NO CHANGES DUE SHINGLES QUOTA
Restrictions on importation of red cedar shingles from Canada will not be lifted, U. S. Sen. A. E. Reames was informed by President Roosevelt by letter yesterday.

Senator Lonsorgan of Connecticut had sought to remove the restriction because of the need of building materials following the recent hurricane devastation in New England. Senator

Reames and Senator Schwelienbach of Washington notified the president that there was a sufficient supply of red cedar shingles on hand in this country to meet any emergency.

In his letter to Senator Reames President Roosevelt said he had been told by other congressmen that there was no need to lift the restrictions. Rigidity of the quota provisions of the revenue act of 1936 restricts importations anyway, the president pointed out.

BECKLEY, W. Va., Oct. 15.—(AP) On the eve of the hunting season, Supt. B. C. Minter of the Francis coal mine declared a holiday and paid the miners off two days early, so they'd have money for shells.
