Brown-McClure Wedding Rites Event of Friday

Miss Emily Frazer Brown, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frazer Brown of this city, was united in marriage to Mr. Robert Leonard McClure of Chicago Friday at 12 o'clock noon.

The beautiful ceremony, with Dr. Sherman L. Divine officiating, took place at the Presbyterian church. Vows were spoken at an altar bedecked with ferns and white chrysanthemums with white candles on either side.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her mother's wedding gown of 1899, an exquisite dress of brocaded mousseline de sole with a rose point collar and slight train worn over ivory tulle. Her full length tulle veil was draped from a halo cap encrusted with seed pearls with orange blossoms on either side. Her only jewelry was a single string of pearls, a wedding gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Frederica Brommer was maid of honor. She wore a taffeta full skirted gown of old rose trimmed with tuberoses and violets. A tulle headpiece matching her dress was fastened with tuberoses and violets. She carried an old fashioned nosegay of pastel flowers.

Mr. R. G. Warmbold of Chicago acted as best man for Mr. McClure and usher was Everett A. Faber and Derrell Huson of this city.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Vernon A. Day played several harp selections after which Mrs. Derrell Huson sang a special arrangement of "I Love You Truly" with harp accompaniment by Mrs. Day.

The wedding march from Lohengrin was played on the organ by Mrs. Eva Marshall.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Brown, wore a crepe afternoon dress of tuberoses with matching veiled hat and black accessories. Her corsage was lilacs of the valley.

Following the wedding ceremony which was witnessed by a large number of guests, a wedding breakfast for the bridal party and immediate friends of the bride, was given by Mr. and Mrs. Brown at their home on West 11th street.

Mrs. Frederick H. Johnson poured and Mrs. Everett Faber, Mrs. Derrell Huson, Mrs. Vernon Day and Miss Mary Martha Sweeney assisted about the rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. McClure departed by motorcar after the wedding breakfast for Chicago where they will reside. Mrs. McClure chose a going-away ensemble of olive green crepe dress, a black velvet belt trimmed in black feathers was the only ornament. She wore a black French hat, and black coat. Her corsage was gardenias.

Among out-of-town guests attending the wedding were the maid of honor, Miss Brommer of Portland, Miss Mary Martha Sweeney, also of Portland, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Van Dyke of Ashland.

Mrs. McClure, well known in Medford, is a graduate of Medford high school and of Willamette University. The past several years she has travelled extensively. In this city she was active in civic affairs and a popular member of Medford society.

Thursday Luncheon and Style Show Successful Affair

One of the most outstanding social events of the season took place Thursday afternoon in the recreational parlors of the Presbyterian church when the Sunny Sisters circle of the church sponsored a luncheon and style show.

Two hundred and fifty women filled the parlors to capacity. Served luncheon was served on small tables which held attractive centerpieces of fall bouquets. Large vases of flowers were about the room.

Following luncheon, charming models displayed the latest trend in fashions which were shown to advantage by walking down a long runway in the center of the room. Complete ensembles including ski suits, afternoon dresses, hostess gowns, sports clothes, suits and formal wear were modeled.

Making the initial appearance in the style show were three models, Helen Allyn, Connie Degman and Iva Todd, who were gowned in fashions of long ago. The exquisite dresses belong to Mrs. D. W. Luke of this city. One of the gowns was worn at the inaugural ball when Harrison was president.

Miss Mary Anne Gates, also in an old fashioned gown, delighted the audience with a song, "Grandma" which fitted the occasion.

Miss Gates presented several other solos and Mrs. William McAllister and Mrs. Derrell Huson were heard in two enjoyable duets.

The models and the firms they represented are as follows: Mrs. H. B. Kelom and Miss Peggy Smith for Jacques Lenox, Mrs. Wayne Carter and June Cheney for Mode O' Day, Miss Opal Harvey and Mrs. Neville Biden for Adrienne, Winnie Weishaar for Burelson's, Miss Barbara Drury, Miss Rosalie Leslie and Mrs. John R. Knight for Ethelwyn B. Hoffmann, Miss Juanita Rector, and Mrs. Henrietta Hugger for Montgomery Ward, the very small Misses Coleen and Dolores Bawden for Jennie Riddell's Needle, Arts and Junior shop, Betty Malley and Mrs. Vale Hoota for Mann's department store, Alice Crow, Mrs. Lois Young and Alberta Murray for M. M. Department store.

Mrs. R. A. Work introduced each model, the firm and the clothing worn. Others on the committee were Mrs. O. H. Masadam, Mrs. E. Baker, Mrs. A. J. Hanby, Mrs. Louis Barnin and Mrs. Jay Andrews. Mrs. William Young and Mrs. H. E. Sweeney had charge of a fancy work booth.

"Back To School" Entertainment Is Enjoyable Affair

Five hundred or more parents took advantage of "Back to School Night" at Junior high school on last Tuesday evening.

Never has a P. T. A. occasion been more successful. Not a dull moment was experienced during the entire evening. Due to efficient organization on the part of the school every thing moved along with quick and well ordered precision and parents settled into their roles as "kids" with apparently not the slightest difficulty.

Eight o'clock found the auditorium filled and an "examination" consisting of "riddles" was given at this time by Mrs. A. E. Brockway.

Following a very short P. T. A. business procedure James Mullens, Junior high school principal, took charge of the "students." After an interesting talk by Mr. Mullens on Junior high school aims and objectives, class bells began to ring and from this time on it was a scramble to get from class to class on time. Much credit is due "bulldog guards", James Hoey, J. A. McDougall, A. E. Brockway, Hugh Sinnott, Robt. Kyle, J. S. Nickerson and E. W. Wall for keeping order.

Many complimentary comments are being made on the gracious manner of the teachers in receiving the parents and the entirely clear conception which parents were given on the subject matter of their children's courses and the present day methods by which they are taught.

A spirited pep assembly followed the completion of classes and here with Ray Henderson as pep leader the parents enthusiastically voted "the old school spirit." Wilson Waite and his Junior high school band furnished snappy accompaniments to lusty school songs.

At the close of pep assembly six husky members of Coach Harrington's Junior high football team came bounding down the aisles of the auditorium, went into a huddle and were finally introduced by their coach as: "Rock 'em and Sock 'em (A. E.) Brockway, "Feel 'em like an onion" (Eldon) Drysdale, "Greatest quarter-back of all time" R. S. Webber, "Pass-Snaring Demon" (A. E.) Holbrook and "Battering Ram" (E. W.) Wall.

"School" was dismissed following "lunch" which was served in paper bags by P. T. A. committees.

Much satisfaction has been voiced by parents who attended "Back to School Night" in their Junior high school, its teaching staff and methods, and in themselves for taking advantage of the opportunity which was offered them to become thoroughly acquainted with their children's school.

Mrs. J. A. McDougall, Junior high school P. T. A. president has expressed her thanks to her committees and everyone who contributed toward making a success of this affair.
