

JOSEPHINE VOTERS NAME NEW COURT; JOHNSON IS JUDGE

GRANTS PASS, Nov. 10.—(Sp.)—Headed by State Senator W. A. Johnson, Republican, as judge, a new county court was chosen by Josephine county voters in Tuesday's election. Johnson won with ease in a field of five.

Richard McEligott, Democrat, will replace H. S. Morgan, also a Democrat, for the four-year term as county commissioner. He was pressed closely by H. N. Parker, Republican.

John Valen, Republican, will take over the two-year commissioner term vacated by George Thrasher and now held until January by George Martin. Both Thrasher and Martin are Republicans.

Upon his election as county judge, Johnson resigned as state senator. Sheriff A. Donley Barnes, Republican, easily defeated Clarence Coon, Democrat. It was Barnes' first race for the office since his appointment as sheriff to fill a vacancy.

Reuben S. Anderson, former Democratic mayor of Grants Pass, won the contest for justice of the peace, defeating E. W. Madison, Republican incumbent.

L. L. Rhodes, Democrat, won as constable of the Grants Pass district over Jack Gordon, Republican. The present constable, Fred Houston, Republican, did not run.

In state elections, W. H. Miller, Democrat incumbent, defeated Ed Hughes, Republican, for representative. Miller was elected as an independent two years ago.

ing decree laws excluding Jews from government positions of any kind, restricting their businesses and professions, forbidding their marriage to Aryan Italians and limiting their family rights.

The cabinet decrees adopted at a meeting presided over by Premier Mussolini, put into effect the racial policy outlined by the fascist grand council on October 7.

The decrees defined a member of the Jewish race as any person:

First, both of whose parents were Jewish in race even though the offspring did not practice the Jewish religion.

Second, with one parent of the Jewish race and the other of the foreign nationality.

Third, whose mother was Jewish and whose father was unknown.

Fourth, born of parents of Italian nationality either of whom is of the Jewish race, belongs to the Jewish religion, is a member of the Israelite community or otherwise has manifested Hebrewism.

The decrees exempted as non-Jewish those born of parents of Italian nationality only one of whom belongs to the Jewish race, if, as of October 1, 1938, they practiced a religion other than Jewish.

The decrees provide within three months Jews shall be excluded from government service, civil or military, and fascist organizations.

ELECTION KINDLES PRESIDENCY HOPE IN RANKS OF G. O. P.

Patronage to Use

Republicans counted most heavily on gubernatorial, rather than congressional, gains for advancing their cause toward 1940. Control of state administrations will give them patronage to rebuild party fences in disrepair since 1932.

Political leaders offered contrasting interpretations of the election results, first reversal for the Democrats since 1930. Republican Chairman John Hamilton said the vote showed "a widespread repugnance toward governmental incompetence, maladministration and callous political corruption."

"These Republican gains reflected a determination on the part of millions of our citizens," he added, "to put an end to constant experimental legislation which has held back economic recovery and kept the country in a hub-bub."

Democratic Chairman James A. Farley pointed out that his party had won substantial majorities in the senate and the house despite the decline in numbers.

Still for Roosevelt

"I think the outcome justifies the statement the country as a whole is still strongly behind the humanitarian policies of President Roosevelt," he said.

Speaker Bankhead (D., La.) said the turnover was a "normal reaction to five or six years of Democratic administration."

Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) called the election "an amazing defeat for the Roosevelt party and program." Former President Hoover said it should mark "the beginning of the end of this waste of public money, these policies of coercion, political corruption and undermining of representative government."

His words foreshadowed a Republican drive to change the federal relief system. Indications are it will be centered on revision of the WPA, target of anti-administration criticism throughout the campaign. Chairman Hamilton recently said Republican senators would demand an investigation of the WPA and especially charges of politics in relief.

Roosevelts Vote at Hyde Park Hall

In the historic town hall at Hyde Park, N. Y., the President, Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Sarah Delano Roosevelt cast their votes in the New York state and national elections. The President delayed his visit to the polls so that Mrs. Roosevelt, who had been visiting their son, James, in California, could arrive by airplane and accompany him. In reviewing the elections, political strategists of both parties had many more factors than the direct results of the voting to consider in planning their future campaigns.

Among these were the potential effect on business of Republican gains, the political strength of organized labor, the question of whether the negro vote may be shifting in some areas from Democratic to Republican columns, and just where 1940 presidential hopefuls stand now that the mid-term balloting is out of the way.

As to the latter, most politicians here agreed some gained in stature while a few may have lost prestige Tuesday.

One name still high on the list of Republican possibilities was that of Thomas E. Dewey, who, although he lost the New York gubernatorial race, proved himself as two-fisted in vote-getting as in prosecuting New York racketeers.

Some persons thought the defeat of Gov. Frank Murphy (D., Mich.) might remove him from the presidential scene, but a high federal position may still be his lot. There was speculation here President Roosevelt might appoint him to the supreme court.

Potential Candidates

Senatorial and gubernatorial victories placed several men to the fore as potential candidates. On the Republican side these included Robert A. Taft of Ohio, son of the late Republican president, who defeated Sen. Robert J. Bulkley, a new deal Democrat; John D. Bricker, elected Republican governor of Ohio, and Leverett Saltonstall and Arthur H. James, elected governors of Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, respectively.

In the Democratic ranks, impressive majorities for senators Bennett Clark of Missouri and Millard Tydings of Maryland caused friends to advance their names as possible 1940 candidates.

The elections also bore on the political future of persons not directly involved in the voting. Secretary Wallace, for instance, but his personal leadership, at stake in his native Iowa, but the Republican state ticket won.

In Indiana the Democratic organization headed by Paul V. McNutt, whose friends are boosting him for 1940, backed Senator Van Nuys for re-election and ran into a tight race.

Democratic Chairman Farley offered his own comment on the 1940 Republican presidential situation. "Senator Vandenberg is the Republican to defeat," he said. But the senator responded Farley would have his hands full picking a Democratic nominee.

Here's one worth going after!

COMING at you, it looks like a million. Going away, it looks like good fortune you've missed. A lot of fussy care went into the way it looks from the rear—you know, that's the angle from which it's oftenest seen. Going or coming, it moves like a honey bee about its business. Better look quick if you want to see it—one sudden "swo-o-o-sh!" and it's gone!

How about it—is this stunning 1939 Buick really as lively as it looks? Well, just try it and see—you'll find it the car and the value of the year!

Maybe a bullet gets off faster. Maybe a rabbit can beat it on the jump or a skynliner lead it from point to point. But you'll never want a highway cruiser that answers quicker to the green light's "go"—that slips more deftly through the holes in traffic—that with keener relish eats up the miles.

That bonnet houses a full complement of eight cylinders, and Dynaflex cylinders at that. All four wheels dance on BuicOil springing of stout spiraled steel; no quiver or shiver shakes the luxurious body in its flight.

You'll see the world—lots of it—for this slightly Buick now parades the passing panorama through windows with up to 413 more square inches of outlook than before.

Other things you'll like: A gearshift out of knee-way. Front wheels that "bank" the curves for you. Brakes that stop on a dime—and leave nine cents change.

Go see this lovely lively traveler. Drive it—feel its magic yourself, first-hand.

You'll find it beautiful in action as in aspect—you'll go for the way it goes for you.

You'll find it obedient and willing, a car that holds its marks in crosswinds, bears sharp around curves without slide or slew.

In fine—we think you'll like all of it—from its looks to the way it lives up to them. Won't you try it out—and see?
