If we Americans ever had cause to be thankful for the great privilege of living under the Stars and Stripes we should be doubly thankful this 1938.

As we gather with our loved ones about the Thanksgiving Feast let us remember that just out beyond our range of vision is misery and want. That radio which in our own United States serves only to entertain and instruct, is in other lands used to build hatred. Vicious propaganda has poisoned the minds of people until unfortunate minorities have seen their homes destroyed, their property confiscated, their loved ones murdered or exiled, their families scattered penniless never to meet again.

Just out of hearing, crashing bombs showered by insane war lords on defenseless women and children are sowing death and destruction.

Beside all of this our little troubles seem as naught. Our homes are sacred; our lives are safe; the family as a unit is not endangered. Here if anywhere one can love his neighbor as himself.

A visiting foreigner recently said: America is truly God's chosen country. That is a dangerous belief. Rather should we remember that America is America because America has chosen God.
