Miss Brown Feted At Dinner Party

Miss Vera Humphrey was hostess last evening at her home on Cottage street for a dinner party and apron shower honoring Miss Emily Frazer Brown, bride-elect.

Amid a color scheme of pink and white guests enjoyed dinner after which Miss Brown was presented with many pretty aprons.

Those present were the honoree, Miss Brown, Mrs. Kenneth Dinnman, Mrs. Hilding Bengtson, Miss Jean Garman, Miss Helen Parish, Miss Marjorie Plak, Mrs. Darrell Huson, Miss Ruth Hill, Miss Gertrude Waitzling, Mrs. Everett Faber and Miss Joan Humphrey, niece of the hostess who assisted with the party.

Miss Brown's marriage to Mr. Robert Leonard McClure of Chicago will be an event of October 14 in this city. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frazer Brown.

Former Medford Couple Visit

Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Sutherland of San Francisco arrived in Medford recently for a fortnight's sojourn. At present they are house guests of Mr. Sutherland's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Smick at their home on South Ivy street.

While in southern Oregon the couple will motor to Roseburg and Cottage Grove to visit other relatives. During their Medford stay they will be the inspiration for several social events.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland formerly lived in Medford and are well known in the valley.

Down or up he finally got there

BEFORE the first Caesar's nurse ever spanked little Julius, China bored salt wells by having coolies jump on to a platform fastened to the drill. You might say those coolies drilled wells with their bare feet.

When D. G. Scofield sank the first discovery well in California, back in 1875, he and his men worked like coolies, and we'll tell you why. Scofield knew about mechanical drilling, but in remote Pico Canyon nothing was possible except the pioneer "spring-pole" method—and that operated by foot-power.

He set a long sapling in the "Y" of another, fastened down the butt and attached the drill rope to the springy end like the line on a fishpole. This made a spring-pole which raised the drill after each stroke. But the men sweated the drill downward with their own bone and muscle by throwing their weight—yo heave!—into a rope stirrup which bent the pole and dropped the drill.

That well eventually became a part of this Company—and so did the man who, by his own force and determination, dug it. Today one of Standard's tankers is the "D. G. Scofield"—named in honor of this former oil prospector, former president.

Betty Fowler Is Kappa Pledge

Word received in Medford today from Oregon State college in Corvallis revealed the pledging of Miss Betty J. Fowler to Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Miss Fowler is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Fowler of King's highway in this city.

Miss Vera Peart of Central Point was pledged to Alpha Delta Phi at the college.

The end of the first rush period for sororities at Oregon State last night found 169 girls pledged by houses. This was 22 more than were selected in the opening period last year. Later pledge periods will permit other selections by the houses and more time for some girls to decide which to join.

Girls pledged from Josephine county include Marilee Fry and Maxine Jester to Chi Omega. Miss Jester has frequently visited in Medford.

Snider Home Scene Of Birthday Event

The Pennsylvania avenue home of Mrs. Maude Snider was the scene of a delightful party recently when a no-hostess dinner and handkerchief shower honored Mrs. D. O. Frederick, the occasion being her birthday.

Guests participating in the pleasant affair included Mrs. A. F. Stenest, Mrs. Minnie Bellinger, Mrs. J. W. Bates, Mrs. M. Liebman, Mrs. Harry Rinabarger, Mrs. C. A. Hamlin and Mrs. Snider.

Cards were enjoyed after dinner and prizes were won by Mrs. Stenest, Mrs. Bellinger and Mrs. Bates. The honoree was the recipient of many lovely handkerchiefs during the party.

Mrs. Throckmorton Back From College

Mrs. Lester Throckmorton of Eagle Point returned recently from Corvallis where her daughter, Eleanor, has enrolled as a senior at Oregon State college in the school of home economics.

Mrs. Throckmorton's son, Dale, is also registered at the college for his freshman year. He was awarded a scholarship last year through the Oregon State board of higher education. Both are graduates of Eagle Point high school.

Washington P. T. A. To Convene Soon

The Washington school Parent-Teachers association will hold its first meeting of the season Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the school auditorium.

Mrs. E. T. Curran, president, will preside at the business meeting and Mabel Mack of the state extension service will speak on "new standards for family living." At the close of the meeting refreshments will be served by the executive board.

All mothers are invited to attend in order to become acquainted with the school, its teachers and the other mothers of the district.

Hensons Had House Guests

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Cofer and Miss Janet Foster, who have been house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Riley D. Henson, recently returned to their respective homes in Klamath Falls.

Other recent guests of the Hensons were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Henson of Klamath Falls. The latter Mr. Henson formerly lived in this city and is well known here.

What the Girl Scouts Are Doing

Saturday, October 1, all of the first class Girl Scouts will meet at 12:30 at scout headquarters to organize a group of first class scouts. There are over 25 Girl Scouts eligible for this group. Eligible members are:

By the time a girl has earned her first class rank she has had a variety of experiences in homemaking, cooking, first aid, child care, home nursing, swimming, life saving, outdoor sports, handicrafts, office work, journalism, and many other activities, besides the valuable experience of assisting in the business of a troop, planning projects, meetings and working with others to carry them through.

All of these varied activities make every girl an interested and civic minded member of her community.

Chicago Wheat

Chicago, Sept. 28.—(AP-USA)—Excited, somersaulting of the Chicago wheat market today that accompanied sudden indications of European peace resulted in much lower quotations.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—(AP-USA)—A frantic half-hour buying rush, touched off soon after the market opening by news of the four-power Munich conference for discussion of the Nazi-Czech dispute, turned an early decline in stocks today into a dramatic recovery.

Wall St. Report

Within a few minutes the atmosphere in Wall street changed from deep despair for European peace into one of restored hope. Some stocks soared 4 or 5 points from the early lows, giving them net gains of 1 to around 3 after allowing for the initial losses. The stampede to buy passed almost as quickly as it had started and the market, after the first hour, spent the rest of the session defending its gain. Prices held close to the rally tops into the late dealings. In bonds, commodities and foreign exchange dealings market scenes were shifted abruptly on announcement of the new mediation efforts for peaceful settlement of the Sudeten issue.
