

California Dumps Surplus Oranges

Tons of surplus oranges, fruit that is of inferior grade, have been dumped in the Santa Ana river east of Anaheim, Calif., for future burning. A truck is shown spraying the dumped fruit with oil to prevent growth of fruit flies and to aid in the burning when the citrus has dried. LeRoy Lyons of the California fruit growers exchange said only third-grade fruit was being destroyed and that dumping was resorted to only when a federal appropriation for diversion of the inferior fruit was exhausted.—(AP Photo.)

Farmer Plans Goat-Team Trek To New York Fair

KESWICK, Ia. (UP)—Charlie McCartney, 40-year old Iowan, who farms 20 acres four miles southwest of here, is going to attend the New York world's fair.

His wife and small son are going, too.

But—they're going to make the 1,150 mile trip in a homemade wagon drawn by two eight-goat teams.

The venture, if it is successful, will be a much greater achievement than the horsedrawn wagon trip Charlie made to Chicago for the century of progress in 1936.

That trip took him 18 days. He plans to allow himself 100 days for the New York trip, although he believes his goat teams can cover 20 miles a day.

McCartney is not certain just what he will do when and if he arrives in New York. He stayed in Chicago during the 1936 fair for three months. He was paid $100 a month and given horse feed. He helped pay his expenses by selling postcard pictures of himself and his rig, which was a made-over automobile body.

The McCartneys live in a nondescript house, which Charlie built himself. Using his goat teams, he hauled lumber for the house, ten miles. He spurs tractors and horses for his farm work, preferring to use goat teams. He breaks them to drive himself and also makes all their harness and his farm implements.

McCartney describes the goats as "the meanest things that ever was." He insists "you have to work them to death." He once had 45 goats, but the dogs reduced their number to 18.

He wears his hair, as well as his beard, long. On rare occasions he cuts it. Because of his eccentricities, McCartney has many visitors. He greets them with hospitality, points to his turnip, potato and pop corn crops with pride.

YEHUDI RECEIVES UNION PERMISSION

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—(UP)—After four days of controversy the way apparently was cleared last night for the appearance of Violinist Yehudi Menuhin with the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra today, although the young virtuoso steadfastly refused to join the musician's guild.

Frank Chapman, Pacific coast representative of the American Guild of Musical Arts, after a chat with Menuhin said he would not ask the orchestra to go out on strike because such action would be breaking faith with the public. It was believed the matter would end there, despite the AGMA decision in New York that its contract with the Southern California Symphony association, which is sponsoring the virtuoso's appearance, calls for all performers to be guild members.

Menuhin said Chapman impressed him as being the "only gentleman" with whom he had dealt in the controversy and that if there were more such men as Chapman in the Guild he might reconsider his decision and apply for membership.

UNDERSIZED BODY PLACED ON SALE

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 3.—(UP)—Finding no other way to cash in on an undersized body, Narciso H. Guerra, 33, of San Antonio, offered himself for sale today—on the hoof or dismantled.

Guerra asked $3,000 for his body as it stood, but if the purchaser wants spare parts the price will be proportionately higher. He asks $1,000 for an eye, an ear or an arm, and $1,500 for a leg.

The market would be necessarily limited since Guerra stands only five feet, four and a half inches in his socks, and weighs only 130 pounds. He said he had been unable to find steady employment, even with the WPA, because he was so small and had a wife and three sons to support.

DETROIT DRIVER WINS TRUCK RODEO

DETROIT, Nov. 3.—(UP)—The country's best truck drivers stirred up the cinders on a city parking lot today and when the dust had cleared Edson A. Smith, driver for the Guardian Transit Corp., of Detroit, held the title of "the world's most skillful truck driver."

Smith wheeled a giant, three and a half ton tractor-trailer type vehicle around the parking lot with the greatest of ease and made those spectators who have difficulty parking their automobiles extremely jealous.

The truck "rodeo" was sponsored by the American Trucking association in convention here.

One phase of the "rodeo" required that the contestant park the 21-foot trailer between the two other trailers spaced 25 feet away.

THEATER OWNERS RAP FILM QUIZ

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 3.—(UP)—Speakers who denounced the motion picture industry's $250,000 national contest for film-goers as a "dud" received hearty acclaim last night at the closing session of the convention of motion picture theater owners of America.

Delegates asked for a resolution either extending the contest or reducing the number of pictures that participants must see in order to answer the questions.

The association also protested against the use of movie stars on commercial radio broadcasts. The theatermen claimed that the programs, available at home, keep patrons from the shows.

In an open forum discussion, the show owners suggested that Hollywood producers offer fewer epics and present more pictures with a human touch.

Portland Balks at Woman Whitewashing

PORTLAND, Nov. 3.—(UP)—Portland's city council, all men, shrugged its shoulders today and declined to consider appointing a lady whitewashing.

Mrs. J. C. Woodman, a housewife, wrote that the men in charge didn't know how to apply a broom to the streets. The council refused to debate the issue because it received "enough abuse from the outside so there is no reason to have it abused from the inside."

Home Canned Fruit Scalds Housewife

PORTLAND, Nov. 3.—(UP)—Mrs. Roger Bruce, 23, was seriously burned yesterday when several jars of home-canned fruit exploded. The boiling liquid sprayed her face, chest and arms.

Weather

Northern California: Fair but with occasional cloudiness north portion tonight and Friday; moderate temperature; moderate northwest wind off coast.

Oregon: Unsettled and showers tonight and Friday; snows in mountains; little change in temperature; decreasing westerly wind off coast.

SECURE JURY FOR CONVICT'S TRIAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—(UP)—Twelve men were sworn in today as a federal court jury to try James C. Lucas and Rufus Franklin, Alcatraz convicts, for murder.

The jurors were all San Francisco business men, except one, a garment worker.

The defense exhausted all its 20 peremptory challenges but the prosecution had two of its permitted 6 remaining when the jury was completed after more than three days of work. More than three-score men were examined. Most of those rejected admitted prejudices against capital punishment, connections with Alcatraz prison, or views concerning the veracity of federal agents.

Hearst Editor Leaps 11 Stories to Death

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—(UP)—Victor Watson, 58, for many years an editor and executive in the Hearst newspaper organization, plunged to his death from an 11th floor window of the Hotel Abbey today.

A note found in the room, for which he had registered only a few minutes before under the name of George L. Jones of Chicago, said: "God forgive me for everything."

Watson was widely known in the newspaper field, having held executive posts on Hearst newspapers in Chicago and Boston before coming to New York.
