Knights Sponsor Dancing Party Saturday Evening

The Tullman lodge of the Knights of Pythias will sponsor a dance for knights and invited guests, Saturday, December 17th, at the Knights of Pythias hall.

This is the second dance sponsored by the Knights of Pythias, under their winter program. It promises to be a huge success as the first dance of the season, conducted last month.

Fred Knox is program chairman, in charge of the dance and has promised special entertainment and Dickery's 4-piece orchestra.

All knights and their wives or lady friends and invited guests are urged to be present.

Miss Gore Expected to Visit Parents

Miss Dorothy Gore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gore, is expected to arrive in Medford this week-end from Pomona college in Claremont, Cal., to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents at their home on Geneva street.

Campus social events held during the week before the recess begins tomorrow are the Christmas formal dance and the traditional Christmas supper. Students will return to the Claremont campus January 3.

College Group Treks Homeward For Yuletide

Returning home last evening from Oregon State college was Miss Betty Fowler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Fowler, who will spend the holiday season at the home of her parents on Kings highway.

Another O.S.C. coed who returned last evening was Miss Kathryn Mead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Mead.

The Fowler's son, Robert, also a student at the Corvallis college, plans to return to the Corvallis college, parents this evening accompanied by his father who attended the annual conference of the extension service at Oregon State college.

The M. Ottoman's son, Robert, returned this morning on the train from O.S.C. to visit here over Christmas.

Miss Frances Port, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Port of the Star Ranger station in the Applegate, also arrived on this morning's train from Corvallis where she studies at Oregon State college.

Miss Currier to Arrive Here Soon

Miss Georgia Currier is expected to arrive in Medford this evening from Eugene where she is a student at the University of Oregon.

Miss Currier will visit her parents, the home of Mrs. George Currier, at their home on South Hamilton street, during the Christmas holidays. She is a senior at the university.

Miss Brophy Here for Holiday Visit

Miss Elaine Brophy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Brophy, returned to her home on the Eagle Point road last evening from Seattle where she attends the University of Washington.

Miss Brophy, among the first of the coeds to return to Medford, will join members of the college set here for many Yuletide amenities.

The Chi Omega house is Miss Brophy's Seattle residence. She accompanied Jim Bayliss to this city who went on last evening by motorcar to Hills, Cal., where he will visit his parents at Mountcrest ranch for the holiday season.

DeMolay Mothers Luncheon Held

DeMolay Mothers club enjoyed a meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. B. Price on Sunset avenue.

A Christmas tree and gifts were in order and decorations were arranged in traditional holiday motif. Dessert luncheon was served at 1:30 o'clock after which a business session was held.

Assisting Mrs. Price as hostess were Mrs. Belle Thompson and Mrs. Frank Hull.

The next meeting will be held on January 17 at the home of Mrs. Fred Strang on South Central avenue.

Mrs. Wetterer New Club President

Mrs. Helen Wetterer was elected president of the Get-Together club at its regular meeting recently.

Others elected to offices were Mrs. Yetta Flowers, vice-president, Mrs. Verna Thatcher, re-elected secretary. The club is sponsoring a bazaar at 1242 East Main street Monday and Tuesday of next week. There will be many attractive gifts suitable for Christmas presents on sale.

Past Matrons Club Enjoys Luncheon

the home of Mrs. Victor Bursell Wednesday for luncheon.

Hostesses were Bertha Bursell, Rose Bishop, Winnie Cook, Gladys Beebe, Mable Bennett and Minnie Clark.

Following the luncheon, members enjoyed a Christmas party and tree. Rooms and the tables were decorated in an abundance of holly.

P.T.A. Activities

Parents who attended the Junior high P.T.A. meeting on Tuesday, December 13, were pleasantly entertained by students from two of the school departments.

From the dramatic department, a number of talented students working singly and in groups portrayed various characterizations in both monologue and pantomime.

Several monologues in which the student-prover had written his own script proved especially humorous. For example: The trials of a very troublesome lady who took along her very troublesome son, Junior, on a trip to the department store to buy herself a hat.

Mrs. Sykes in a talk to the parents explained the methods of her department in developing originality, character, poise, diction, etc., among the students.

From the music department, taught by Miss Marylou Straight, the boys glee club were presented in a pleasing group of Christmas carols.

The next meeting of the Junior high P.T.A. will be on the evening of January 10th, when the entire meeting will be conducted by the Dads with a "Style Show" as the central attraction.

VALLEY TURKEYS ROLLING TO EAST

Seven or eight cars of Rogue River valley turkeys have been shipped the past 10 days to eastern markets. The same number of cars are scheduled to go to California markets the end of the week. This represents the bulk of the shipments for this year. A few cars may be dispatched next week.

Growers and shippers said the turkey crop had been practically all sold and the January carryover would be considerable less than in previous years.

The Christmas price was slightly better than at Thanksgiving with 22 cents to 23 cents paid for toms and 24 cents to 25 cents per pound for hens, depending on the grade.

PORTLAND, Dec. 16.—(AP)—The turkey market was firm and active for shipments here today. Unusually good trade continued at 22 cents a pound for toms and 24 and 25 cents for hens.

A one-cent decline for toms at New York was reflected here.

MARRIAGE LICENSE STRIKE CONTINUES

There was nothing doing again Thursday at the marriage license department of the county clerk's office. Prospective brides and grooms, at least some of them, were going to Yreka, Cal. where, three days after filing a declaration of intention to wed, they are given the necessary papers and can face the preacher. In this state, after the required medical examination under the new law, nobody knows how long it will be before the order to grant a marriage is received by the county clerk. There has been no word on two applications, the only ones filed.

Heretofore in Jackson county the Yule season, next to June, has been the most popular time for marrying.

Pomp and Splendor Rule Reception for Diplomats

By BETH CAMPBELL.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—(AP)—They call it the No. 1 party of the capital's social whirl—the grandest official social function in the United States—or simply the White House.

It took place again last night, in all its pageantry and pomp and glittering splendor.

While the guests awaited at the entrance and handed their admission cards to White House policemen, the honored diplomat in elaborate uniforms went through the oval red room on the ground floor, which the president uses for his fireside chats.

Army, navy and marine aides in dress uniforms directed the diplomats up the marble stairway, where a redvelvet rope separated them from the other guests.

Past the red-coated band in the reception hall the line moved to the east room, where the envoys stood under the great chandeliers until they could be received by the president and Mrs. Roosevelt in proper order.

For a diplomatic reception, precedence rules everything. The senior ambassador comes first, followed by his wife, his staff members and their wives. Then come the other ambassadors and their parties, then the ministers and their staffs.

As the reception guests gathered, President Roosevelt invited a group of dinner guests to watch a traditional rite upstairs in his oval study. Four enlisted men—two from the army, one from the navy and one from the marine corps—removed the stars and stripes and the president's dent and Mrs. Roosevelt were leading the cabinet procession from the state dining room.

The president, in white tie and tails, and the first lady, in a simple blue crepe gown with a flaring accordion-plated skirt, took their places in front of a bank of palms in the oval blue room. An aide announced each guest by name as they shook hands.
