Dancing Party Enjoyable Event

Lively Rogues dancing club held its first party of the season last evening at the Knights of Pythias hall. Unique decorations in a hunting scene motif were carried out, an abundance of cat tails and foliage formed a nest for decoy ducks and resulted in the out-door atmosphere.

D. A. R. Members Advise People

By A. D. A. R. Member
Ideal Americanism should be the dominant thought in the lives of every American in this hour of trouble. It would be most fitting for every home in the nation to take an hour and read both the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States and to discuss the many principles which are as applicable today as they were when this nation was established. It is especially fitting that we live these principles as an example to the men and women who are becoming citizens at their own request.

On next Tuesday at the postoffice there will be about twenty admitted and it will be with irrepressible joy that they take the oath of allegiance. The American chairman of the Daughters of the American Revolution will announce the time as soon as notice is received from Portland headquarters.

D. A. R. To Place Historic Marker

Mrs. Bert B. Lowry, regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the historic marker committee consisting of Mrs. J. H. Cochran, Mrs. B. G. Harding and Miss Sara Van Meter are making preparations for the erection of a historical marker for which funds are being raised by a rummage sale at the natatorium on Friday and Saturday.

Society Anticipates Pioneer Meeting

Obituary

Charles Straube
BIG APPLEGATE, Sept. 29.—(Sp1)—Charles Straube, member of a pioneer Jackson county family, passed away at a Portland hospital Wednesday, following a paralytic stroke, according to a telegram received here by Fred Straube, a brother.

Mr. Straube spent 19 years of his young manhood in southern Oregon, coming to Willow Springs district with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Straube, at the age of 12. The family came here from Donaville, Cal., where Mr. Straube was born. He was a blacksmith, and was employed for several years by the late Pat Donegan of Jacksonville, where he learned the trade. When he was 22 he left this county and spent several years ranching in Washington. While living at The Dalles he married, his wife passing away two years ago. Recently he had made his home in Portland, and had been confined to a hospital there for the last year.

The funeral will be held in Portland Friday, on which day Mr. Straube would have been 81. Besides his brother here he is survived by another brother, Emil Straube, at Waterman, Ore.

Mrs. Marianne Sargent
GRANTS PASS, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Funeral services for Marianne Sargent 78, were arranged here for this afternoon. A native of the Grants Pass district, she died in Portland yesterday.

Relatives reported Mrs. Sargent played an unusual part during the World war, being section boss of a railroad gang near Gold Hill.

Women Golfers Open Championship Play
Thirteen woman golfers were today playing first round matches of 18 holes in the annual Rogue Valley Golf club's championship tournament, with eight of them competing in the championship flight and five in the first flight. Semi-finals will be staged tomorrow and the finals over the week-end. All matches are for -18 holes, without handicap.

Mrs. Bill Thompson, two-time winner of the tournament, is again entered, and is gunning for permanent possession of the handsome club trophy. She won the title last year and in 1932.

A Better Way to Treat Constipation!

When you're constipated, it's a great temptation to be satisfied with quick relief. But medicines may become a habit. And they don't keep constipation from returning. It's so much better to get at the cause of the trouble! What to do? Eat Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day and drink plenty of water. This crunchy cereal contains both "bulk" and the intestinal tonic, vitamin B. And it's not a drug, not a medicine! All-Bran is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by grocers. Served by restaurants.

Billy Hulen says:

Pete's Return Will Stimulate Wrestling Here

Pete Belcastro returns to the Medford army grappling arena next Monday night, and every citizen who has even the remotest interest in the mat industry hereabouts will welcome him back with wide open arms.

The Weed Mad Italian is "box office" in capital letters, and right now the game here needs the stimulus of somebody with fan appeal more than at any time within the past several years.

Attendance has decreased alarmingly the past three weeks, principally because of the fact that none of the current bone-benders are overly blessed with that intangible something called "color." Although they are all good boys, especially Paul Murdoch and Charley Carr, they just haven't that dash and fire which makes the turnstile click sweetly and the box office receipts lumpy.

Belcastro has that super drawing power, hence the many clad-hearted hearts among the wrestlers, fans and promoter, Lillard, that Pete is acclim' back. It might seem strange that other grapplers are tickled pink over Pete's return, because Pete is rather disliked among members of the mat clan, but his appearance on a program is practically a guarantee of a capacity or near capacity house, and wrestlers, you know, battle not only on their guarantee but on a percentage, over a certain figure. If the "take" passes a certain mark, the wrestlers get a cut, so they are all considerably in favor of Belcastro hanging around.

Pete's opponent Monday evening will be Nick Rozina, the short, stocky backbreaker specialist who formerly wore a mask and called himself the Black Secret. It should be a good match, and one that will please those customers who like those rock 'em and sock 'em type imbroglios. Pete will outweigh Nick, but the smaller fellow is tough as all get out and will undoubtedly make a fight of it.

