High School News by STUDENT REPORTERS

By Dorothy Flynn

Dr. Baxter of the Willamette University honored the students of Medford high with an interesting speech, Monday, October 3, at 2:00 p. m.

In his talk, which centered around scholarship, he stressed the three following points particularly: A student high in scholarship gets more out of school as a whole; he is also very apt to be more popular among his fellow students; and, one who achieves in high school will be the one who achieves something later in life.

The students seemed to thoroughly enjoy Dr. Baxter's speech and showed their enthusiasm with loud applause.

Weatherford, "is the fact that there has not been a barren offer, or no service at which there has not been from one to 20 seeking the Lord."

Curiosity Gets School Stress

MONTREAL (UP)—The curriculum of Canadian schools should be revised to make use of the "lively curiosity" of youth, Prof. W. H. Hatcher, of the McGill university department of chemistry, believes.

Prof. Hatcher has evolved a new method for teaching of science that aims at introducing science subjects early in the elementary schools, continuing them in the higher schools, and thereafter at the university, or for those outside universities through adult education.

The professor would bring the fascinating studies of science to the mass of school children, instead of reserving them for the few who complete high school and go on to the university. To make room in the curriculum he would avoid too early specialization. The modern trend in education today, he said, is to delay specialization.

- Won't insulate burner walls with heat-stealing soot!

"I'm so grateful for what Siler City School taught me about COLDS"

Says Mrs. J. B. WHITLEY

"Every winter Margaret used to come down with one cold after another," Mrs. Whitley says. "Then the clinic started at her school. Soon she was catching fewer colds, and getting over them quicker. It certainly opened my eyes. Since then our whole family has followed Vicks Plan—and colds don't worry us now like they used to."

These are actual figures—the average results of the four winter series of clinical tests in which 17,353 people (including 7,031 school children) took part. Thirty-seven doctors were on the supervisory staff. Over 500 teachers, nurses, and other trained workers assisted them.

Relieves misery of Colds

VapoRub is a family standby for relieving misery of colds. Rubbed on throat, chest, and back, VapoRub acts two ways at once: (1) Direct through the skin like a poultice; (2) Direct on irritated air-passages with its medicated vapors. This double action loosens phlegm, clears air-passages, eases cough, relieves local congestion.
