

LANDON IS NAMED ON PAN-AMERICAN CONCLAVE GROUP

Roosevelt Selects One-Time Political Opponent As One of U. S. Representatives in Lima Meeting

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Alfred M. Landon, 1936 Republican presidential candidate, will be one of this country's representatives next month at the Pan-American conference in Lima, Peru.

President Roosevelt's selection of his one-time political opponent and 11 other delegates was announced by the state department yesterday—less than a year after Landon had pledged support to Mr. Roosevelt's foreign policies.

Secretary of State Hull will head the group. Among other members will be Miss Kathryn Lewis, daughter and confidential aide of CIO chief John L. Lewis, and Dan W. Tracy, president of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, an AFL affiliate.

Important Parley
Disturbed conditions in Europe, Germany's economic advances in South America and the United States promises to help defend the entire western hemisphere have combined to give unusual importance to the Lima conference, which begins December 9.

Landon, discussing his appointment and acceptance, said last night at Topeka, Kas. It was in line with what he had always advocated. "No matter how much we may differ on internal policies," he said, "it is common sense and patriotism to present a unified front in foreign affairs."

Last winter, when the nation was stirred by the Japanese bombing of the American gunboat Panay, Landon telegraphed Mr. Roosevelt that congressional critics of the administration's foreign policies "would hamstring your conduct of an extremely delicate foreign situation."

Appointment of the former Kansas governor was regarded by some students of political affairs as an example to nations which do not countenance two-party systems of government or permit presidential opposition.

To Form No Blocs
Adolf A. Berle, Jr., assistant secretary of state and a member of the delegation, said in a radio address last night no bloc would be formed at the conference and "no secret alliances will be made."

"The only object is to make it easier for all of us to act together as friends and neighbors," he said, "to make our own intercourse easier, to make our common defense more secure."

Other members of the United States delegation are the Rev. John F. O'Hara, president of Notre Dame university; Laurence A. Steinhardt, ambassador to Peru; R. Henry Noweb, minister to the Dominican republic; Emilio del Toro Cuevas, chief justice of the Puerto Rican supreme court; Green H. Hackworth, state department legal adviser; Charles G. Fenwick, professor of international law at Bryn Mawr college, and Mrs. Elise P. Mueser, a peace worker of Utah.

WESTERN OREGON WARMED BY RAIN

PORTLAND, Nov. 14.—(P)—Warming showers released northwestern Oregon from winter's first clasp today but east of the Cascade mountains the temperature still fluttered below freezing.

Japanese Find Canton In Flames

This was the sight that greeted Japanese soldiers when they reached Canton—the city in flames as the result of the Chinese carrying out the "scorched earth" policy. The fires raged over much of the native section of the city but remained clear of the American concession.

MAY USE FILMS IN MURDER TRIAL

WALLA WALLA, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Motion pictures of the defendant re-enacting a confessed slaying may be used in the first degree murder trial of Earl Talbott, 18, Prosecutor Glenn C. Bean said today.

Talbott, a huntville youth, goes to trial tomorrow for the fatal shooting of William E. McKinney, Waitaville farmer, in an argument over sale to Talbott of a horse and saddle. He was arrested at Freewater, Ore., last August 9.

Bean said Talbott confessed to Sheriff C. A. Woodward that night, and early next day was taken to McKinney's ranch where he re-enacted the death scene before a camera in the absence of McKinney's body.

Talbott was released from the state training school at Chehalis about two months previous. McKinney's body was found near the Touchet river. The ranchman's automobile, dog and a weapon were stolen.

TEACHERS LOSE IN RETIREMENT FIGHT

SALEM, Nov. 14.—(AP)—The supreme court of the United States advised the state supreme court today that it had dismissed the state teachers' retirement law case, paving the way for Multnomah and Marion county school boards to dismiss all teachers over 65 years of age.

The state supreme court ruled that the law, passed in 1935, was constitutional, and the United States supreme court refused to hear the appeal by a group of Portland teachers because no federal question was involved.

