SEVEREID, SHADER EYE HOPEFULS IN 5-INNING SETTO

Five From Willamette Valley Points Attend—White Hits Foul Line Homer.

The Cincinnati Reds opened their three-day trout camp at the high school park this morning, with some two dozen young baseball players reporting and taking part in a five-inning game under the watchful eyes of Mickey Shader and Hank Severeid. The camp will end Friday, with the last two days devoted to regulation games and instructions by Severeid.

Tommy White, Crater player, hit a home run down the left field foul line in this morning's tilt.

Among players reporting for the opening season were Frank Getchell, pitcher, and Steve Stone, infielder, both from Salem; Keith Lewis, pitcher, from Springfield; Ray Cox, outfielder, from Yoncalla; Lester Riley, pitcher, from Elkton; Howerton, infielder from Grants Pass; Bill Eever, infielder, and Tiny Jones, first baseman, both from Ashland; Dick Skreter, catcher from Talent; Harvey Maxson, infielder from Talent, and White, Billy Piche, outfielder, and Ray Erickson, pitcher, all of Medford.

Players will report again tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

IT TAKES A YANKEE to show British spectators what real American baseball is like. Here's Cadet F. Dilly of Rome, N. Y., making a major league lunge at home plate while Cadet L. Hahn, also an American, waits for the putout ball. The game, witnessed by a crowd of curious Englishmen and loyal Americans, was played at London by cadets from the S.S. Empire State.

NET TITLE PLAY DELAYED BY RAIN

PORTER HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 21.—(AP)—A record for consecutive wash-outs by rain was set today as the steady downpour forced the fifth straight postponement of the national tennis championships, now stalled in the semi-finals.

The previous record was set in 1933 when the tournament, scheduled to finish on Saturday, wound up on Thursday.

In the men's defending champion Don Budge ultimately will meet Lisle Hearn and Gene Mako will tackle the ambidextrous Jack Bromwich of Australia. One finalist in the women's division, Nancy Wynne of Australia, awaits the winner of the semi-final between Alice Marble and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fryban.

JUNIOR GRIDDERS IN OPENING TILT

Medford's opening football game of the 1938 season will be staged tomorrow afternoon when Coach George Harrington sends his junior high gridders against the Jackson high school Miners of Coach Bob Woods. The game will be played at Van Scoyoc field, and will start promptly at 4 o'clock.

Both teams have been drilling for two weeks and are expected to be in good condition for their first competitive test. Bernie Hughes will referee and Arba Ager will umpire.

AMATEUR TITLIST GETS CLUB BACK

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Willie Turnesa's "Mary Ann" charmed putter which he lost in the excitement of winning the national amateur golf championship, speeded to Turnesa's home in Elmford, N. Y., today aboard a mail train.

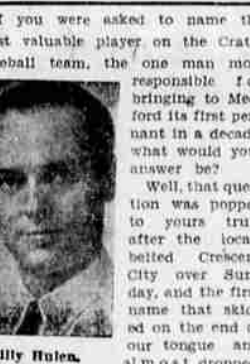

An unidentified man telephoned a Pittsburgh newspaper (Post-Gazette) last night and admitted he had picked up the putter after it had fallen out of Turnesa's bag at the conclusion of Turnesa's title match with Pat Abbott last Saturday at Okemont. The caller added that the club was on its way to the amateur champion.

Billy Hulen says:
Hoffard, Chief Most Valuable Crater Players

Billy Hulen.

If you were asked to name the most valuable player on the Crater baseball team, the one man most responsible for bringing to Medford its first pennant in a decade, what would your answer be?

Well, that question was popped to yours truly after the locals belted Crescent City over Sunday, and the first name that skidded on the end of our tongue and almost dropped off was Lyle Turcott was Lyle Turcott who tossed the Craters to the bunting by winning the last four games, including the playoff affair with Grants Pass for the second-half title and both Crescent City titles.

However, we started to think back over the entire season and check the boys who were in there every Sunday during the long, old grind, and Turpin's name never did slip off our tongue. Important as Turpin was in the pennant scheme, important as all pitchers are, especially in bush ball, there were a couple of other Crater players who, we sincerely believe, had more to do with Medford's drive to the peak than did the likeable, steady and at times brilliant Turpin. Those players are Cliff McLean, catcher, and Manager Paul "Hoosier" Hoffard, left-fielder.

Both played really brilliant baseball all season, Sunday in and Sunday out, and where the Craters would have finished without either of them in the lineup can only be guessed at. Our belief is that it would have been in third place, behind Crescent City and Grants Pass, and maybe lower. McLean hit .357, and his work handling pitchers and taking care of other receiving duties was practically beyond reproach. Hoffard ended the season with a batting average of .444, second out to Orval Hampel, and his defensive performance all year was well high perfect. He made one error in 23 games.

To single one of those two grand pastimers out for the so-called most valuable player honor is too much for this brainstormer. If we owned a ball club and had our choice of either McLean or Hoffard, not both, we would flip a coin to decide things. The one thing that might possibly swing our hesitant ballot to Hoffard is the fact that the rest of the Craters played like the very dickens for him when he took over the management near the end of the second half, which proved he has plenty of qualities of leadership.

