NO INQUEST INTO DEATH OF PHAIR

The county coroner's office said today there would be no inquest into the death of Earl Simons Phair, 11, who was killed when struck by a county gravel truck at the intersection of Pacific highway and Barnett road Saturday morning. In the opinion of the coroner and the district attorney, after questioning several witnesses of the accident, the tragedy was unavoidable and the truck driver, Frank William Denser of Phoenix, was held blameless.

The Phair boy, son of Mrs. Adelaide B. Simons of 408 Earhart street, was buried in Jacksonville cemetery yesterday.

Earl was hit by the truck when he chased a rubber ball into Barnett road, just as the truck, full of gravel, made a left hand turn off the Pacific highway into Barnett road. He died in a local hospital six hours later.

BOTTLE MESSAGE PILOT'S FAREWELL

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 19.—(AP)—A penciled message in a bottle washed up on the Norwegian coast provided a sequel today to the disappearance of Charles Backman, 27-year-old Swedish flyer lost on an attempted trans-Atlantic solo flight last May.

A customs officer at the Swedish-Norwegian border reported finding the message, which he said bore Backman's name and told of a crash in mid-ocean. The writer said he would be lost, if no help came within three days.

(Backman, who had lived for a time in St. Louis and Chicago, took off for Sweden from St. John's, Newfoundland, last May 16 and was unreported thereafter. He flew a 90-horsepower, single-motored monoplane with no radio.)

CANADIAN MONEY NOT ACCEPTABLE

PORTLAND, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Following the lead of other commercial centers, Portland virtually banned Canadian money today.

The municipal court refused to accept Canadian currency for fines or bail. A number of business firms have not accepted dominion money since the outbreak of the war and others were expected to take similar action.

Bankers said the condition resulted from the Canadian government's money conservation decree limiting importation and exportation to $500.

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Bellingham banks here were refusing to accept Canadian money or checks for deposit and placards listing the Canadian exchange rates were removed from display.

ITALIAN LINER BARS GERMANS ON VOYAGE INTO WAR TERRITORY

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Thirty passengers with German passports were refused permission today to sail for Europe in the Italian liner Rex, as the result of an order from the line's Genoa office.

No explanation was made of the order, which denies passage to persons with German or Czechoslovak passports, but it was believed intended to prevent the searching of Italian ships on the high seas by the British and capture and internment of enemy nationals.

Baroness Ruth Oppenheim, wife of a wealthy German banker, Katharina Weber, a domestic who had worked in this country ten years, and Kurt Muller, who had tourist class reservations, were escorted off the ship with their baggage.

Mrs. Weber and Muller both wept, but the baroness reacted with a show of temper.

"Even in the last war the British did not take any women and intern them," she said angrily. She planned to return to Cologne, Germany, to look after her three children, from two to five years old. Her husband, the baron, intended to remain here indefinitely to escape possible capture by the British.
