Medford Couple Wed In Beautiful Rites Sunday Afternoon

One of the most beautiful weddings of the season was an event of Sunday last at the First Methodist church when Miss Winifred Roseborough and Mr. John Merritt Sanderson were united in marriage by the Rev. Joseph Knotts.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Mr. E. G. Roseborough, was lovely in a period gown of white embroidered organza with a semi-train of the same material. Her finger tip white tulle veil was draped from a Mary Queen of Scots cap. Her bridal bouquet contained gardenias, lilies of the valley and hoveardia.

Bridesmaids were Miss Ardyle Lindley and Mrs. Donald Hinthorne. The latter was gowned in a yellow net period style dress. Miss Lindley wore a same fashioned gown of turquoise set. Their bouquets were of garden flowers predominant in yellow and rose, Mary Queen of Scots cap completed their attractive ensembles.

Mr. Russell Roseborough acted as best man and ushers included Donald Hinthorne of Ashland and Donald Patterson of Central Point.

Preceding the 3 o'clock ceremony, Mrs. Doris Condit Lantz, organist, played Schumann's Traumerel and Mrs. Catherine Wendt sang "O Promise Me." During the service, Schubert's Serenade was played softly on the organ.

The couple took their vows before an altar banked with baskets and standards of white gladiolas and white tapers in gold candelabra. Sixty-five guests witnessed the beautiful ceremony.

The bride's mother was gowned in teal blue with navy accessories and a pink corsage.

Mrs. Sanderson, the bridegroom's mother, wore a floor length lace gown of grape hue with matching accessories and a corsage of Bagdad gladiolas.

Following the wedding rites a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Roseborough on West Main street, to which thirty guests were bidden. Decorations of rose gladiolla and garden flowers were about the rooms and a table center piece of white and pink asters were attractive. The bride, in traditional manner, cut the first slice of the wedding cake after which it was served by Mrs. J. W. Smylie. Mrs. W. W. Walker presided at the punch bowl. Others assisting about the rooms were Mrs. Charles Taylor, Miss Frances Arnsperger, Miss Bertha Arnsperger, and the bridesmaids, Miss Lindley and Mrs. Hinthorne.

The couple left by motor car after the reception for a wedding trip to Carmel and San Francisco and other bay area points of interest. The bride wore a going-away ensemble of a three-piece gray suit with navy blue accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Upon their return to Medford the couple will make their home in Everett Court.

Mrs. Sanderson is a graduate of Medford high school and of the Southern Oregon Normal school in Ashland. For the past year and a half she has been employed at the California Oregon Power company in this city.

Mr. Sanderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Sanderson, is a graduate of the Central Point high school and attended the Ashland Normal school, later he attended school in Portland. He is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Merritt, pioneer family who for many years was prominently associated with the business and social life of the Rogue River valley. At present he is associated in business with his father here.

Prior to their marriage, the couple were feted at a number of delightful affairs. Among hostesses entertaining for the bride were Miss Marian Moore, Mrs. Charles Taylor, Miss Dorothy Lee and the Misses Bertha and Frances Arnsperger. Mrs. Sanderson, the bridegroom's mother, gave a dinner party for the couple and the bridegroom was honored guest at a bachelor dinner given at the chateau by a group of his friends.

D.A.R. State Regent Pleasent Guest at Pleasant Luncheon

Mrs. Gilbert E. Holt of Pendleton, state regent of the Oregon society, Daughters of the American Revolution, was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by Crater Lake chapter at the Hotel Holland, Wednesday, September 14. Beautiful flowers and a delightful group of songs by Mrs. Catherine Wendt, accompanied by Mrs. H. E. Marsh added much to the pleasure of the occasion.

Mrs. Bert B. Lowry, regent of the chapter presided at the meeting following the luncheon. Mrs. Lowry announced the resignation of Mrs. H. E. Armstrong, regent, due to illness and the election of Mrs. C. A. Meeker as vice regent.

The official visit of the state regent is an event which Crater Lake chapter always anticipates with great pleasure. In her address, Mrs. Holt urged that every effort be made to carry on and develop the many splendid projects of the Daughters of the American Revolution and said that she would place special emphasis on education and study, conservation and development in the work of the year. She also said: "In 1940 we will celebrate the Golden Jubilee of our national society and our president general, Mrs. Henry M. Roberts, Jr., urges us to decide upon an anniversary project and there is still time ahead of us in the observance of the Sesquicentennial celebration of the constitution of the United States. The Oregon society has no indebtedness, giving chapters an opportunity to create projects of local interest. There are numerous historical spots without markers, volumes of historical data as yet not recorded, highways barren of trees, parks and avenues to be made more beautiful, young women and men without funds for education; these are sources for development."

Mrs. M. M. Morris, Mrs. G. G. D'Albini and Mrs. J. H. Cochran were the committee in charge of arrangements for the luncheon.

Fall Hats, Upswept Hair New Fashions; A Good Pair

By Adelaide Kerr AP Fashion Editor

The upswept coiffure has been a big influence in the new fall fashions of 1938. Clothes' necklines, shoulder-lines and collars have been built to set it off like frames and more than half the hats have been designed to enhance its lines.

They give it color, distinction and dash and by the great variety of their shapes evoke memories of epochs as varied as the reigns of Edward VII and those of the Persian shahs.

That is the big news in chapeaux of 1938. Here are its highlights: Pitch—Most of the hats have a forward slant to accommodate the hair piled up on the head. Generally they are held in place by an extension of the hat down the back of the head or a gay bandeau of colored velvet ribbon. A number of them show height—but it is often modified.

Variety—Chapeaux have never shown more variation. Edwardian hats with up-sweeping brims and certain tips fringing over the brows, toques like Algerian chechias and Turkish fezes, bulky Persian toques, Dutch bonnets, pillboxes, and toques trimmed with colorful velvet flowers are all seen in Lilly Daché's varied collection. Crisp felt walking hats with rather high bulky crowns compliment of those worn in the nineteen hundreds are shown to wear with suits.

Feathers—This is a feathered season. Certain tips of a half-dozen shades curl over a crown; kingfisher's wings perch on a pillbox; feather pads (like old-fashioned birds' breasts) lie like patches on a towering toque.

Fur—Pelts adorn the head too. Fox "bird's nest" hats, Persian lamb fezes and mink Russian headresses with chiffon drapes under the chin are all part of a great array of fur chapeaux which promise to be important this winter.

Color—The mode is the most brilliant in years. Colored hats (to be worn with black) are trimmed with contrasting color. Dark hats are splashed with brilliant hues combined with a careful eye to harmony. Violet, mauve, cyclamen and fuchsia tones are much in evidence. Just and Tiffan shades, American beauty reds, a wide range of greens as well as the Persian colors—royal blue, red-orange, gold, fuchsia and green.

Veils—Hundreds of hats have veils. Chiffon ones "sail" from Persian toques to swathe the back of the head and the under the chin. Dotted ones swathe the face and tie at the back of the head in the fashion of Edwardian belles or are draped to stand away from the face like a fencer's mask, while black lace ones float from cocktail toques.
