

VALLEY HEREFORD CATTLE BREEDERS PLAN SHOW DEC. 3

Cal.-Oregon Association Also Plan Sale — Lake Creek Center for Breed.

The growing importance of southern Oregon as the center of purebred Hereford cattle was emphasized again today when it was announced that the Cal.-Oregon Hereford Breeders association would hold a show and sale here on December 3. The association embraces southern Oregon and northern California counties.

A meeting of the association was held at Valentine's cafe to lay plans for the show and sale. It was decided to display steers in various classes as well as breeding stock to provide a well-rounded show of interest to the public.

Cattlemen interested in entering steers were asked to get in touch immediately with Floyd Charley of Lake Creek, Roy Stanley of Eagle Point or Gene Cameron of Medford.

Attending the association meeting were Fred Bayliss, Hill, Cal. Bert Hoy, Edgewood, Cal.; Floyd Charley, Brownsboro, Leland Charley, Brownsboro, Claus Charley, Brownsboro, Lloyd Damon, Lake Creek, Harry Furch, Medford, Gene Cameron, Medford, Golden Zundel, Lake Creek, Roy Stanley, Eagle Point, Marsh Garrett, Eagle Point, Henry Owens, Medford, and Alex Lavin, Prospect.

Purebred Hereford herds, while spread throughout the county, are centered in the Lake Creek district. In that district ten principal owners run about 1500 head of Herefords on the Dead Indian range.

Development of purebred Hereford herds was started in the Lake Creek country about ten years ago, registered breeding stock being imported from the Mount Crest ranch in northern California and from outstanding ranches in Montana.

Stock improvement in the past ten years was shown by prizes awarded at the San Francisco livestock exposition. Two years ago, Gordon Stanley won 15th place out of 50, where as last year Merton Bradshaw placed second out of 60 entries.

At the auction held last Friday during the 4-H club livestock show here the runner-up champion Hereford steer outdied the grand champion of another breed 35 cents to 22 1/2 cents a pound, it was pointed out by Hereford breeders.

Greatest fear of the Lake Creek Hereford breeders is that their herds will suffer from the promiscuous running of bulls of other species on the range. It was stated by Leonard Bradshaw.

In the past few years shipments of Herefords from this district have topped the markets in price at San Francisco, Portland and Seattle, Mr. Bradshaw said. The high price level he attributed to the efforts of the Lake Creek cattlemen to develop a better strain of Herefords.

career, Leon B. Bakstel, financial editor of the Oregonian wrote: "Larry Mann, one of the first National's most valued officials, is a unique character. Bubbling over with enthusiasm, he has endeared himself to thousands of Portlanders and residents of other communities by his courteous and magnetic personality and by the remarkable work he has done in behalf of numerous civic organizations and especially his efforts in behalf of the boys and girls of Oregon."

J. L. WOOLRIDGE, VALLEY PIONEER, TO LAST REWARD

Funeral services were held this afternoon at the Missouri Flat cemetery for James Logan Woolridge, southern Oregon pioneer who died at the age of 82 in Ashland Sunday after a colorful and useful life.

Mr. Woolridge was a product of the covered-wagon days of the west. He was born in Junction City, Lane county, on April 9, 1856, the son of Alpheus and Jane Hunt Woolridge.

The family moved in 1859 to the Applegate where the son drove freight teams in the 70's. Turning to prospecting, young Woolridge mined in the late 70's and early 80's on the Applegate river and Fooths creek. He drove a pay wagon for the S. P. in 1882 and 1883.

On March 5, 1885, he was united in marriage with Rhoda Shattuck, daughter of Tom S. and Millie S. Shattuck, at Lakeview.

In 1889, Mr. Woolridge homesteaded 160 acres on Missouri Flat. He made this his home until last March when he moved with his wife to Ashland, where he resided until his death.

For many years Mr. Woolridge drove a four-horse stagecoach to Crescent City, Cal., via Waldco. He engaged in this colorful and at times hazardous work until the automobile supplanted the horse as a means of transportation. Keeping up with the times, Mr. Woolridge then purchased a truck and continued his transportation service.

