TALENT PAIR AWAIT COURT SENTENCE ON BURGLARY CHARGES

Byron Garner Works, 41, and Paul Strickle, 21, both of Talent, waived preliminary hearing in justice of the peace court this morning and entered pleas of guilty to charges of burglary not in a dwelling. Passing of sentence was deferred for two days.

The complaint against the two men was filed by Burt Simmons, Talent m. a. s. h. l. who, with state police, made the arrest yesterday morning after the Talent post hall and confectionery was broken into Saturday night.

Works and Strickle admitted to the court that they stole a quantity of cigarettes, tobacco, several bottles of wine and miscellaneous articles from the establishment, after gaining entrance by kicking in a window. County Coroner Frank Per said that Turpin sat in a chair in the kitchen of his house, placed a 23-30 calibre rifle in his forehead, and pulled the trigger. Death was instantaneous.

His wife, Aletta, discovered the body. She told the coroner she was busy milking a cow when husband ended his life, and that when she finished her chores and came back to the house she found him slumped over in the chair.

Turpin, with his family, had been a resident of the Gold Hill district for the past ten years, and was well known and liked by all who knew him. He was born near Medford, August 6, 1875.

Besides his wife, Aletta Elizabeth, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Ethel Alliger of Portland, and Mrs. Ollie Met of Medford; one son, Ross Turpin of Gold Hill, one granddaughter, Gloria G. Met; four brothers, Charles, Albert L. of Medford, Thomas of Bremerton, Wash., and Arch H. of Central Point; and two sisters, Mrs. B. F. Gilbert of Medford and Mrs. Laura Wyland of Ashland.

Funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. D. E. Millard at the Per funeral home at 11 a. m. Wednesday. Interment will be in Central Point cemetery.

He knocked her down, hacked through her heavy coat to inflict two gashes in her left arm, and escaped. Police have been unable to trace the slasher who has attacked eleven persons within the past seven days. All but two of the victims were women. None was seriously wounded.

ALBERTA GROWERS TAKE TOP HONORS FOR WHEAT, OATS

67.5 Pounds Wheat Weighs — Brother's Oats Weigh 48.8 Pounds to Bushel

By John L. Cutter (United Press Staff Correspondent) CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—(UP)—Two brothers who share a 320-acre farm in the rich Peace River valley of Alberta, Canada, won two of the highest grain awards open to American farmers today as distribution of championships in the world's largest showing of farm products began in the International Livestock Exposition, P. O. Lloyd Rigby, 23, was crowned world wheat king. William Justin Rigby, 22, was chosen king of oat growers.

The prize awards were made in the 20th International Hay and Grain Show, held in conjunction with the 90th annual International Livestock Exposition here. Wheat is Heavy Lloyd Rigby exhibited a tray of wheat which weighed 67.5 pounds per bushel as compared to 40 pounds of non-premium specimens. It was the 16th time in 20 years the wheat crown had gone to a Canadian. Alex Stewart of Allas Craig, Ont., was the defending champion.

William Justin Rigby showed a tray of oats which weighed 48.8 pounds per bushel as compared to 34 pounds for non-premium specimens. It was the 11th time since 1920 that the oats crown had gone to a Canadian. Alex Stewart also was the defending champion in the oats division.

The Rigby brothers, trained in agricultural work by membership in the Canadian boys' and girls' farm club which corresponds to the 4-H clubs of rural boys and girls in the United States, work with their father on the 320-acre half section near Wembley, in Alberta province about 400 miles north of the international boundary.

The reserve championship of the wheat classes also went to a Canadian—R. P. Robbins, Shaunavon, Sask., on a sample of durum wheat of the Manitum variety. It weighed 64.9 pounds per bushel.

The wheat specimen was of the "Reward" variety developed by Canadian government experimental farms for full body and high milling and baking qualities and introduced into general production in 1924. Since that time it has won seven international championships.

The oat sample was of the "Victory" variety, which originated in Sweden and has been improved by agricultural scientists as its general planting spread throughout the world.

Canada's accepted predominance of small grains, recognized by United States agriculturalists who long have held supremacy in corn and breeding divisions of the exposition, also extended to soy beans. Hugh Jeffrey of Whitby, Ont., was acclaimed soy bean king on a sample of Mandarin variety which originated in Manchuria. The reserve championship went to Robert Sloan of Worthington, Ind.

Other championships awarded: Field peas, H. J. Davis of Edfield, Sask.; field beans, Albert O. Gohn of Emo, Ont.

Dramatic Star

"A Man to Remember" the story of a country doctor, the picture that has been named as an outstanding candidate for the Academy Award, comes to the Medford theatre for tomorrow and Wednesday, topping the twin bill that will have a Glue Club mystery, "The Last Express," as the added feature.

Termed a "sleeper" a picture that comes from the studio, unheralded, unpre-announced, almost unnoticed, and turns out to be a bigger hit than most of the "super-colossal" "A Man to Remember" has captured the wholesomeness of a small town community, the sincerity of its doctor, in a dramatic theme that ranks with the best.

Edward Ellis plays the doctor, and others include Anne Shirley, Lee Bowman and William Henry.

Patsy Kelly Stars In Current Picture On Craterian Bill

Although Fredrick March and Virginia Bruce are its stars, "There Goes My Heart" which opened yesterday at the Craterian theatre, is a personal triumph for Patsy Kelly—a new streamlined Patsy Kelly who, despite her smart appearance, has her wit as sharp as ever.

"Stealing the show" it is nothing new for Patsy—she's done it before and will undoubtedly do it many times in the future. For this Irish lass, with an earthy brand of humor, strikes a responsive chord in the hearts of everyone every time she pops into the scene. There's no dilly-dallying with Patsy—she gets right down to the business at hand, that of getting in the laughs. And since she's in and out of "There Goes My Heart" all the way through, how can anyone expect to compete against her?

This is not meant as criticism of March and Miss Bruce, or of any of the rest of the cast—Alan Mowbray, Eugene Pallette, Nancy Carroll, Arthur Lake and (in a small bit at the close of the show, but it he makes big) Harry Langdon. They're all good. It was just their misfortune that Patsy was also cast in the picture. She literally runs away with it.

The story of "There Goes My Heart" is the story of a madcap heiress and a newspaper reporter. The heiress, bored with the usual happenings, turns working-girl and becomes Patsy Kelly's room-mate. And so the heiress, the reporter (who strikes up an acquaintance), Patsy and Alan Mowbray (who works as motorman by night and studies chiropractic by day) become a happy-go-lucky foursome, doing the things ordinary people do and having a grand time. Of course, grandfather enters into the story and very furiously, too. Finally, it looks as though Grandpa is going to win but trust a reporter to come through in the pinch (especially when Patsy's there to lend a helping hand).

WAYLAND, N. Y.—(UP)—Gerald Seely, in cleaning his furnace, tossed a brick outside into some tall grass. Hearing the startled outcry of a fluttering bird, he investigated and found the brick had downed a full-grown cock pheasant.
