

Tigers Trim Ashland Squad 27-7 to Complete Undefeated Season

HOOD RIVER DRAW IS ONLY BLEMISH IN HARD SCHEDULE

Grizzlies Push Over Lone Touchdown in Final Period When Medford Second String Loses Control

Medford high school brought its 1938 football season to a close by defeating Ashland high school, 27 to 7, before a Thanksgiving Day crowd of 2,000 spectators in Ashland yesterday afternoon.

The victory gave Medford an undefeated record in Oregon and strengthened its claim to the mythical state championship. Only not on the Medford record was the tie with Hood River in an early season up-state game.

Coach Bill Bowerman's Tigers held a superior edge over the Grizzlies throughout the game excepting for a brief Ashland onslaught in the final period when the Medford second-string line collapsed long enough to allow Ashland to score its one touchdown.

Off To Bad Start

Medford got off to a bad start by fumbling the kick-off. Ashland recovered and quickly ran up two first downs, only to surrender the ball to Medford on the Tigers' 20-yard line. The period ended without a score and with Medford in possession of the ball.

The Tigers went to work in the second quarter. They pushed the ball to the Ashland's four-yard strip with a series of line bucks, spinners, reverses and end-runs. From the four-yard strip, Bowman crashed through for a touchdown. Eri place-kicked the extra point.

A little later Bowman got loose for a 17-yard run to the Ashland 44-yard mark. Campbell shot a pass to Bowman which put the ball on the 30. Another pass, Campbell to Piche was good for 30 yards and a touchdown. Eri again place-kicked the point. The period ended when Bowman intercepted a Grizzly pass.

Ashland Kick Returned

In the third quarter Bowman returned an Ashland punt 22 yards to the Grizzly 21-yard line, the kick netting Ashland only three yards. A pass from Caples to Bowman was good for six yards. Louis Thurman crashed through the line and was downed with only a foot to go for a touchdown. On the next play Bowman crashed over. Eri's place kick was wide.

Bowerman sent in a string of secondary players at the beginning of the final quarter. An Ashland punt was blocked and the Tigers started a drive for their final tally. Two first downs put the ball on the Ashland fifth, Campbell went through for 25 yards and Campbell passed to Monteth for the touchdown. A place kick by Eri added the point.

Tiger Line Crumbles

Medford kicked off to Ashland and the Grizzlies started a march through the Medford line which suddenly crumbled. After a straight gain through the line, Harris tossed a pass to Jessel for 30 yards to the Medford one-foot line. Charley Warren tore over for the touchdown and then place-kicked the extra point.

Bowerman sent his regulars back into the game but Ashland continued its spurt. The Grizzly drive ended when Caples intercepted a pass, the game ending on the next play.

Garcia's Bolo Punch

It looks suspiciously like an old-fashioned up-from-the-ankles uppercut, but as Ceterino Garcia, the Filipino fighter who is to meet Champion Henry Armstrong tonight in a welterweight battle in New York, demonstrates it, it's the "bolo punch," and it is very much a part of his stock in trade. Garcia is shown during a recent workout. (A. P. Photo).

CONFIDENT O.S.C. WAITS CIVIL WAR WITH WEBFOOTS

PORTLAND, Nov. 25.—(AP)—A streak of confidence not reflected in the last hour news from the University of Oregon flashed from the Oregon State college football team today as time sped on toward tomorrow's Multnomah field meeting for the northwest championship.

Coach Lon Stiner, who brought his team in a day ahead of the battle for a workout on the fast but untruffled gridiron, said his lads had "reached a fine mental attitude."

Tex Oliver, the Oregon mentor, was a bit gloomy about his introduction to the recent traditions of the state's annual civil war. The ex-Arizonan, coaching his first Webfoot team, counted three major casualties. Nello Giovannini and Bill Foskett, linemen, and Jay Graybeal, half-back.

Giovannini and Foskett were injured in the victory against Washington but neither was definitely ruled out of action. Graybeal, whose long runs and passes lighted several touchdowns early in the season, was hurt against Fordham.

With the exception of wingman Don Coons, the Beavers were in top physical condition. Coons received a cut above the eye in the Stanford contest, but will start tomorrow.

Oregon State, third place Pacific coast conference team, ruled the favorite on the basis of a consistent showing since dropping the schedule's opener to Idaho. The Webfoots have displayed moments of brilliance but prognosticators couldn't forget big score hitings against Stanford, Fordham, Southern California and California.

Clear cold weather and more than normal interest in the contest was expected to send the attendance to around 80,000.

ARMSTRONG TOPS IN BETTING FAVOR

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Henry Armstrong has been paid some nice compliments in the course of his public relations in the little Negro wonder. The fact the husky Filipino will outweigh Henry by a dozen pounds when they enter the ring is worth only a bored "so what?" from Henry's loyal rooters.

Few fighters ever have gained such a hold on the customers. Promoter Mike Jacobs says indications are the big haul will be packed, with close to $110,000 in the bill. Only four reserved tickets were turned back when the bout was postponed from its original date, November 2.

