Stars Of "You Can't Take It With You" Coming Here Sunday

Frank Capra (seated on the ladder), admittedly Hollywood's most consistent director of hit pictures, has his "You Can't Take It With You" coming Sunday to the Craterian theatre.

son; Jean Arthur, his secretary; Lionel Barrymore, as Grandpa Vanderhof, who believes in having fun; Ann Miller, the dancing fudge-maker; Michs Auer, her Russian ex-wrestler ballet instructor; Spring Byington, painter and playwright; Samuel S. Hinds, her husband, who also makes fireworks; Dub Taylor, xylophone player and printer; and Lillian Yarbo and Ed Johnson, the Vanderhof servants.

Meeting Tonight—"Members of all Armistice Day committees should be present at tonight's meeting of the American Legion at the armory at 8 o'clock, George Gates, general chairman said today. "Final arrangements for the big day's program will be made and reports of committee chairman will be heard." Commander Robert Ebel asks a large attendance of all Legionnaires at the session tonight. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.
