Cash Payments to 2244 Since Inaugural of Federal Protection Plan—Many Lack Other Aid

KLAMATH FALLS, Nov. 18.—(Sp.) Insurance protection for millions of American families who previously had no protection of that kind has been brought about by the federal government's old-age insurance system. Daniel J. Coman, Klamath Falls manager of the social security board, said today in announcing that 2,244 persons in Oregon had received cash settlements from the federal government at the end of October.

These settlements, he explained, were paid to families of wage earners who had died or to persons attaining age 65 provided in both instances that the worker had previously been employed at a job covered by the old-age insurance provisions of the social security act.

"In making these settlements," Coman said, "we find many families with no insurance protection aside from that to which they are entitled from the federal government. The settlements we are making are not large—the October average in Oregon was $53.20—but the amount is increasing steadily and several families are now receiving more than $100."

Total settlements with beneficiaries in Oregon at the end of October amounted to $84,067.08.

The government's settlement is computed by determining the total wages earned from all jobs covered by old-age insurance and taking 3 1/2 per cent of that amount, Coman explained. No account is taken, however, of earnings in excess of $3,000 per year from any one employer. It was emphasized that the essential purpose of old-age insurance is not the payment of settlements, but the providing of an assured monthly income to eligible workers beginning at age 65 and continuing to date of death.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(AP)—The Social Security board reported today old age insurance claims paid in October averaged $61.81, the highest since the program became effective January 1, 1937.

The number of claims certified for payment during the month was 17,515, amounting to $1,082,621. The claims were paid to wage earners who reached the age of 65 and to the heirs of those who had died.

Since the program began, 234,083 claims have been certified amounting to $9,622,360.

The number of claims certified in October, the amount of payments, and the average by states included:

Idaho	49	2,213	$45.18
California	1,418	76,769	$4.16
Oregon	197	10,479	$3.20
Washington	321	18,447	$7.47

ANCIENT PAPERS PRINTER'S PRIDE

Among the treasured souvenirs owned by John K. Standish are several old periodicals. Mr. Standish is a history operator who came here recently from Goldfield, Nev., and at present is employed by the Mail Tribune.

In Mr. Standish's collection are the Connecticut Courrier, Bridgeport, Conn., of March 6, 1822; the first issue of the Los Angeles Daily Times, dated December 4, 1881; and a souvenir program of the Nelson-Green fight in Goldfield, Nev., September 3, 1906. The program contained a photo and word sketch of the late Tex Rickard, backer of the fight, who went to achieve fame as the country's greatest sports promoter. Also prominent in the program were advertisements of mining stocks.

The first edition of the Los Angeles Times was a sorry looking newspaper of four pages, largely advertisements, even on the front page.

JEW OF EUROPE CLAMORING FOR AMERICAN HAVEN

Struggle Seen in Next Congress to Relax Immigration Laws — Thousands Have Applications on File

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(AP)—A new, large-scale attempt by Jewish and other European minorities to find homes in this country may lead to a resurvey of American immigration laws by the next congress.

Outbreaks of anti-Semitism in Germany and elsewhere have caused many more thousands of central Europeans to seek admittance to the United States than is possible under existing laws.

Administration officials said today they anticipated a bitter struggle between members of congress wishing to relax immigration barriers for those refugees and members desiring to retain or strengthen them.

No Change Planned

President Roosevelt said this week he had given a great deal of thought to the German Jewish refugee problem, but he declared he had no thought of revising American laws to take in additional numbers here.

The United States is taking German Jews at the rate of about 24,000 a year, which officials estimated was more than all other countries combined are accepting.

There are now 220,000 applications for German visas on file, but the country's annual immigration quota is only 27,370. Similarly, there are 69,000 Polish applications, against a quota of 6,524, and 11,000 Czechoslovakian applications, against a quota of 2,874.

STUDENTS PROVIDE BASKETS OF FOOD FOR THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving baskets will be delivered to many needy Medford families by the Boys' and Girls' Leagues of Medford senior high school next Wednesday.

The entire student body has been given opportunity to participate in the helpful project. Baskets were placed in the halls Tuesday, and each student is expected to bring some staple article of food to be used in the baskets. Lists posted in the various halls and roll rooms suggest appropriate contributions. The baskets will be completed by bread, meat, and milk purchases from local merchants with funds from the Girls' League treasury.

All other groceries are to be contributed by students and teachers. Local health officers and school officials have cooperated in investigating cases of need and have found many families who are not being helped by other organizations.

Miss Madge Marcan and Wilson Wait, advisers of the leagues, are to be assisted by Fern Tye. The social service committee will fill the baskets on Wednesday and deliver them in a car provided by the boys' league.
