Findley Home Scene of Dinner Party Sunday

Dr. and Mrs. William M. McAllister and Mrs. Mrs. Dwight H. Findley were hosts Sunday evening for a delightful dinner party at the Findley home on Glen Oak court. This pleasant event was the result of a successful duck hunt which is becoming an annual affair in the McAllister and Findley homes.

Society Members Return to City

Several Medford members of society returned this morning by train from the north. Among them were Mrs. R. W. Clancy who had been visiting in Seattle for the past two weeks. Others were Mrs. Charles W. Lemery and Mrs. Eugene Thorndike who had visited in Portland for several days and enjoyed the concert presented by Fritz Kreisler noted violinist. Mrs. Thorndike was the house guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Karl L. Janouch, in the northern city.

Hubbard Children Hosts for Dinner

Lola Ann and Bob Hubbard, children of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hubbard, entertained Saturday evening at their parents' home on Minnesota avenue with a pleasant dinner party. The small guests included Phillip Gates, Lee and Douglas Eden, Jo Ann Humphrey and Virginia Hammond. Following the dinner the group attended their regular dancing class at Ruth Lay's dancing studio.

Younger Set Enjoys Party

A no-host party was enjoyed Friday evening following the Medford-West football encounter when a group of the very young set gathered at the home of Miss Jackie Flynn on West 10th street. After dinner, dancing and cards were held. Guests included the Misses Mary Gritsch, Pat Wilkinson and Mary Shrove and the Messrs. Chris Barker, Norbert Mikache, Eusebe Dallaire, Larry Schade, Harry Wilcox and Gus Sakrasid.

Others calling during the evening were Bob Lee and Bob Taylor.

All the rabbits aren't in the hat

WATCH the professor! He reaches into a hat, and where no rabbit was, he finds a bunny. By even more marvelous discoveries—more startling developments—the oil industry constantly discloses new petroleum reserves both below and above ground.

Only recently deep drilling has made possible the tapping of new oil zones which promise to duplicate the shallower "horizon" from which all petroleum formerly came. Now-a-days, too, old and abandoned fields yield a second crop. The rejuvenating agents are natural gas, air, and water. Injected into oil sands they make tired wells flow again. The gas renders underground crude more fluid. Pressure of the water, air, or gas then forces it to the surface. Acid "shots" too stir old wells to young ideas.

In the refinery, ten percent of all gasoline is now made from natural gas. Again, the cracking process has, in effect, doubled the nation's store of oil. Petroleum goes more than four times as far as it did in the early days.

In California last year the new oil reserves which were found exceeded by one hundred million barrels the oil taken from the grounds. Science has done more than pull rabbits from a hat—it actually has given Nature a new youth.

Reginald Parsons Fiance Honored at Many Parties

In San Francisco Bay area many pre-nuptial parties are being given for Miss Catherine Chapin, who will become the bride of Reginald Bemis Parsons Wednesday of this week. The prospective bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Parsons of the Reginald and Seattle and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Day of this city are in San Francisco now participating in many of the pre-wedding social affairs and to attend the wedding at a tea.

At a tea held last Thursday, Mrs. Charles Cater Nichols and her three daughters, Mrs. Harry E. Jones, Mrs. Donald Van Smith and Mrs. Frank W. Schmitt shared hostess duties, complimenting Miss Chapin. White and yellow chrysanthemums were used to decorate the William Gorrill residence in Berkeley for the tea given Saturday by Miss Marion Gorrill and Mrs. James Vaughn in honor of Miss Catherine Chapin. Presiding at the all-white tea table were Mrs. William Wallace Chapin and Mrs. William Gorrill. Those assisting the hostesses to receive were Mrs. Charles Gibbs, Mrs. Calvert Moore, Mrs. Folger Athearn, Mrs. Kenneth Ferguson, Miss Ruth Schneider and Miss Julie Swobe.

Kenlys Return From Vacation

Social Security Number on Door

Writing that her social security number is the number on the door of her own home, this Mollie, Ill. housewife won $10,000 in the Johns-Manville "Better Homes for a Better America" contest for the best letter on "What the word 'home' means to me." She is Mrs. Patrick J. Coligan, mother of four children and the wife of a retired railroad official. The contest attracted wide attention throughout the United States and elicited the heartfelt sentiments of many thousands of Americans on home and home life, according to H. A. Thieroff of Big Pine Lumber Co.