Remainder of the program will see Paul Murdoch and Buddy Knox clashing in the middle encounter, and Charley Carr and Tiger Takoff opening the card. The Murdoch-Knox encounter should be extremely interesting to lovers of clean wrestling, as both boys are tops in the straight stuff. It will also bring about a battle of two highly effective holds—the Alabama thunderbolt as manipulated by Murdoch, and the airplane spin as applied by Knox.

They came from behind twice to tie the score, then won out in the ninth frame, so you can count those Chicago Cubs of Mr. P. K. Wrigley in the world series with the Yankees. Such, anyway, is this scribbler's opinion of the National league dog-fight, following the Cubs' 6 to 5 win over Pie Traynor's Pirates yesterday. The game was vitally important, of course, because it catapulted the Chicagoes into first place by one-half game over Pittsburgh, but the item of biggest import in that battle was the proof that Gabby Hartnett bosses a club that has what is politely known as intestinal fortitude. With that heavy world series sugar dandling before their eyes, the Cubs went out and outbattled the Buccs and moved into first place. They had what it takes in the clutch, and they proved they are money players. We'll take them to win the pennant now, regardless of whether Pittsburgh regains the lead today.

Remainder of the National league schedule sees Chicago moving to St. Louis tomorrow for a four-game series and Pittsburgh invading Cincinnati for four games. Double-headers will be played tomorrow, with the late ending Sunday after single games Saturday and Sunday. It looks like Pittsburgh has slightly the tougher row to hoe, because the Reds have done more this season than have the Cardinals.

A good arm, speed foot, and action at the plate are the first things baseball scouts look for in young players. Hank Severid, ex-major league catcher, remarked when he was here for the Cincinnati Reds' tryout camp.

"Young players simply must have good throwing arms," Hank said, "and they should be able to travel with haste. However, they don't have to be great natural hitters right off the bat. If they look good at the plate, take a nice cut and stay in there, that's all that's necessary when we first sign them."

Hank said that Johnny Vander Meer's fast ball was his best pitch, but that he had a wicked curve to go with it. In fact, the big fellow explained, pitchers had to possess that high, hard one to make good in the majors. Hurlers can be taught how to throw curves, he said, but not how to boom that fast one in there. If they don't have natural speed, they never will have, he remarked.

Eugene Trio Hurt
GRANTS PASS, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Three Eugene residents, Ira Sawyer, C. B. Clark, and N. G. Clark, were treated for minor injuries at a physician's office here Wednesday afternoon. A garage reported their car was practically demolished when it was forced over an embankment on the Pacific highway north of here.

he was "dazed by the sudden fury with which the storm struck."

"I was on my way to work and had just parked my car in a torrential downpour," he said, "when I heard an almost deafening roar. I did not see any buildings collapse. It did not last more than 30 seconds or a minute at the most in the neighborhood I was in."

"As soon as I got to the office, a stone's throw away, I saw that all the electric power was off. Looking from the window I noticed the roof of the Timrod Inn had disappeared. As far as we could see from the windows of the office, Charleston presented a picture of wrecked buildings and uprooted trees."

"The storm apparently dipped into all parts of the city with a toll of wreckage everywhere it touched," Rubin said.

J. E. Lockwood, U. S. meteorologist, said he believed two tornadoes struck the city a few minutes apart.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Norman H. Davis, head of the Red Cross, said today 25 bodies had been recovered and 340 persons had been injured when a tornado struck Charleston, S. C.

Davis, a caller at the White House, said the report was received via naval radio.

Thirty city blocks, he said, had been damaged by the tornado and 100 houses blown down.

President Roosevelt already had ordered the army, navy and the works progress administration to render all possible aid to the stricken city.

The president acted in response to a telephone request from Lieut. Gov. J. E. Harley of South Carolina.

Harley advised the chief executive that there was "considerable property damage and loss of life" in Charleston.

The South Carolina governor, Harley said, is in Oklahoma and cannot be reached. The legislature is not in session to take any action, he added.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said this caused Mr. Roosevelt to proffer immediate federal assistance.

DUKE OF WINDSOR READY TO FIGHT

PARIS, Sept. 29.—(UP)—The Duke of Windsor, who holds high ranks in the British armed forces, has put his affairs in order to rush back to England if he is called upon, his friends said tonight.

The duke has closely followed events by radio and frequent telephone conversations with Buckingham palace and other informed quarters.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—(UP)—The Evening Standard's gossip column, "Londoner's Diary," said today that the Duke of Windsor approves of "every detail" of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's efforts to avert war.

"For the prime minister himself the duke has an admiration which has become fervent in recent days," the column said.

LABOR SITUATION IN 'FRISCO TENSE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—(AP)—The "hot" box car rolled again here today and closed a wholesale drug supply firm, while the labor situation, including a threatened strike of 1,200 grocery clerks, grew more serious. Three other paper companies in Oakland, units of San Francisco firms, also were closed after employers charged the Warehousemen's union with breach of contract. Both sides disagreed on the number of warehouses closed in the contract dispute. The operators said 134 were closed while union officials said 57 were shut down. The number of men laid off was estimated at more than 2,500 by the operators, at 1,600 by the union.