While the Chief and "Pop" were outstanding, in our opinion, you can't forget Dick Lewis, who went great guns during the last month and a half and Tommy White, the slugging right fielder. How can you forget Dick Sakrada, whose fielding gems in center field all year cut off many a baserun. Billy Calvert, who has at last found his natural position on second base after catching, third-basing and outfielding for the past several years. Nor Hampel, who wound up the season with an amazing batting average of .383, although not playing in many games. In fact, you can't forget any of these Craters, who brought to Medford this year the finest baseball it has seen in years. In other words, we give it up trying to single out the outstanding players of the whole works. Write your own ticket.

Northwestern university eleven, a press report from there reveals, Joe weighs 187 pounds and is considered an almost certainty to see some action, regardless of whether he beats out Bob Voights and Tom Irving, two lettermen, for the regular starting berth. He is a junior.

Bobby Kittinger, the small package of dynamite who led the Black Torpedo to the Southern Oregon conference title last season, has registered at Oregon State college, and will turn out for Rook football and a backfield spot. A three-time all-conference back hereabouts, the boy should crack the Rook club nicely. If they give him a chance to carry that ball or do a little blocking. If he could pass or punt, he would be a cinch.

Who's Afraid of October 3, 1927?

Nobody, of course. Can't even remember that day, can we? So, we must have mastered its problems in our stride—and life went smoothly on.

Yet, there was a time when some people feared October 3, 1927, because some people always fear the future.

Now—Today is here. What a thing of promise to Americans is each new day! Opportunities beyond the dreams of our forefathers. Comforts and conveniences beyond the reach of peoples of other nations. Each day providing well-earned moments of leisure to plan our personal contributions to America's tomorrow.

SEALS, SENATORS WIN FIRST GAME PLAYOFF SERIES

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The underdogs held the upper hand today after initial games in the Pacific Coast baseball league Shaughnessy playoffs for $10,000 in prize money.

The Sacramento Senators, who wound up in third place in the league standings at the end of the scheduled season, were outlit 10 to 14 by the Los Angeles Angels, league pennant winners, but won the game, 10 to 8, by piling up an early lead.

San Francisco's Seals, who got into the playoffs by two percentage points, nipped the Seattle Suds' pitching sensation, the juvenile Freddie Hutchinson, for nine hits to win, 4 to 2.

Two Sacramento home runs helped the Senators win. The Senators pushed over four runs in the fourth, one in the sixth, three more in the eighth and one in the ninth. The Angels rallied in the last of the ninth to put over five runs on as many hits, but the Senators cut the uprising short.

Lou Koupal outpitched Hutchinson, but old Pard Ballou, the Seals' relief pitcher who has pulled more than a score of games out of the fire for them this season, was called upon in the eighth to put down a Seattle rally in the eighth when Koupal lost control. A two-bagger by Frankie Hawkins which sent two runners home, gave San Francisco its margin of victory in the sixth inning.

NEAR DEATH PUTS END TO RACE CAR TESTS FOR YEAR

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Capt. George E. Eyston rode five miles today with death tugging at his giant racer, "Thunderbolt."

Attempting to raise his own world land speed record of 375.5 miles per hour on the covering over the two right rear wheels of the car fouled and the machine careened through the measured mile at 349.83 miles per hour, sliding on the back corner of its metal shell like a bobbed.

The car was so badly damaged Eyston said he was through on the flats for the year and would return to England on the "Queen Mary" October 2.

"I had a very bad time," the retired army captain said. "The car broke down just as I entered the mile."

"I was then going well over 300 miles per hour. It dragged all the way through but I kept her under throttle."

"I thought perhaps the car wasn't too badly damaged. But when I let up on the throttle and it skidded to a quick stop three miles short of the north end, I knew my running was over."

A crowd of 6,000 saw Eyston shake off disaster by grimly holding his car under control. Because the rear of the seven ton machine was dragging, it sent up great spumes of salt. The straight-away showed a deep gouge.

Eyston's departure from the flats ends the 1938 high speed racing season.

His challenger, Cobb, who by speeding 350.2 miles per hour on September 15, broke the 345.49 miles per hour record Eyston set on August 27, left from New York today for England.

PREP GRID STAR IN DEBUT FRIDAY

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Bill De Corveant, the nation's most highly publicized 1937 prep football player, will gallop again Saturday—on a college gridiron.

While Iowa headed for its inter-sectional game at Los Angeles and Minnesota girded itself for Washington's Huskies, Big Ten football interest around Chicago centered on "The Kid" and Northwestern's coming freshman-varsity game.

In it De Corveant will make his collegiate debut as the freshmen's left halfback.

He wound up the 1937 season at Chicago's Austin high school with 80 touchdowns, nine in one game and most of them on long dashes. He scored 211 points and made at least one touchdown in each of 10 games. As a finale he led Austin to a city championship—and a crowd of approximately 115,000 paid its way into Soldier field to see it happen.
