Former Medford Resident Wed In Unique Rites

On September 1 in Cambria, Cal., Miss Dorothy Peterson became the bride of Mr. Delmar Robertson in a unique wedding setting held under the tower of the chimes at the Robert Jones Graystone Manor.

The bride, on the arm of her uncle, Chris O'Neil, preceded by Mrs. O'Neil as bride's maid, left the main building and proceeded through the colonnades to the center gate which opens on the lawn and gardens enclosed in a quadrangle. There they were met by the groom and best man and under the tower of the chimes took their vows which were read by Judge A. S. Gay. The bride was lovely in a blue gown.

Following the wedding rites a reception was held in the dining room of the beautiful old English mansion.

Chinn teetered on the ledge and witnesses summoned police. Officers led by Lieut. W. A. Barker pounded on the door and the onlooking Chinn postponed his jump and let them in.

"Why don't you get dressed?" an officer asked.

"Why don't you get undressed?" countered Chinn.

Whereupon police arrested him for disorderly conduct and ordered him held for mental examination.

MARYLAND VOTE HIGHLIGHTS BUSY POLITICAL WEEK

Democrat. The senator, who at 48 is seeking a third term, has argued his opponent would be merely a rubber stamp.

The outcome of their battle, one of the most intense Maryland has witnessed in recent years, is complicated by an unusual vote counting system. Each county has from three to seven unit votes, depending on its legislative representation. The candidate getting a popular majority in a county wins its unit votes.

The Democratic victor will oppose either Oscar Leser, former Baltimore judge, or Galen Tait, for 22 years Republican state chairman. Harry Nice, one of the nation's few Republican governors, sought renomination against Harry T. Phoenix, while the Democrats had a four-way gubernatorial contest.

Georgia Hot Spot
There will be senatorial primaries tomorrow in Arizona, Colorado, New Hampshire, Vermont, Utah, and Washington, but in most of these states the incumbents have little or no intra-party opposition.

Louisiana also will have a primary, but Democrats there already have declared Sen. John H. Overton renominated. Michigan, which has no senatorship at stake this year, will decide other contests in a primary.

Although the New Deal is not an issue in the Democratic senatorial primaries Tuesday, it is the center of Georgia's four-man senatorial battle. The primary in that state Wednesday will be between Sen. Walter George, whom the president wants defeated; Lawrence Camp, White House choice; Former Gov. Eugene Talmadge, and William G. McRae.

Senator Lonsinger of Connecticut, who like George and Tydings opposed the 1937 court bill, will come up for renomination in a state Democratic convention Tuesday and Wednesday. He has been endorsed by Attorney General Cummings.

DON'T LET TENSION "GET" YOUR NERVES!

Collie
Rough-coated Collie's ancestry is as old as sheep-herding itself. Name from Anglo-Saxon "col" meaning black. Scotch called them "colley dogs" after the black-faced "colley" sheep they tended. Noted for acute hearing, extraordinary homing sense, devotion to duty.

He's giving his nerves a rest... and so is he

There's more joy in living when you "Let up—light up a Camel"

THIS Collie dog has a nervous system that is remarkably similar to yours. Like yours it is delicate, complicated. But here is where a big difference comes in: The dog can spring into flashing action—and then relax. While man's nature makes him unkind to his nerves. All too often, we work too hard, worry too much, are fatigued or sleepless from strain. Nerves cry for rest, but we do not hear. Don't let tension "get" your nerves. Give your nerves a frequent rest—a soothing breathing spell—take time for a Camel. Camels help you to remember that you need a brief bit of leisure, for they are mild and mellow, a supremely enjoyable cigarette, made from costlier tobaccos. Smokers find that "Let up—light up a Camel" puts more joy into living, and that Camel's costlier tobaccos are mild and soothing to their nerves.

RALPH GULDAHL (right), golf champion, reveals an "inside" story. "I've learned to ease up now and again—to take time for a Camel. It's the little breaks in daily nerve tension that help to keep a fellow on top. Smoking a Camel gives me a feeling of well-being. Here is a cigarette that is soothing to my nerves!"

MISS OLLIE TUCKER (left), office manager, says: "I can't afford to get nervous. My method is to let up, and light up a Camel. It's a grand way to smooth out tense nerves. I smoke Camels a lot. They're so mild and flavorful. Camels are soothing to my nerves. Most of my friends who seem always at ease prefer Camels."

DID YOU KNOW? That there are 26 different types of American-grown tobacco, by U. S. government standards? That Camel buyers study soil conditions, weather, local curing methods? They know where the choice grades are. It is a recognized fact in the tobacco trade that Camels are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic
