FIVE LIVES TOLL WEEK-END TRAVEL ON OREGON ROADS

PORTLAND, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Oregon highways were lethal lanes during the week end. Auto crashes claimed five lives and injured several other persons.

The dead were: Evelyn McCarthy, 52, Portland. Melvin Archibald, 38, Klamath Falls.

A 60-year-old unidentified pedestrian. James Grant, 70 former Portland. W. D. Alred, 74, Klamath county. Among the injured was Clyde L. Kiddie, Corvallis, state crop insurance supervisor.

Evelyn McCarthy was killed Sunday when a car driven by W. E. Charette, 25, Portland, struck a pole hard enough to shear it off. Allice Johnson, 26, Portland, a third occupant, suffered a fractured leg. Charette, who sustained a minor leg injury, was jailed on an involuntary manslaughter charge. Captain Fred M. West of the police traffic bureau said.

Archibald, a Klamath Falls barber, died of injuries received October 30 when he was struck by a car driven by James Becker, whom police exonerated.

The second Klamath county fatality occurred with the death of Alred in an automobile-truck collision at Midland eight miles south of Klamath Falls. Two persons were injured.

The unidentified pedestrian was killed near Hillsboro when hit by a car driven by Archie Gadbaugh, Portland. Deputy Sheriff R. H. Busch said the motorist was not at fault.

Kiddie was injured but not seriously near Pendleton when his auto rammed the rear of a truck.

Grant, riding a motorcycle Sunday night near Salem, was struck and killed by a car driven by Clarence Cutsinger, 14, Salem. State police ordered Charles Cutsinger, the lad's father, to appear in a Salem justice court today to explain why the boy was driving the car.

STORMY WEATHER PROMISES TO CUT OFF-YEAR VOTING

(Continued from Page One) The CIO leader pointed out, however, organized labor stood behind the president in 1938, and added: "The issues in this election cut through party lines and transcend personalities and no accurate measure of the election result will be possible on party lines alone."

This last statement has been the contention also of new dealers who agree with Mr. Roosevelt's appeal for the election of liberals even if party lines have to be crossed.

G.O.P. For Independence Closing Republican addresses contained pleas for election of an "independent congress." Former President Hoover used those words Saturday night at Spokane, declaring the Roosevelt administration was hampering its own efforts to improve business by using "coercive methods."

Conflicting claims of victory were made in some of the outstanding contests. In New York, for example, Farley expressed confidence Gov. Herbert H. Lehman would win a fourth term by a 250,000 plurality. William S. Murray, Republican state chairman, estimated Dist. Attorney Thomas E. Dewey would defeat Lehman by 268,000.

Similarly, in Ohio, defeat of Democratic Sen. Bulky by Robert Taft, son of the former president, would give the winner Republican presidential consideration.

A prediction of Democratic victory in California came from WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins, who visited the state last week. He forecast defeat for the $30-a-week-Thursday pension program.

Hopkins' deputy, Aubrey Williams, said in Washington a new inquiry into charges of political abuse among Pennsylvania WPA workers showed they contained "not one scintilla of truth." Senator Davis (R., Pa.), who made the complaints, replied "There isn't a well-informed person in Pennsylvania that doesn't believe there is politics in WPA."

Davis is campaigning for re-election against Gov. George H. Earle, Democrat. This contest and the one over the Pennsylvania governorship have been among the most hard-fought in the country.

CONCERT BACKERS MEETING TONIGHT A meeting of all committees of the southern Oregon concert association has been called for tonight by Mrs. H. Chandler Egan, president. The meeting will start at 8 o'clock at Pruitt's Music-Radio Center.

ANNAPOLIS SALUTE Wednesday Only! MIDDIES IN LOVE! ANNAPOLIS SALUTE

Brilliant Cast In Deanna Durbin Hit On Craterian Bill

The advent of any Deanna Durbin picture is a milestone in the history of the screen. From the surprising "Three Smart Girls" through the beautiful and stirring "100 Men and a Girl," and the touching "Mad About Music" right to the current, "That Certain Age," now at the Craterian theatre, her pictures have been a delight and a revelation.

"That Certain Age" is as different from the previous trio as each of them were from each other. As Deanna grows older, her stories are carefully tailored to her age.

This picture is lighter in theme than the others, but no less powerful in entertainment content. Starring Deanna, with Melvyn Douglas, Irene Rich, Jackie Cooper, John Halliday, Juana Quisley, Jackie Searl, Peggy Stewart, Nancy Carroll and Charles Coleman. "That Certain Age" tells the story of a young girl, nearing 18, who meets a war correspondent and fancies herself violently in love with him. Temporarily infatuated with him, she forgets her younger "boy-friend" and her childish playmates until it is brought home to her that she is still a child, and that romantic love has no place in her life.

Packed with clever comedy, brilliant dialogue, the sparkle of youth and the indiscreet beauty of Deanna's voice, "That Certain Age" can be hailed as the finest of the four pictures this great little star has made.

Deanna sings five numbers in "That Certain Age." Three of these are by the popular song-writing team of McHugh and Adamson. These are "My Own," "Be a Good Scout" and "You're As Pretty As a Picture." Her two classical selections are "Les Filles Des Ombres" by Leo Delibes and "Roméo and Juliet Waltz" from the opera.

Peter Lorre is again seen in the title role of Mr. Moto, most popular screen sleuth in pictures. Henry Wilcoxon, Mary Maguire and Erik Rhodes support Lorre in the mystery film.

Every committee member is earnestly requested to be present at this important session which will be the last meeting before the Armistice celebration.

Commander Robt. Ebel has again called the attention of every legionnaire to the election tomorrow and urges every American citizen to exercise his right of franchise and to get all relatives and friends to go to the polls without fail.
