

ASSURANCE ASKED FOR U. S. JEWS IN GERMAN BUSINESS

The World" and "One People—One Will—One Aim." The Nazi film "Jewry Without the Mask" will be shown at all meetings.

Authoritative quarters said a strict ban on all Jewish religious services except marriage and burial rites was the latest restriction, one which aroused much bitterness.

The absence of official reaction to the British plan for settlement of Jews in Tanganyika, other parts of British Africa and Guiana was seen as a studied effort while the Nazis await the outcome of Prime Minister Chamberlain's visit to Paris where he is to discuss defense and foreign policies with Premier Deladier.

By the Associated Press Germany and France today exchanged oral assurances of determination to maintain peace along their border, but in Paris opposition to putting such an accord in writing became apparent, the result of the Nazi anti-Jewish campaign.

Assurances were made by Adolf Hitler and the new French ambassador to Germany, Robert Coulondre, when the latter presented his credentials at Hitler's Berchtesgaden home.

Their words constitute an unwritten agreement on which the Paris and Berlin governments have been working since the four-power Munich meeting September 29.

Hitler said France and Germany were "no longer divided by the serious border conflicts which burdened their past," indicating anew he would make no claim to recover Alsace-Lorraine.

MEET TO PONDER VARIOUS BRANCHES OF HORTICULTURE

Corvallis, (Sp.)—Oregon State Horticultural society will hold its fifty-third annual meeting in Eugene December 6, 7 and 8, with a program that includes topics on every phase of horticulture, from vegetable crop production through small fruits and berries, tree fruits, horticultural products, insect and disease problems, canning problems, and production and marketing problems.

The last day of the convention will be a joint session with the Western Nut Growers association, which is also meeting in Eugene, December 8 and 9. The public is invited to attend all sessions.

The first day will be devoted to vegetable crops, including seed production, canning crops, insect pests, clover crops, canning marketing problems and frozen foods, according to the program just released by O. T. McWhorter, extension horticulturist at Oregon State college and secretary-treasurer of the society.

Cherry fruit fly control will come in for considerable discussion in the forenoon of the second day, including a report of a special fruit fly committee. Other topics will include new varieties of small fruit and their place in Oregon horticulture, and insect pests of small fruits.

A talk by Dr. Frederick M. Hunter, chancellor of higher education, entitled, "Services of Science to the Natural Resources of the State," will be a highlight of the afternoon. Other talks will deal with peach and prune pests and diseases and peach production and marketing. The annual business meeting will begin at 3:15 o'clock.

The joint session on the final day will deal largely with fertilizer and irrigation problems, plus observations of horticulture in the midwest by Mr. McWhorter, a talk on spraying by Howard Merriam of Gothen, and a discussion of "Oregon's Changing Agriculture," by F. L. Ballard, vice-director of the Oregon State college extension service.

The general committee in charge of the convention includes Truman A. Chase of Eugene, chairman and president of the society; E. A. McCormack and S. E. Fish, Eugene. The program committee includes Wendell Bartholomew, chairman; Don Schaffner, Noble Bond, O. S. Fletcher and Carl Robertson, all of Eugene.

MISS PARISH TO CHICAGO STUDIES, Miss Helen Parish, Jackson County Public health nurse, plans to leave Medford tomorrow evening by train for Chicago, Ill., where she will take a three months' graduate course in the Chicago Maternity Center.

Miss Parish was awarded a scholarship to the Center by the Child and Maternal Health division of the Oregon State Board of Health.

Miss Parish is a graduate of the University of Oregon where she received her B. A. degree. She received her public health training at the University of Oregon Medical school in Portland and later graduated from St. Vincent's hospital in Portland. She has been associated with the County Health office in this city since 1935.