Though Garcia has a record nearly as striking as Armstrong's over the last two years, and has been belting out welterweights and middleweights while Henry was rolling up 29 consecutive victories over the little fellow, Armstrong is the drawing card tonight.

CHOICE MORSELS STILL ON PLATE FOR GRID FANS

Half Dozen Foremost Teams Must Risk Laurels in Scheduled Tilts — Bowl Hopes Hang On Some

By Judson Bailey

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Maybe you thought the football season was about finished—and maybe you're about right—but in either event some of the choicest morsels remain to be fed to the fans.

Not out of "bowls" either, because at least half a dozen of the nation's foremost undefeated teams still must risk their precious necks in regularly scheduled encounters.

Four such games, topped by the Pittsburgh-Duke business at Durham, are on tomorrow's menu, competing with the pagantry of the otherwise meaningless Army-Navy spectacle.

Texas Christian faces a dangerous Southern Methodist crew in the Southwest conference. All bars are down, too, on the Oklahoma university tussle with Oklahoma A. and M. and Texas Tech's appointment with Marquette.

Bowl Candidates

All of these foemen have been more or less reticent about their post season plans but, in spite of denials they care about invitations, Duke, Pitt and Texas Christian are all glowing prospects for any bowl and tomorrow's activities may determine in which direction each will entrain, if at all.

The second section of this week's football supplement is spotted with other attraction offerings—some of them so traditional as to make an old blue turn red.

Georgia Tech and Georgia, Fordham-N.Y.U., Washington-Washington State, Oregon-Oregon State, Baylor-Rice, Louisiana State-Tulane, Florida-Auburn and Boston College-Holy Cross all fall into this class.

Few Games Remain

The day's long-distance prize, no matter what the score, will go to the Dartmouth-Stanford rally at Palo Alto, Cal.

After the echoes of this shouting have faded away, fans still will have Notre Dame's annual skirmish with Southern California. Tennessee's Southeastern conference contest with Mississippi and Oklahoma's tilt with Washington State to wet their interest—besides a sprinkling of other games right up until the big New Year's day blow-off.

STATE PREP TITLE REMAINS CLOUDED AS SEASON ENDED

Corvallis Springs Surprise With 12-0 Win Over Salem—Jefferson Trims Strong Milwaukie, 14 to 0

By Fred Hampson (Associated Press Writer)

Oregon's 1938 prep football season ended Thanksgiving day with a handful of games that decided one league championship but did little to clarify the state title situation. Two unbalanced schools were among the claimants and a third demanded consideration despite a tie score.

Thursday's biggest surprise was Corvallis' 12-0 win over Salem. Jefferson of Portland added heavily to its prestige by beating Milwaukie, champion of the no-name league, one of the strongest circuits in Oregon. The score was 14-0.

Mac Hill Claimant

Milton-Freewater, unable to schedule a Thanksgiving game with Medford, demanded a chunk of the title. The Pioneers were untested and untied in eight Blue Mountain league and inter-sectional games.

Medford, tied by Hood River early in the fall, wound up a great season by thumping Ashland yesterday, 27-7. Medford was a conspicuous team this year because of its part in eliminating other state contenders, notably Klamath Falls and Bend.

The Tualatin-Yamhill valley league title went to Beaverton yesterday when the Beavers beat Tigard, 14-0, before 2000 fans. The game broke a first-place tie between the two.

Bainier and St. Helens played to a 7-7 tie. The deadlock did not damage Bainier's claim to the Columbia league title.

Eugene Trims Tillamook

Eugene, the team that ended Salem's long winning streak this season, finished up with a 20-13 victory over Tillamook at Tillamook.

Florence evened its score with Waldport 12-7 at Waldport. Early this month Waldport won from Florence, 8 to 0.

Cottage Grove closed with a 19-0 victory over Junction City. The Grovers won six out of eight games this season, were tied once and beaten once.

Silverton, a strong Willamette valley team that succumbed to Salem during the Vikings' winning streak this year, wallowed Chemawa Indians in a finale, 26-13.

A fine passing attack and unsuspected running and plunging power gave Corvallis its victory over Salem.

I. Pickem's Understudies Risk Big Shot Reputation

With fear and trepidation the Mail Tribune's triumvirate of amateur prognosticators go to the bat again this week for Mr. I. Pickem who remains mysteriously among the missing.

The fear and trepidation arise from the triumvirate's almost incredible score of 13 winners out of 13 predictions last week. The amateur experts would like to let it go at that, but here is another week and nothing daunted, nothing gaudy.

So kneeling devoutly on their prayer rug and keeping a couple of fingers crossed, the forecasters go to work. Here is their consensus for tomorrow's big grid battles:

DARTMOUTH GRIDDERS UNUSED TO WARMTH

PALTO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 25.—(UP) Warm weather is making things uncomfortable for the Dartmouth football team. Coach Earl Blaik said today, but he is confident it won't affect their play against Stanford here Saturday.

When Dartmouth left Hanover, N. H., last week it was snowing and they had been practicing with mittens on. Blaik admits his lads had a "pretty good" chance of beating the Stanford outfit, but doesn't think his team should be installed as favorite. Stanford is "underrated" Blaik insists.
