CAMPAIGN BLASTS LOOKED FOR SOON IN ELECTION RACE

Arrival Of Iokes Expected To Enliven Contests—Fight Is Waged On Labor Measure—Pledges Grow.

(By Paul W. Harvey, Jr) SALEM, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Initiative measures held the political spotlight during the past week, while candidates for governor, U. S. senator and congress continued to stomp the state without providing fireworks.

ban jurisdictional labor disputes continue. The Associated Farmers organization is conducting a vigorous campaign for its passage, while the state Federation of Labor, asserting the measure would paralyze unions, is just as vigorously against it.

Sentiment Divided Sentiment among the farmers appears to be divided. Although the Associated Farmers say the bill would prohibit interference in the marketing of farm products, state Grange is against it. But Ralph W. Perry, who was an unsuccessful candidate against Ray Gill for state Grange master, says many Grange members favor the measure.

State employees now have the promise of both gubernatorial candidates that there will be no dismissal of employees for political reasons. Hesa Follows Suit After Charles A. Sprague, Republican candidate, made this promise, Henry L. Hesa, Democratic candidate, made a similar statement.

However, officials who were appointed by Governor Martin make no secret of the fact that they favor Sprague. Martin remains opposed to Hesa, who defeated him in the primary.

These officials believe they have a better chance to keep their jobs if Sprague were elected. Governor Martin has been pretty cheerful since his defeat, but he changed Monday when he received a letter from the national Democratic chairman, James A. Farley, who, in a letter congratulating the governor on his 78th birthday, said "You have always been kind and considerate to me, governor, and I shall always be grateful."

Farley Fine Friend This letter brought back memories that were not so pleasant. The governor feels that Farley is the only national administration leader who stuck by him in his losing fight for renomination, while Iokes and George Norris of Nebraska opposed him. Governor Martin feels that he was No. 1 on President Roosevelt's purge list.

The white-haired governor, always an admirer of Farley, says that he is one of his true friends. State Forester J. W. Ferguson submitted figures hoping to prove that it doesn't pay to violate forestry laws of 46 prosecutions, there were 54 convictions in 1937. A total of $1,279 in fine was assessed.

Fifteen persons were convicted for burning without permits, 11 for throwing away lighted material, eight for leaving camp fires, and two for maliciously setting fires. The 1935 teachers' retirement law, which in effect, was upheld Monday by the U. S. supreme court, might be extended to affect all counties. The law now provides retirement of teachers at the age of 65 in Multnomah and Marion counties.

The state supreme court ruled the law valid last May, and the highest court dismissed the appeal of seven Portland teachers who didn't want to be retired. In the state supreme court decision, Justice Belt, a former school teacher, wrote "There is a danger of schools being loaded down with superannuated teachers who have lost their appeal to youth."

Newsman give Justice Belt and Chief Justice Bean the laurels for writing the most easily-understood opinions from the viewpoint of the layman.

TRAINING SCHOOL OF RELIGIOUS ED. OPEN NOVEMBER 7

The second term of the Medford Training School of Religious Education will open in the Medford Presbyterian church on Monday night, November 7, and close on Friday night, November 25. Sessions will be held on Monday and Friday nights from 7 to 9 o'clock for the three weeks period.

The school is inter-denominational, and conducted in keeping with the standards of the International Council of Religious Education. All persons in Medford and surrounding communities may enroll regardless of church affiliations. The registration fee will be 35 cents, and text books will cost about $1.00 each. Five courses will be offered: "Personal Religious Living," taught by Rev. Joseph Knotts; "Old Testament" by Rev. E. S. Bartlam; "New Testament" by Rev. John W. Hoyt; "Purpose and Program of the Church" by Dr. S. L. Divine; and "How Christian Growth Takes Place" by Dr. J. P. Bray. Rev. James M. Hamilton will serve as dean of the school. Any one desiring more information concerning the school may get in touch with Mr. Hamilton.

The first term of the school was held in the First Christian church, last January, with about 50 enrolled. Many who took courses last winter have testified to the practical value of the school and are ready to enroll for the November term.

Vault Defies Police FREMONT, Ohio (UP)—Herman R. Schneider, police chief, worked 30 minutes trying to open a safe but was unsuccessful although he used a sledge hammer, chisel and drill, all taken from prisoners. The manager of a department store unable to open his safe, had appealed to the chief for aid.

Raw Eggs Rout Bandits LIMA, Ohio (UP)—One of two highwaymen attempting to hold up Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Morrison received a barrage of a dozen raw eggs in his face. Mrs. Morrison threw a sack, containing the eggs, at the bandit, causing him and his partner to flee.

ALBERS RECIPES

If desserts are a problem in your home, here are two suggestions that will be welcomed by the family. Both these recipes use crispy-fresh corn flakes.

Corn Flake Pudding 2 cups Albers Corn Flakes 2 cups milk 1/2 cup molasses 1/2 cup sugar 2 eggs, well beaten Salt 1-3 teaspoon ginger. Put corn flakes in buttered baking dish. Mix other ingredients and pour over. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, until firm.

