LLAMA OF TIBET ORDERS PACKARD—ONE FOR RIPLEY

"Officials of the Packard Motor Car company have many stories they tell about the deliveries of new Packards to out of the way places of the world," said Perry Ashcraft, local Packard dealer, today as he finished the short delivery of 1939 Packards to the Medford Armory for display at the Lion's club auto show.

"The Llama of Tibet ordered a Packard delivered to his far away home and Packard officials thought at first it couldn't be done but they wanted to find out if there was a place where it was impossible to take a Packard.

"The car was shipped as far as possible into Tibet, and from this farthest point, after it had been completely disassembled, was carried on coolie back into the forest covered mountains.

"It was set up in the Llama's throne room and every afternoon at a fixed hour, with much ceremony, he climbed into the back seat while coolies ran the car up and down the long length of the throne room. The car could not have traveled far out of doors because of lack of roads.

"More work was involved in delivering three Packards than probably has accompanied the delivery of any other automobiles. They were shipped by steamer to Barranquilla. There they were transferred to a smaller boat which took them up the Magdalena river hundreds of miles. The river trip occupied a month because of the lack of speed rather than distance.

"They were unloaded on the bank of the river where they were completely disassembled. All of the parts were loaded on the backs of mules and carried up a narrow winding mountain trail to Bucaramanga, a city of 30,000 people which is located on the top of a mountain 9,000 feet high.

"When the bodies and chassis were taken up two mules had to be used, the 'freight' being carried on two long poles suspended from saddles on the sides of the mules. At two points on the trail, turns were so sharp that the rear mule had to be swung with block and tackle off the trail and out over the deep gorge to make the turn.

"When these cars were reassembled they were in the city to stay and there are only 30 miles of road on which they can travel."

CHEVROLET 1939 MODELS ACHIEVE SALES INCREASE

Let's engineers have engineered into the car a new type of riding quality—a balanced ride—which is at once the most restful, most thrilling and most satisfying that we have ever had in an automobile. We take pride in being a Chevrolet dealer because Chevrolet has always given the public a car with long-life qualities—qualities that make satisfied owners and which account for almost 75 per cent of our annual sales coming from former Chevrolet owners. This, indeed, is a tribute to the type of cars Chevrolet has built. The 1939 Chevrolet is also a value car and we are not surprised that smart buyers are demanding exhaustive demonstrations—and are looking beneath the exterior to determine what is really in the heart of the car. We are convinced that a 28 per cent average gain in this era for the 1939 car is not too much to predict."
