

LOCAL and PERSONAL

Here On Business—S. D. Treshan of Gold Hill transacted business here today.

Calls Here—Fred Middlebush of Prospect transacted business in Medford today.

Medford Callers—Donald Ferguson of Gold Hill was a Medford business caller today.

Medford Callers—Among Eagle Point business callers in this city today were M. E. Robertson, J. W. Mynatt and George McLean.

From Ashland—N. E. Taylor, H. R. Stevenson, H. H. Johnson, N. W. Greenan and W. M. Kenyon, all of Ashland, attended to business matters in this city today.

New Residence—W. A. McClain applied at the city building inspector's office yesterday for a permit to construct a new residence at 513 West Jackson boulevard at a stated cost of $2,000.

Grange Carnival—The public was reminded today of its invitation to the carnival to be held Saturday evening by the Eagle Point grange in the grange hall. The grange promises "fun for all."

Manager Here—Marjorie Hibbert, manager of Adrienne's store in Klamath Falls, spent yesterday here on business at the local Adrienne's store. Miss Hibbert formerly resided in this city and worked in Adrienne's here.

Jail Crowded—City jail was taxed almost to capacity last night, with 17 sleepers spending the night there. It was the heaviest influx of sleepers of the winter. Chief Clatus Creech said. During November, police furnished overnight beds for 147 persons.

Meeting Tonight—E. T. Healy of Portland, president of the United Telephone Employees of Oregon will address a district meeting in Medford city hall at 8 tonight. Members of the organization are expected to attend from Medford, Grants Pass, Ashland, Klamath Falls and Roseburg.

Band To Practice—Southern Oregon Accordion band will hold a special rehearsal Saturday evening at 6:45 in the Baldwin Piano Shoppe at 123 West Main street to prepare for its appearance in Grants Pass Sunday evening. Mrs. Harry Prentice, director, urges that all members be prompt in attending the rehearsal.

Sale at 1 P. M.—The sale of the Caloregon Hereford Breeders association, scheduled for tomorrow at the old fair grounds south of Medford, will open at 1 p. m. It was announced today. Fifty head of registered bulls and heifers will be offered, the auctioneer to be Col. A. D. Dudley of Phoenix. Anyone interested in cattle and especially in herd improvement is invited to attend the show and sale.

To Organize—An organization of Oregon mine operators will be formed at a meeting to be held in the Portland hotel, Portland, at 10 a. m. December 7, it was announced in a press release today from Leverett Davis, vice-president in charge of operations of the Cornucopia Gold mines at Cornucopia. The mining industry of the state has reached a point where an organization is necessary, Mr. Davis said. All mine operators and others interested directly in mining are invited to the organization meeting.

To Elect Officers—Annual election of officers will be held by the Rogue River Valley Navy Mothers club at its semi-monthly meeting at 2 p. m. Monday in the home of Mrs. Florence Cuffel at 909 North Central avenue. Because of the election all members are asked to make a special effort to be present. All women having sons in the United States navy are invited to attend whether or not they are members of the club. After the business session refreshments will be served. Mrs. Maude M. Culbertson, commander will preside.

Sale Tomorrow—Ladies Home league of the Salvation Army will hold a sale of home-cooked food, sewing and other handwork from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. tomorrow next to the Elwyn B. Hoffmann shop on West 6th street near Holly street. The sale items will include articles suitable for Christmas gifts. It was stated by Mrs. George Gay, league secretary in charge of the sale.

Townsend Meeting—Townsend club No. 2 will hold a regular meeting this evening in Townsend hall, 123 1/2 West Main street. Plans will be made for the club's Christmas meeting and for the session on the fifth Friday of the month. After the business meeting, a program will be presented and refreshments served. All interested in the Townsend movement are invited to attend.

Still Snowing—The ground cover of snow in Crater Lake national park attained a depth of 30 inches at park headquarters this morning, rangers reported by radio. It was still snowing in the park at the time of the 8 a. m. broadcast. Flows were keeping park roads open but motorists were cautioned to use tire chains. Yesterday the temperature ranged from a maximum of 35 to a minimum of 26.

Describes Trip—A trip through Death Valley in southern California was described by Violet Wood at last night's semi-monthly meeting of the Southern Oregon Gem and Mineral society at the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce. The speaker also displayed rock specimens she brought from the valley. William McClure gave a lecture on the lore of quartz. The club voted to hold a field trip Sunday if it is not raining or snowing. If the weather is clear the members will assemble at the chamber of commerce at 10 a. m. The trip will be made to Miller's creek. Each member is to bring his own lunch, the society furnishing coffee, sugar and cream. At the next meeting on December 8 Dr. R. C. Van Velsch will give a lecture on quartz crystallizations. The club now owns four books on gems and minerals and is subscribing to the Mineralogist. This reading matter is for use of the club members.

Name Change Mystifies BUTTE, Mont.—(UP) There is just one thing that still intrigues court attachés here in the case of Charles Collar. Judge J. J. Lynch granted him a request to change his name from Collar to Sakellaris and, while he presumably told the court the reason therefor, no one else about the court has been able to figure it out.

Wolf Hunters to Organize CHANDLER, Okla.—(UP) A four-county wolf hunters' association is envisioned by sportsmen here. G. W. Ross, vice president of the Deep Fork Valley Hunters' association, said that the projected organization would incorporate associations in Lincoln, Oklahoma, Creek and Oklahoma counties.

Coon Too Fastidious CLINTON, Okla.—(UP) Friends advised Clarence Sawyer that if he had kept plenty of clear water in the cage with his raccoon he would not have had to dispose of the animal "because he wouldn't eat." A coon, they say, will not eat until it has washed its food—and the wash water must be fresh.

WPA Erasing Illiteracy NEW ORLEANS—(UP) Approximately 47 per cent of the 219,750 illiterates listed in Louisiana in 1930 have been taught to read and write during the past four years by the Works Progress Administration, Jaa. H. Crutcher, state administrator, has announced.
