

CRAZED SCULPTOR BEGINS SENTENCE IN SING SING CELL

Man Who Slew Three to Improve His 'Visualization' Has Plan by Which Will Be Haired As Benefactor

OSSENING, N. Y., Nov. 29.—(UP)—Robert Irwin, the mad sculptor, who says he slew three persons in order to improve his "visualization," was put in a padded cell in Sing Sing prison today to begin a sentence of 199 years.

He was bubbling over with a plan by which he is to be released in 10 years as a "public benefactor." With mocking laughter he accepted his sentence, which admits no chance of parole, in Judge J. G. Wallace's court today, then left the courtroom raving because the judge had interrupted the proxy oration he had planned for this final public appearance. With contorted features he snarled that Wallace represented "a rich man's justice."

Hunts in Court
He ranted also, while six guards dragged him from the courtroom, against the failure of Mrs. Ethel Kufner, the former Ethel Gedeon, to appear in court. Mrs. Kufner, whose friendship he had mistaken for something deeper, was the woman he intended to kill on Easter Sunday, 1937, when he throttled the beautiful Veronica Gedeon, artist's model, and her mother, and stabbed Frank Byrne, a lawyer, 11 times through the head with an icepick.

NAZI DOCTRINE OF DISTRUST, directed against the Jews, is emblazoned in above anti-Semitic exhibit in Berlin, where Rumania, England, Germany, Austria and South America are indicated by a sign reading: "Jews Unleash Bolshevism." With a slackening of the anti-Jewish fury following Vom Rath's assassination in Paris, German newspapers complained about the unfavorable world reaction to the Nazi campaign. Hitler's paper called the ejection of Mormons from Missouri and Illinois an "American parallel to the Jewish problem in Germany."

"visualization," and which in ten years will find him hailed by the world as a genius, released from prison for a life of honor, wealth and adulation.

Early Death Seen
Psychiatrists and physicians believe he will die in five years of tuberculosis acquired in a poverty-stricken childhood, of congenital syphilis and of the wasting effects of dementia praecox. His two brothers are confined in Oregon and Washington state penitentiaries.

REOPEN PROBE OF MAHONEY'S CRASH

ALBANY, Ore., Nov. 29.—(UP)—The Linn county grand jury today reopened investigation of the reckless driving charge against Willie Mahoney, former mayor of Klamath Falls and twice a Democratic nominee for United States senator.

The case involves the accident a year ago when Mahoney's car struck and killed Thomas Zimmerman on the Pacific highway near here. Mahoney was indicted by a previous grand jury but never tried. District Attorney J. K. Weatherford, Jr., asked the new inquiry.

H. Holgeron and Douglas Schumacher of Bremerton, Wash., witnesses of the accident, were here today and were reportedly ques-

FIX CALIFORNIA WAGE FOR BEET CULTIVATION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(UP)—The department of agriculture today fixed wage rates to be paid laborers in California in production, cultivation and harvesting of sugar beets during 1939 by producers seeking benefits under the sugar act.

The act specifies growers to be eligible for benefits must pay "fair and reasonable" wage scales fixed by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace. The new rates are virtually the same as those for 1938 except a slight modification of the sliding scale fixed for harvesting in southern California.

ROOSEVELT PHYSICIAN WILL BE 'JUMPED' TO REAR ADMIRAL RATING

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 29.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, it was learned on good authority last night, has decided to reward the efficiency of his personal physician, Capt. Ross T. McIntire, with a "jump" promotion as surgeon general of the navy with the rank of rear admiral.

The 49-year old naval surgeon, who has guarded the president's health since the beginning of the new deal, will be given a double promotion over the heads of half a dozen captains who outrank him, including Capt. Edgar Woods, who was supposed to have been his chief competitor for the honor.

Rear Adm. Percival S. Royster, present surgeon general, was said to be retiring today because of age. Another title for the office is chief of the bureau of medicine and surgery.

Dr. McIntire is on the permanent naval list as a commander, his captaincy being only temporary while he was on White House duty.

McIntire, a specialist in eye, ear, nose and throat ailments, is a prematurely bald, mild-mannered man who has made many friends in his extensive travels with Mr. Roosevelt.

He entered the navy from Oregon, served on several hospital and training ships and took over his present post in 1933 from an assignment at the naval hospital in Washington.