CHILDREN'S BOOK WEEK OBSERVED

A special exhibit of new juvenile books has been arranged in the children's room in the basement of the library and so that parents may accompany their children the room will be kept open from 7 to 9 Tuesday and Thursday nights this week. The library staff invites parents to come to the library with their children.

HUNT CONTINUES FOR MISSING MEDFORD BOY

Police today were still on the lookout for Sidney Sunday, 12-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Sunday of the South Pacific highway who has not been home since November 2. Every family in the Medford area was asked today to notify city police if the boy has been seen. Police said it was possible some Jackson county family has taken the boy into its home on the belief that he is an orphan.

Arrangements have been made for county school children to visit the library and see the book exhibit each morning this week. Stories of the new books will be told each morning by the children's librarian.

SALEM'S DEFEAT IS BIG SURPRISE IN PREP CIRCLES

Jefferson and Mao-Hi Left Alone With Perfect Record—Medford Win Over Weed Boosts Claims

By Fred Hampson
Associated Press Writer.
State prep football championship yearnings of two schools—Salem, and Franklin of Portland—were solemnly interred over the week end leaving Jefferson of Portland and Mao-Hi of Milton-Freewater the only major high school teams with perfect records in Oregon.

A strong outfit from the southwest corner of the state had soured consideration for the mythical championship. It was Medford, unbeaten, victorious over some of the state's best, but tied early in the season by Hood River.

While Salem was surrendering its undefeated position in a game with Eugene, and Franklin of Portland was yielding to Jefferson, Medford, with 4000 home fans looking on, beat Weed, Calif., a team that previously had lost only one game in three seasons. The count was 20-0. Eugene Easy Winner.

Salem's defeat was the surprise of the week. Reckoned an easy victor the Vikings were beaten 12-8 and outplayed decisively by Eugene. Eugene made 230 yards to 123 for Salem, 12 first downs to 5.

Nearly 4000 witnessed this game. Marian Suack, Clack county's Best Orange, lived up to expectations as North Bend beat Marshfield, 20-6, for the Clack title. The prodigious half-back carried the ball on North Bend's first three plays and on two of them ran 65 and 70 yards for touchdowns.

Halfway, one of the state's best B division teams, finished its second straight season without defeat by beating Richmond, 40-0. The squad has won 13 in a row.

Hood River, tired at being held to a 9-7 lead at halftime by 200 Milton-Freewater, opened the third quarter, opened and ran up a 41-7 margin. La Grande outscored Baker on a snowy gridiron to finish its Blue Mountain loop schedule with a 20-0 win.

Albany's potent passes were too much for Coquille and the tally was 23-2. Grants Pass won its third game of the year. Roseburg was the victim and the score 12-0. Scappoose knocked St. Helens out of a tie for the Columbia River league lead, 7-0.

HOLLY PREPARED FOR S. F. BALLET

The Holly theatre was being put in readiness today for the appearance here Wednesday evening of the San Francisco Opera Ballet, opening attraction of the southern Oregon concert series.

The series of three concerts are being staged this year with the cooperation of George Hunt, theater manager, and nothing will be left undone to make Wednesday's ballet performance the most brilliant theatrical event of the season.

The ballet company will feature Janet Reed, former Medford girl, as premiere danseuse. Zoe Del Lente, Medford's "Pirate Girl" of the San Francisco exposition, will appear here by special arrangement. The entire company of 50 dancers is looking forward to its Medford appearance, and local committees, headed by Mrs. H. Chandler Egan, president of the association, are making elaborate plans for their entertainment.

Season memberships are still available at association headquarters at Peacock's Music-Radio center and those planning to attend are urged to make early arrangements for their seats.

VALLE, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Some Malheur county voters had to cross the border into Nevada to vote in the Oregon election. The booth in one precinct was in the Commercial hotel, McDermott. The Nevada-Oregon line bisects the hotel.
