

OREGON TO SEND WINNING YOUTHS TO CHICKEN SHOW

At Least Dozen Girls and Boys to Get Expense-Free Trip to Cleveland Thru State Competition

CORVALLIS (Sp)—At least a dozen Oregon boys and girls, making up five different judging and demonstration teams, will be granted expense-free trips to compete at the World Poultry Congress at Cleveland, Ohio, next July, according to arrangements made by the Oregon World Poultry Congress committee.

Three 4-H club teams and two Future Farmers of America teams have been authorized by the state committee to represent Oregon officially in the youth section of the show from July 28 to August 7. The 4-H clubbers will have a poultry judging team of three members, a demonstration team on the production phase and a demonstration team on the consumption phase of two members each, according to H. C. Seymour, state 4-H club leader and the west's representative on the national youth committee.

The Future Farmers will be represented by a three-man judging team and a two-man production demonstration team. Earl Cooley, state director of vocational agriculture and chairman of the state youth committee, has announced.

Elimination contests among the 4-H clubbers will be held in every county, with the county winners competing during the annual 4-H summer school here next June for the Cleveland trip, Seymour says. A similar plan for selection of the two F.F.A. teams will be carried out. The state congress committee has guaranteed half of the expenses for the youngsters, with their local communities or counties expected to raise the remainder of the necessary funds.

Clubs Interested

Several communities and service clubs have expressed interest in sending one outstanding boy or girl or more to the congress in recognition of their accomplishment. State committees are encouraging this as a means of enabling more deserving youths to join the Oregon delegation and have the opportunity of seeing the greatest poultry show ever held in the world.

The Oregon youth delegation to the congress may also play an important part in the state's poultry exhibit, if tentative plans go through. The boys and girls may assist with distribution of advertising matter and other minor duties in the big exposition hall.

DETAILS OF 1939 AAA PROGRAM ARE ANNOUNCED EARLY

Will Enable Farmers to Give First Complete Test of Provisions of Act in Administrator's View

CORVALLIS (Sp)—A 1939 federal farm program, differing in only minor respects from that of 1938, has been formally approved by the secretary of agriculture, making it possible for the state committee at Oregon State college to notify county committees of detailed provisions months earlier than it had been possible to make such announcements in previous years.

This earlier announcement will enable farmers to give the 1939 program the first complete test of the provisions of the agricultural adjustment act of 1938, in the opinion of R. M. Evans, new triple-A administrator. Evans points out that in 1938 the program was not available until after all the winter wheat crop had already been planted. For 1939, farmers will know well ahead of planting time what the program offers them, and they can make their plans accordingly.

Fall Wheat in

Fall wheat for 1939 has already been seeded, but the wheat acreage allotments had been previously approved and distributed to growers in advance of seeding time.

Definite announcement regarding wheat payments shows that for 1939 they will amount to 17c per bushel under the regular agricultural conservation provisions, as compared with 12c in 1938. In addition to the 17c conservation payment, there will also be available to cooperating growers a price adjustment payment of from 10c to 12c per bushel. The exact amount of this second payment cannot be determined until after January 31, 1939.

All of the changes in the 1939 program are of an administrative nature and are designed to simplify the program, adjust it to new crop conditions, or make other minor changes suggested by experience in previous years, according to AAA officials.

Interest to Oregon

A provision of interest to Oregon growers, pointed out by N. C. Donaldson, state executive officer in Oregon, is that oats, barley, rye or flax may be used for a nurse crop for legumes or perennial grasses and will not be classified as soil depleting crops if these grains are cut for hay and a good stand of legume or grass is established in 1939.

A payment for potatoes this coming year will be 30c per bushel, which is a reduction of 5c from the 1938 program. Commercial vegetable acreage allotments will also be established in some areas this coming year.

UNION MUST PAY DEBT TO PICKETS

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Because a wage claim by professional pickets went unpaid, a receiver today had authority from a county court to take over the affairs of an AFL meat cutters' local union to settle an $1800 judgment.

Judge Frank P. Patterson empowered the receiver to collect dues and levy assessments to pay the 40 pickets who were hired last summer for demonstrations at stores of a local chain.

Louis Valra, attorney for the pickets, declared the men agreed to work for 50 cents an hour, but had not been paid in full.

"The law is plain on the point. The membership is clearly liable for such claims and we propose to see the union does not hold itself above the law," said Valra.

ROOSEVELT PLANS REST AT SPRINGS

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 22.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, back at his "other home" on Pine mountain, today mapped plans for a restful two weeks in preparation for the busy congress days ahead.

Secretary Martin McIntyre, who accompanied him here with a large working staff last night from Chattanooga, Tenn., said not a single business appointment had been made as yet, but this did not mean there would be none.

Regardless of developments, however, the "event" of the president's stay will come Thursday night when he and Mrs. Roosevelt will be hosts at a Thanksgiving turkey dinner to children undergoing treatment for infantile paralysis at the Warm Springs foundation here.

The president reached Warm Springs at 8 p. m., got behind the wheel of a small car, and drove nearly two miles to his white cottage overlooking the foundation from its mountain setting. Several hundred villagers greeted him at the depot.

ASHLAND, Nov. 22.—(Sp)—Forty years of active service with the railway mail service will end December 1 for D. R. (Ray) Matthews, former local resident, who retires on that date.

Matthews left Iowa in 1893 and arrived in Ashland by stage from Glendale, Ore. He attended city schools here for 11 years and was appointed railway postal clerk in 1898. He remembers the first circus which was shown in Ashland after completion of the railroad.

With all his traveling, he had
