runs to the Medford total, and the locals kept right on in the sixth by hitting single. Hampel again started things off with a single to center, Cook singled through the box, and after Sakraida forced Cook at second, Calvert belted a triple to center scoring Hampel and Sakraida. Manager Hoffard then singled to right-center scoring Calvert.

Last Score On Error
Hampel scored Medford's final run in the seventh inning by sliding through the box and making the circuit on Shortstop Steve Crippen's error.

McCarthy and Miller were the only Merchants to solve Turpin's delivery for more than one hit, they each collecting a pair of singles. Turpin didn't allow a single extra-base blow in hurling the Craters to victory, and had the enemy literally eating out of his hand all afternoon. The Merchants' one run off Turpin was unearned.

The game, despite the score, was one of the best played in the league all year. It was completed in one hour and 37 minutes, and sparkled with brilliant fielding plays executed by both teams.

First encounter of the league playoff series will be staged next Sunday, either in Crescent City or Medford. Austin Prazier, president of the Medford Athletic association, will contact Manager Roy Deo of the coast club today to arrange the location.

DAMP LABOR DAY IN WEST OREGON

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 5.—(AP)—The sun deserted thousands of vacationists who took the long Labor day week-end for a last fling at summer.

Drenching showers in western Oregon cooled beach and mountain excursions. Scores of recreationists, true to the tradition of the Webfoot state, picnicked at wet tables and trod damp trails in the forests. The rain virtually removed all forest fire hazards and quenched the blaze which for time threatened to destroy Jewell, a small Clatsop county community. Cloudy, unsettled conditions will