Tomorrow the state supreme court will enter the United States supreme court's mandate in its records, and then will send the decision to the Multnomah county circuit court. The school boards of Marion and Multnomah counties then will regard the decision as official and will dismiss the teachers over 65 years old.

The law applies only to the two counties.

LUMBER DEALERS FEATURE DISPLAY OF MODEL HOMES

A unique display of model homes is now featured in the windows of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce building, prepared by the Western Home Foundation in cooperation with lumber dealers of Jackson county. Retail lumbermen here have brought this interesting display to Medford, because of the increasing interest in home building in this area.

Intensive study of home design has brought about a new type of home which combines maximum in comfort and convenience with a beauty and style heretofore possible only in the most expensive structures, local lumber dealers point out. There is scarcely an item which goes into a home that has not been redesigned, contributing its share toward making the completed home more beautiful, more livable and a better value for the dollar.

A brief description of model homes in the Chamber of Commerce building has been given here by Medford lumbermen:

The first model is design No. 1 of the National Small Homes Demonstration, and is a part of the laboratory community actually constructed in Washington, D. C. It is sided with Red Cedar lap siding and furnishes a fine example of extreme simplicity and low cost, demonstrating the inherent beauty of correct proportion and spacing of openings.

The second model is also one of the designs from the National Small

Stressing the idea that the hope for world peace rests with youth, Commander Robert Ebel, of the local American Legion post, headed an Armistice day program held in the auditorium November 10.

Commander Ebel described the Beaver Boys' State held in Portland each year, and American Legion Junior baseball. He stated that these activities trained boys of high school age in the principles of self-government and citizenship.

In addition to Commander Ebel's address, the program featured a group of two selections by the band and a recitation, "In Flanders Fields," by Richard Schuchard.

Under direction of Miss Jacqueline Kirtley, plans have been completed for a "National Book week" program, November 13-19.

Displays of books, posters, and illustrations supplemented by class discussions are to be used throughout school.

A special display of the work of Rookwell Kent, who illustrates his own books, will remain in the lower hall throughout the week.

The library shelves will hold new books and posters to illustrate them. In addition, the bulletin boards of the English, history, music, physical education, home economics, science and language departments will present attractive new books.

The posters for "National Book week" have been made by art students under direction of Miss Pauline Conradt. Bob Forarth and Merlin Dow arranged attractive display cards for the English department.

MUSICAL TALENT EARLY OR NEVER

PORTLAND, Nov. 14.—(P)—Parents ambitious for musical success for children got some free advice today from a man who ought to know.

Fritz Kreisler, who doesn't like to be questioned about how it feels to be the world's greatest violinist, believes a child is born with musical talent and if he isn't, he'll never be a great artist.

