BOWERMAN FEARS TIGER CONFIDENCE CARRIED TOO FAR

Defeat By Weed On Armistice Day Seen Unless Defense Tightened — Poor Showing Against Eugene

Coach Bill Bowerman predicted today that Medford high's Black Tornado would get wallowed by the pass-aging Weed, Cal. high aggregation in their gigantic Armistice day clash here next Friday afternoon. If the Tigers don't show a complete recovery from a bad case of overconfidence.

Pointing out that the Californians have been undefeated for two years and boast one of the greatest football machines ever developed in Siskiyou county, the Medford mentor stated that his team was due for a licking unless it turned in a better performance, especially on defense, than it did in defeating Eugene, 25 to 19, last Friday night.

"Our defense against Eugene's running attack was very poor," Coach Bowerman said, "and unless the players start soaking again like they did in the Klamath and Bend games, I look for Weed to win the ball game. Must be at Peak.

"It will be a tough enough encounter, anyway," the coach said, "and unless Medford is at its peak, both defensively and offensively, we won't have much of a chance against Weed. Because we won a couple of tough games from Bend and Klamath Falls, some of the players have an idea the team is unbeatable and that they don't have to put out. If they don't snap out of it we are going to get licked."

Although the mentor said he planned no shakeup in the regular lineup in an effort to smash the growing "big-headedness" of the Tigers, he made it definitely known that any player from now on, who appeared to be letting his false sense of greatness interfere with the business of playing knock-down-and-drag-out football, would be jerked from the lineup.

Except for the mental attitude of the team, the Black Tornado is in good condition for the Weed invasion. All regulars are physically in excellent shape with the exception of Bill Clute, 220-pound tackle, who suffered a goal over his eye yesterday in scrimmage. Four stitches were necessary to close the wound, and the coach said it was about a 50-50 chance that Clute would get to see action.

sale at the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce and the high school, and that a small block of reserved seats duets were also available at the chamber. There are about 200 reserved seats still available, he said. These may be obtained either at the chamber or at the high school. The game starts at 2 o'clock sharp, and will be the only day-time encounter staged here this year.

PHOENIX, J'VILLE BATTLE TO DRAW

Phoenix and Jacksonville high school six-man football teams battled to a sensational 27 to 27 tie at Phoenix yesterday afternoon, in a game featuring spectacular runs and amazing aerial attacks by both outfits. Score at the half was 14 to 13, Jacksonville.

With only three minutes to play and Jacksonville leading, 27 to 19, Phoenix deadlocked the encounter by scoring a touchdown and converting the extra points by a place-kick. In six-man football, a place-kick for the extra point counts two. Bob Freeman booted the ball which tied the score.

Included in the array of long touchdown runs was one on the second-half kickoff by Lewis of Phoenix.

CRESCENT CITY TO PLAY IN J'VILLE

Six-man football teams of Jacksonville and Crescent City, Cal., high schools will clash at Jacksonville next Friday afternoon, Armistice day. Coach Bob Woods of the Miners announced today following completion of negotiations for the encounter. The opening kickoff will be at 2:30 sharp.

Although Crescent City is a class A high school, it has been playing six-man football this season in addition to the 11-man variety, and is reported to have a powerful halfback. Jacksonville is one of the stronger members of the Jackson county conference.

Billy Hulén says:
Webfoot Casaba Prospects Look Best in Years

Already, they are booming the ballyhoo drums for the 1938-39 University of Oregon basketball team, figuring Howard Hobson is a cinch to turn out another northern division, Pacific coast conference champion. If quality and quantity of material means much when it comes to developing a champion, Hobson is certainly looking like a cinch to turn out a winner. He certainly looks like a cinch to turn out a winner.

Billy Hulén.

The ex-SONS mentor will have a mere nine letters on hand when the opening conference whistle blows and four of them were regulars on the club which last season socked over northern division members and lost to Stanford in the coast playoffs. Laddie Gale, Slim Wintermute, Wally Johnson and Bob Anet were all first-stringers, and Matt Pavallunas, Bob Hardy, Ted Sarpola, Ford Mullen and John Dick, while not regulars, saw plenty of action and all won monograms. Only two lettermen will be missing, Dave Silver, regular forward and Bay Jewel, towering reserve center.

