SOCIETY and Clubs

Unique Party Enjoyed by Many at Washington School

Housekeeping as it was practiced in the early days of Medford, was most amusingly recounted by Miss May Phipps in her talk on "The Changed Homemaker," at the Washington school P-T.A. meeting on Friday afternoon. Miss Phipps, a member of one of the pioneer families of the Rogue river valley, was appropriately dressed in a costume of the period, and kept her large audience chuckling with her descriptions of homemaking in the past. A unique feature of the program arranged by Mrs. Dwight L. Houghton, chairman, was the large display of antique utensils, clothing and other household articles. By way of contrast, the most modern equipment was also shown, through the courtesy of the following Medford firms: Brophy's Jewelry store, Medford Mail Tribune, Mann's Department store, Leonard Electric company, Verne Shangle, photographer, Westlawn company, Hubbard Bros. hardware, Hansen Hardware company and the Feldman Electric company.

Mrs. E. T. Curran presided at the business session which followed the program. She announced the following new chairman: Mrs. Effie Adams, magazine; Mrs. Reginald Earl, character education; Mrs. George Maddox, music; Mrs. C. R. Richmond, safety; Mrs. O. Edwards, hospitality; Mrs. C. H. Davis, summer round-up; and Mrs. Mary Jones, lay-member.

Mrs. A. C. Wilson, health chairman, reported that the new cafeteria was ready for use, and will serve hot lunches beginning October 31, and that E. H. Hedrick and the school board had presented the school with a new electric refrigerator.

Mrs. Mary Jones, lay member, reported on the county council meeting held in Ashland on October 19, and Mrs. C. R. Pond, city council president on the school of instruction held in Medford on October 13. Washington school was well represented at both these meetings.

Mrs. Harry Kyle announced that a dinner and program will be given at the school on Wednesday night, October 26, at 5:30. It is planned to make this the outstanding social event of the school year. Mrs. Mary Jones is in charge of the tickets.

Anyone wanting further particulars is requested to contact Mrs. A. J. Kellenbeck and Mrs. L. Bilderback, co-chairmen for the dinner.

J. C. Tucker, principal, took the room course of mothers present. Mrs. Canode's room won the attendance prize, a vase.

Mrs. Curran introduced the following room mothers to the members: Mrs. Canode, Mrs. P. Taylor; Mrs. Beeson, Mrs. P. Whitlock; Mrs. Huntress, Mrs. Ray Marks; Mrs. Deuel,
