CAPITOL REGARDS AGREEMENT WEDGE FOR BIGGER PACT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30. — (AP) — President Roosevelt praised today the work of the state department and the country's diplomats abroad during the European crisis.

In response to press conference questions regarding the four-power agreement for the partition of Czechoslovakia, Mr. Roosevelt itod reporters all he had to say was that a very wonderful service had been performed by Secretary Hull, Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state, other state department officials and the American diplomatic staffs in various world capitals.

The work of these persons, Mr. Roosevelt said, was a fine example of team play and cooperation which met with very great success.

The president called the recent tension in Europe a real crisis. Often, he said, situations are termed crises when they are not, btu this week's was a real one.

Asked whether this country had received any request to participate in the international commission which will police areas in Sudetenland during the process of German occupation, Mr. Roosevelt recalled a note had been received from the Czech government yesterday afternoon.

The note asked this country, through the president, to arbitrate the situation in the event the four-power conference at Munich failed.

The European situation was changed almost before the note was received, the chief executive recalled, by agreement of the four powers at Munich.

Asked whether he now considered it unnecessary to answer the Czech note, the president said this question properly should go to the state department.

GREATEST ACCLAIM GIVEN MUSSOLINI ON ROME RETURN

ROME, Sept. 30. — (AP) — Premier Mussolini received one of the greatest welcomes his followers ever have accorded him when he returned to Rome today from the four-power conference at Munich.

At the railroad station to greet Il Duce were many representatives of the diplomatic corps, including William Phillips, United States ambassador, and the Earl of Perth, British ambassador.

Mussolini strode from the station through a narrow path police cleared for him amid the cheering crowds.

He smiled broadly and snapped the fascist salute in response to his tumultuous reception.

Beside hmi was his son-in-law and foreign minister, Count Galeazzo Ciano, who had accompanied him to the Munich meeting that found ways to satisfy Germany's demands on Czechoslovakia and save Europe from war.

He and Count Ciano entered an automobile immediately and aped through flag-festooned streets to the Palazzo Venezia, Mussolini's office.

Diplomatic circles considered a start toward withdrawal of Italian legionnaires from Spain was likely to result from the peace-saving conference.

Cheering throngs turned out at Florence, Trento and other cities along the route of Il Duce's train.

King Vittorio Emanuele made a special trip from his summer palace at San Rossore to Florence to congratulate his premier. The king was waiting on the station platform when the train arrived.
