EMPIRE WILL NOT BE PLUNGED INTO WAR FOR CZECHS

"It has been heart-breaking to me when they thought too soon that the danger of war was past.

"How horribly incredible that we should be digging trenches and trying on gas masks because of a quarrel which is taking place in a far away country.

"It seems still more impossible a quarrel is already settled in principle should be a subject of war.

"I can well understand the reasons why the Czech government have felt unable to accept the terms which have been put to them in the German memorandum.

Fair Peace Possible

"Yet I believe, after my talks with Herr Hitler, that it ought to be possible to arrange for transferring the territory that the Czech government has agreed to give to Germany by agreement under conditions which would insure fair treatment to the population concerned.

"After my first visit to Berchtesgaden, I did get to the Czech government the proposals which gave the substance of what Herr Hitler wanted, and I was taken completely by surprise when I got back to Germany and found that he insisted that the territory should be handed over to him immediately, and immediately occupied by German troops without previous arrangements for safeguarding the people within the German Reich.

"Guarantee To Hitler
"I must say that I find that attitude unreasonable. If it arises out of any doubts that Herr Hitler feels about the intentions of the Czech government to carry out their promise and hand over the territory, I have offered on the part of the British government to guarantee their words, and I am sure the value of our promise will not be underrated anywhere.

"I shall not give up hope of peaceful solution or abandon my efforts for peace as long as any chance for peace remains.

"I would not hesitate to pay even a third visit to Germany if I thought it would do any good.

"At one point, the prime minister said:

"However much we may sympathize with a small nation confronted with a big, powerful neighbor, we cannot in all the circumstance undertake to involve the whole British empire in war simply on her account.

"If we have to fight it must be on larger issues than that.

"I am, myself, a man of peace, to the depths of my soul.

"Would Resist Domination
"Foreign conflict between nations is a nightmare to me. But if I were convinced that any nation had made up its mind to dominate the world by fear of its force, I should feel that it must be resisted.

"Under such circumstances of domination the people who believe in liberty would not feel life worth living."

Chamberlain told his countrymen: "Meanwhile, there are certain things we can and should do at home.

"Volunteers are still wanted for air raid precautions, for fire brigade and police reserves and for the territorial (reserve) units.

"I know that all of you men and women alike are ready to offer your services, if you have not already done so, to the local authorities who will tell you if you are wanted and in what capacities.

"Don't be alarmed if you hear of men being called up to man anti-aircraft defenses or ships.

"These are only precautionary measures such as a government must take in times like these, but they do not necessarily mean that we have determined on war or that war is imminent.

"... for the present I ask you to wait as calmly as you can the events of the next few days.

"As long as war has not begun, there is always hope that it may be prevented, and you know that I am going to work for peace until the last moment."