Apple Betty 4 apples 1 1/2 cups Albers Corn Flakes crumbs 1/2 cup brown sugar 1/2 cup butter Orange or lemon juice. Alternate layers of sliced apples with crumbs. On top of each layer of apples sprinkle brown sugar, dot with butter and few drops of orange or lemon juice. Sprinkle more crumbs in top. Cover and bake about 45 minutes at 350 degrees. Remove cover last 5 minutes of baking to brown. Pour one cup cream or hot lemon pudding sauce over just as you take it from the oven and let stand until ready to serve.

Son Called "Sir Isaac" NEWFANE, Vt. (UP)—So interested in the writings of English scientist Sir Isaac Newton was Marshall Newton, builder of the Sibley farmhouse here in 1786, that he named his second son "Sir Isaac." This son always was known by that name, and it is inscribed on his tombstone in a nearby cemetery.

Eats 120 Oysters SYDNEY, N. S. W. (UP)—T. W. Rattigan, 71, ate 120 dozen oysters at one sitting at a luncheon held in connection with the eleventh annual Oyster Growers' conference here. His performance is acclaimed as the best weight-for-age feat seen at the conference for many years.

Cafe Bars Japanese LONDON (UP)—Japanese merchants and city men have lost their favorite eating place in London—the Chinese restaurant in Piccadilly Circus. "No Japanese will be served at this restaurant," says a printed notice affixed to the entrance door.

CONTINUED CLIMB IN SCHOOL ROLLS SEEN BY PUTNAM

SALEM (UP)—Oregon's school population, which was up approximately five per cent this year, was largely increased through immigration but will continue to climb after immigration has stopped.

That is the opinion of Rex Putnam, state superintendent of public instruction, who said part of this year's rise was due to an increased interest in education. "Not all of the children of high school age who are eligible for attendance at high school are attending classes, and this upward trend will probably continue for a number of years regardless of immigration," he said.

He said that more young persons are desirous of improving their educational background by attending high school and predicted that this would cause a steady growth in high school registration while the primary grade attendance will remain fairly static as soon as population figures do so.

A heavy influx of drought-ridden farmers from the middle west has caused a boom in Oregon's population, which is not always shown in school registration figures, since children might be held out of school for a year for lack of funds. Putnam said. As soon as these families become settled the primary grades will experience an upward trend, he predicted.

Most startling increase in school enrollment this year was shown in Crook county, with an upward push of 30 per cent. Putnam said this phenomenal growth was the result of enlarged timber operations in the region. Road and logging operations caused a leap of 150 per cent in the registration of Detroit high school in Merion county, a figure which school authorities predicted could not last.

Time Turns Backward GREAT FALLS, Mont. (UP)—With the re-opening of school, Everett J. Lease, 6, son of Thomas Lease, superintendent of parks, began his school career by occupying the same seat in the first grade that his father occupied on his first day at school 24 years ago.

Butte Falls

BUTTE FALLS, Oct. 14.—(Sp.)—A Sunday school group received the Butte Falls school faculty at the home of Mrs. Stoddard on October 4. The games were all concerned with trees and flowers. The first game was the identification of trees by their foliage and the writing of an original poem. This was won by Mr. Clark, whose prize was a wooden marker list. The second game was the "Transplanting of Trees," won by Miss Cook whose prize was a framed picture of a vase of flowers. The third game was the "Floral Marriage game," won by Miss Baumgartner. Her prize was a wood fiber corsage. Several of the guests contributed interesting poems and facts about trees. Mrs. Hoffman gave an inspiring talk on the trees of the Bible. Frances Smith sang the solo, "Trees." All joined in and sang "My Wild Irish Rose" and "In the Garden."

The refreshments consisted of fruits and nuts in fruit puddles, fruit salad, stuffed prunes, stuffed dates, assorted nuts and punch. Irah Lockard presided at the punch bowl. A large plate of assorted fruits graced the serving table and the house was lavishly decked with autumn leaves and autumn flowers. Mrs. Cleveland and Mrs. Stoddard attended the dedication of the Presbyterian church in Medford last Sunday afternoon. Rev. Thompson of Seattle preached the sermon.

Butte Falls high school football team defeated Eagle Point high school last Friday afternoon in Eagle Point the score was 7 to 0. The fifth and sixth grades of the Butte Falls school are now publishing their own little newspaper, called "The Logger." It is a very neat mimeographed four-page newspaper. The staff is as follows: Editor, Mary Smith; assistant editor, Dorland Stephenson; sports editor, Robert Kent; manager, Tom Shull; newsboys, Robert Albert and Lowell Patton.

Many Butte Falls people went to see Roy Gardner at the Rialto theater in Medford last Sunday. Emmett Gott drove to Lake Creek over the Ochanchal mountain on Sunday and reported the road quite passable. The distance is 11 miles. There was a light frost here Tuesday night but no damage was done to gardens or flowers. Kenneth Moore is home from the hospital.

Mr. Kincaid was injured by tractor but is getting along well. The Hustlers club was held at the church last Thursday afternoon. The club was reorganized with Mrs. Marion as president and Mrs. Smith as secretary-treasurer. The club discussed the buying of a new stove for the church. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Pearl Smith on October 20. Mrs. Jack Stowell and Miss June Stowell left for Oakland, Cal., on Tuesday.

Big Footed Burglar Busy SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UP)—A prowler, known to police only as the "man with the big feet," has completed his 51st burglary, leaving only the single clue, large footprints, for authorities to work on. Included among his burglaries are the homes of City Attorney Edwin W. Hunter and Police Sergeant Zell Spencer.