In 1894 Mr. Woolridge was elected assessor for Jackson county, a position he held for two terms. For many years he was road supervisor in the Applegate district. He remained active in business until the last few years. He was an outstanding citizen whose judgment was trusted and frequently he was called upon to act as arbitrator in neighborhood and community issues.

Mr. Woolridge is survived by his wife, six children, 16 grand children and six great grand children. The children are Mrs. Minnie Sweeney of Coquille, Mrs. Fieda Zwicker of Marshfield, Mrs. Ella Lathrop of Grants Pass, Walter Woolridge of Medford, Frank of Central Point and Bert of Ashland.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Hopewell cemetery near Salem, Oregon, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

QUEEN ELIZABETH LONGEST SHIP IN WORLD LAUNCHED

GLASGOW, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Queen Elizabeth, with a message from King George calling on the people to "keep cool heads and brave hearts," today launched Britain's new 85,000-ton liner bearing her name.

Nearly 300,000 persons watched the giant vessel, companion ship of the Queen Mary, glide down the slipways into the Clyde.

"I have a message from the king," Queen Elizabeth told the huge crowd. "He bids the people of this country to be of good cheer in spite of the dark clouds hanging over them and indeed the whole world.

"He knows well that, as ever before in critical times, they will keep cool heads and brave hearts.

"He knows too, that they will place their entire confidence in their leaders who under God's providence are striving their utmost to find a just and peaceful solution of the grave problem which confronts them."

The queen was so excited when she cut the tape releasing the bottle of champagne which crashed against the liner's bow that she forgot to exclaim in the traditional manner: "I name the Queen Elizabeth."

The Queen Elizabeth's two funnels instead of three and rafter streamlining give her a profile different from that of the Queen Mary.

The new liner will register 3,765 tons more than the 81,235-ton Queen Mary. The Queen Elizabeth is 1,030 feet in length, the longest liner ever built. The Queen Mary is 1,020 feet long and the Normandie is 981 feet long.

The new ship will accommodate 2,400 passengers to the Queen Mary's 2,000 and has 14 decks.

City Dads O.K. Sale To Loretta Denney

Sale of lot 3 in consolidated addition 8 to Loretta Denney was approved by the city council at an adjourned meeting last night.

The adjourned meeting was for the purpose of proceeding with steps for the proposed reconstruction of paved streets in the event that further word had been received from the PWA which has approved a grant for the work. Nothing further, however, had been heard from the PWA.

After the brief meeting, the council met with the citizens budget committee to give further consideration to the 1939 budget.

DEEPEST SUBWAYS OF LONDON SLATED AS RAID CENTERS
LONDON, Sept. 27.—(AP)—London, nerve center of the British empire, today prepared for the possible arrival of enemy airplanes by designating the city's two deepest subway stations for immediate transformation into air raid shelters.

The two stations, at Charing Cross, almost exactly in the center of London, were ordered closed at 8 p. m. tonight by the London transport board for "urgent structural work."

The nature of the work was not officially disclosed, but it was stated the closing order would remain in effect "until further notice."

Authoritative quarters indicated vast underground shelters against air bombers would be built, part of the greatest defense preparations in British history.

Altogether nine subway stations will be closed, but apparently the "alterations" will be made only at the two stations coming Charing Cross.

Arrangements have been made to route traffic around the closed stations or make connections there with surface transport.

LARRY MANN WILL QUIT BANK SOON

Lawrence C. Mann, former Medford resident, has resigned as assistant vice president of the First National bank of Portland to enter business for himself. It was reported in yesterday's Oregonian. His resignation will become effective October 8 at the close of the Pacific international livestock exposition during which he will be in charge of 4-H club boys and girls for the bank.

Mr. Mann will become vice president and general manager of the Portland Printing House on October 10.

He entered the employ of the bank eight years ago and since then his rise has been rapid. Prior to going to Portland he was in the drug business here for 10 years and has many friends in southern Oregon. He is a brother-in-law of Fred Heath Jr., owner of Heath's drug store.