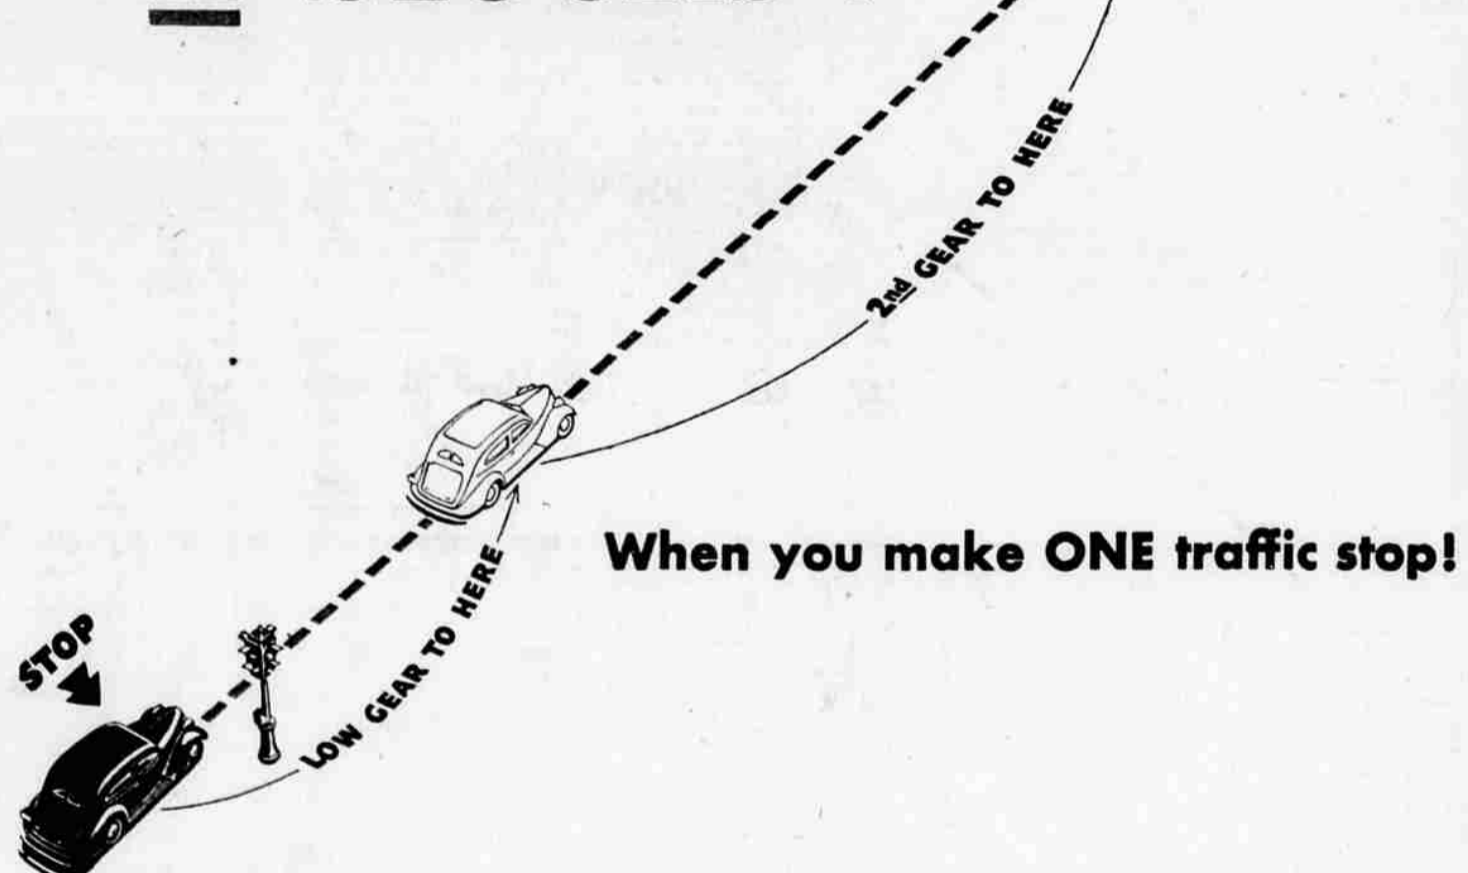

In an interview, Kreisler said a child with talent displays the trait very soon after birth and that unless he manifests such an interest up to four years of age, he probably isn't naturally adapted to music.

When is a block 2 blocks?

When you make ONE traffic stop!

In STOP and GO, a mile S-T-R-E-T-C-H-E-S

In low and second, your engine makes up to 3 times as many revolutions as in high—uses 3 times as much gasoline

When you start up in low gear, your engine makes 3 times as many revolutions as in high for each foot your car moves forward. You shift into second, your engine making twice as many revolutions as in high. In a block where you make one traffic stop, by actual count, your engine "turns over" enough times to take your car 2 blocks in high gear! You can't avoid stop-and-go driving, but you can do something about its high cost.

Shell engineers found that getting away from a traffic stop can waste enough "undigested" gasoline to carry you 1/2 of a mile. To cut this costly waste, they found a way to rearrange the chemical structure of gasoline. They make every drop of Super-Shell "motor digestible" under all conditions—every drop usable in stop-and-go driving. There is a Shell dealer near you. Use Super-Shell regularly and your savings count up.
