P.T.A. Activities

The Parent Teachers association of Washington school has begun its work, and is looking forward to a busy and useful year under the capable leadership of its new president, Mrs. E. T. Curran. The first meeting for the year will be held Thursday, September 29.

As in the past, the P. T. A. will continue to sponsor its usual projects and new plans are under way for a more varied and complete program. Cub Scout pack No. 8, E. C. Tam, cubmaster, the Brownie pack, Mrs. Reginald Earl, leader, and financing a Girl Scout at summer camp, will continue to be supported by the organization and their activities are well under way. The lunch room, one of the most important projects, will open next month, furnishing hot lunches to those children in need. Through the co-operation of E. H. Hestrick, the P. T. A. has had the lunch room moved from the second floor of the school to a more convenient location adjoining the auditorium, a most needed and welcomed change which will greatly facilitate the handling and serving of food, both at noon and at the various meetings.
Mrs. Curran has appointed her chairmen, all of whom have organized their committees, and are actively at work on their plans for the new year. Mrs. W. W. Williams is the membership chairman, and will direct the campaign for members to be held the last week in October.

The Study club will continue to meet twice a month under the able leadership of Mrs. Hobart M. Price. It is hoped that a great many mothers will take advantage of this most worthwhile and inspiring project.

Welfare work under Mrs. A. D. Turnbow will continue to be an important part of the P. T. A. Clothing will be collected, mended, and remade, and given to those children needing such assistance.
Other chairmen are: Mrs. Clifton Pond, parliamentary; Mrs. Frank Humphrey, school publicity; Mrs. H. C. Jenkins, newspaper publicity; Mrs. W. S. Esop, finance and budget; Mrs. C. E. Berg, publications; Mrs. A. C. Wilson, health; Mrs. Iral Nelson, refreshments; Mrs. Jack Fortin, recreation; Mrs. Charles J. Pritchett, magazine.

For the parents and friends, Mrs. Dwight L. Houston, program chairman, has arranged a most enjoyable and worthwhile year. Meetings will be held the third Friday each month at the school with interesting and well-known speakers taking as their general theme, "The Family in a Democracy." Children of the various rooms will furnish the entertainment and it is planned to have games, singing or other recreation. Refreshments will be served at every meeting, the room mothers acting as hostesses.

The P. T. A. is a vital and important part of the life of Washington school, and it is hoped that all parents will give it their whole-hearted support. With every parent attending the meetings and helping as she is able, it is certain that Washington P. T. A. will go forward into its most successful year.

Variety Of Inspiration Even Dips Into Persia

By Adelaide Kerr
AP Fashion Editor
The head rules fall fashions of 1938.

There is much of the heart influence, too, in such romantic touches as plume-tipped hats, veils, muffs and swirling skirts. But it's really a cool piquant little head with up-swept hair held by jeweled side-combs which makes the rules.
The long-haired "Glamour Girl" has gone. In her place is a sure and worldly woman, feminine as Eve and the incarnation of "It." She follows a mundane mode—short skirts by day, hoop skirts by night—but she wears them with a worldly wisdom that emphasizes and enhances the woman.

Color Everywhere
That is the first big news in the clothes women will wear this fall. The next is the wide use of color, giving new life to the mode. Black is still part of it, but it's flanked by the greatest variety of hues the fashion world has worked with in years. Not only are colors used to enliven black, they also are employed in striking combinations.
First come the violet and violet shades—purples, plums, fuchsias and cyclamens. They are followed by a variety of reds running from American beauty to wine and by a wide range of rust, Titian and terra cotta shades. Blues are vivid or violet. Greens range from grayish to bluish and bottle. Gray and brown complete the picture with a dash of yellow thrown in for "high fashion." These are used in such combinations as amber-brown dress, terra-cotta coat, brown hat. Many pastels appear in the evening.

The third note in fall fashions is the variety of designs. Many epochs and lands have left a touch on them. Reflections of the reigns of Victoria, Edward VII, Louis XIV, Marie Antoinette and Regency are all seen. A touch of Persian has been added for good measure.

green makes a delightful ground for ivory or yellow chins. For a really bold effect dye it red or blue and use it with your gay colored breakfast sets.

Did you ever serve baked beans in green peppers? It's a grand idea. It will take about thirty minutes for the stuffed peppers to bake. Serve them with a fresh salad, hot bread, beverage and simple dessert, and you have a mighty good luncheon or supper.

To clean linoleum which has been cemented down use mild soap suds and warm, not hot, water, and scrub quickly, so as not to loosen the cement. To keep linoleum looking new, frequently apply a coat of thin wax. This gives a seal which helps prevent stains.

Apple butter, the spicy kind, makes a delicious topping for freshly baked gingerbread, loaf or drop cakes. Frost

Day skirts generally are short. Waists are universally slender. But beyond those points there is great variation in cut. Wider flared skirts and slender fitted bodices are the newest notes, but there are a number of straight skirts with or without front fullness, soft draped bodices and some deep armored dolman-like sleeves.

Sleeves are generally important. They are often long and widened either at the top (in a modified mutton-leg or an angel) or at the bottom. Shoulders are squared or raised and necklines often high (muffled or boned) the better to frame and enhance the new small head.

Embroidery, quilting, banding and fabric applique are used as trim. Costume jewelry is slated for a big season. Earrings which follow half way up the ear, big bracelets and elaborate necklaces sparkling with multicolored stones will help make the season sparkle.

Cloth coats generally follow one of two silhouettes: the fitted gilet flared princess or the loose box. The high collar has brought back an interest in big collars (cushion and shawl) made of long haired pelts such as a fox or lynx. Small collars are also shown.

Big Season for Furs
This is going to be a big season in furs. They make hats, muffs, jackets and coats and lavishly trim cloth coats. They likewise appear in suave bandings on costume suits (very important this year), combining a dress with a fitted or box jacket or coat.

Hats are gay, giddy, colorful and chiefly designed with a forward pitch. Feathers and veils add to their femininity.
Rich fabrics appear in the evening mode. Wide skirted frocks, sometimes made over hoops and slender fitted gowns, often designed with great puffed sleeves, will be seen in the smartest drawing rooms.

Remember, blueberry pie fillings need some lemon juice or vinegar to bring out the best of the flavor. Use one tablespoon of either for each two cups of berries.

Do not move bread dough after it begins to rise—it may fall. Put the dough in a spot that is out of drafts, cover with a cloth and leave it until it has risen.

Pine Industry Better
PORTLAND, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The entire range of the western pine industry had a marked improvement in the week ending September 17, reports from 128 mills to the Western Pine association showed today.