Hobson, never a gent to hide his team's light under a bushel, especially when he figures the team will be better than fair, has produced a wonderful eastern barnstorming trip for his boys. Unless he believed the Webfoots would this season rank with the best in the country, he wouldn't have gone overboard so thoroughly on a nine-game state, including an appearance in New York City's Madison Square Garden, December 17, against College of the City of New York. Other games on the eastern tour will be against St. Josephs in Philadelphia, Miami University in Cleveland, Canisius in Buffalo, Wayne University in Detroit, Bradley Tech in Peoria, Western Illinois State Teachers in Chicago, Drake in Des Moines and Stanford at San Francisco.

Yes, it looks like Hobby and his boys will cause plenty of basketball pyrotechnics this season, but you never can tell. Three years ago Oregon had, on paper, a cinch northern division winner, but when the actual shooting was all over the Webfoots were behind the eight ball. It is possible the same thing will happen this year, but right now it does look like the Ducks will make it two in a row. But, they better not forget Oregon State, which also has most of its regulars returning and which, in our estimation, has one of the finest coaches on the coast in Siate O'ill.

Cuff scribbles: Fishing conditions were poor in Rogue river last week, due to rising water, but with the cessation of rains and clearing weather the river started to fall and water still is not clear enough for either flies or spinners, all catches are being made on salmon eggs. Joe Wharton of Grant's Pass reports... it is being rumored around town that Medford high's forward wall, vicious against Klamath Falls, Bend and Kureka, has a tendency to fold up when facing other tough lines, such as Eugene's.

WORLD RUSHES TO BUY PLANES FROM AMERICA

By Frank P. S. Glassey
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, (U.P.)—World-wide rearmament programs have pushed the sale of American aircraft manufacturers to record heights. Today, with major nations frantically adding to their air forces as an aftermath of the Munich four-power agreement, leading plane factories are working on a 24-hour basis, and backlogs of unfilled orders are at unprecedented levels.

Sales of military plans to the army and navy constitute the principal source of orders in the industry, but the governments of Great Britain, Holland, France, Yugoslavia, Brazil, Guatemala and other European and South American countries are increasingly turning to American manufacturers to fill the demand that cannot be met by their own companies.

United States aircraft production last year was valued at $55,260,105. Of that total, $37,071,160, or 66 per cent represented planes for military use. Exports of planes, engines and parts totaled $39,128,602.

Record Year Assured
 Both production and exports will establish new records this year, and leaders in the industry confidently predict further gains in 1939. They admit that armament programs are primarily responsible for the boom, although sales of transport planes, also rising steadily, if less spectacularly.

Approximately 40,000 men are employed in American aircraft factories, of which the largest are located in California. Four major aircraft corporations operating in or near Los Angeles reported late in October that, as a result of huge orders from Great

Large Netherlands Order

Orders to be filled by this company before the end of 1939, in addition to that from the British air ministry, include a fleet of 13 twin-engine personnel transports for the army air corps, a $690,000 order for the Netherlands East Indian government, and orders from the U. S. navy, Aeropost Airlines of Yugoslavia and British Airways, Ltd.

The Ryan Aeronautical Company of California has been more active in the Central American market. On October 18 the company announced the signing of a contract with Guatemala for six S-T-M military training planes. A similar number of S-T-M planes had been delivered to the Guatemalan air force three months earlier.

Mass Production Near
 Leading aircraft manufacturers are making plans for switching to mass-production methods to speed up output for the army, whose immediate plans include increasing the air force to 4,120 planes. The army now has approximately 1,500 first-line planes, with an additional 1,000 under construction. The government is reportedly considering standardization processes to facilitate mass production.

North American Aviation, Inc., which is strictly a military concern, is manufacturing two basic combat ships a day to fulfill heavy war department requirements. This marked a new record in production since the World war.
