New York City Curator to Show Works Thursday

Dr. and Mrs. George H. Childs of Brooklyn, N. Y., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jenney on the Jacksonville highway. Dr. Childs is an assistant curator of the marine department of the American Museum of Natural History in New York city. Dr. Childs collaborated in making a small model of a Samoan pearl diving group for the museum's exhibit at the New York world's fair.

4-H FAIR WINNERS SAY HARD WORK IS BASIS OF SUCCESS

Poyer Twins Place Attention to Prized Stock Ahead of Everything — 4-H Show Prize Winners Are Listed

By Maude Pool

"You've got to stay on the job the year around and put club work first," say Marvin and Melvin Poyer, the 4-H club twins of Ashland who were grand champion exhibitors in the dairy department at the 4-H club livestock show which opened here yesterday. These serious curly haired youths have put this theory into practice and have succeeded, even placing their school work second, their father, E. B. Poyer, says. Marvin was championship winner in the Purebred Jersey class with his six-year-old senior champion cow. Melvin was awarded the championship ribbon in showmanship, winning a close race with Loyal Newbury, grand champion in the Guernsey class. Aileen Owens and Cora Big-ham placed second and third in Guernsey showmanship.

Crowds Attracted

Twila Ferns was championship winner in the grade Jersey class, with Florine Smith grand champion in the grade Guernsey division. A demonstration in egg grading by Dorothy Hunsley and Norma Sage of the Table Rock poultry club was on yesterday afternoon's program. This display of livestock, the third held here, is attracting good crowds, and will be open all day and throughout the evening, ending Thursday.

The Poyer twins, active in the 4-H program for ten years, started with a Jersey calf apiece, and now own 16 Jerseys. Has their 4-H work brought them money? Yes, but it went right back into their project, say the boys. "I think 4-H work is great because it teaches us to go on our own," Marvin says, "and we learn experience in feeding."

100 Ribbons Won Each animal has to be fed and cared for differently, according to disposition, say the twins. The high strung animals must be treated quietly. The Jerseys owned by Marvin and Melvin originated from the J. R. McCracken dairy farm at Valleyview, and have brought the boys 100 ribbons in five years of exhibition. In the last three years they have specialized in Duroc hogs, some of which are on exhibition at the show.

These boys have attained many honors in the 4-H field. Last year they were members of the championship judging team at the Pacific International Livestock show in Portland. Both have attended the international show for three days as a guest of the Medford branch of the First National Bank of Portland. For three years they have exhibited at the state fair, placing first and third this year in the senior project. Marvin was second in the judging contest at Salem this year. For four Five thousand chickens have been stolen during the past 90 days in Clackamas, Marion, Multnomah and Washington counties, Gurdane said.

WEST COAST DEFENSE NON-EXISTANT AVERS GENERAL GEO. WHITE

SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Major General George White, commander of the 41st division, National guard, advised America today to "cast aside wishful thinking and adjust itself to the black world of reality, created by the mad man of Germany."

"It is not a satisfactory feeling when we look our national defense squarely in the face," he told a chamber of commerce luncheon while on his annual inspection tour here. "True we have passed out of the flintlock stage, but relatively we are no stronger than before we entered the world war."

"It would take us 200 days to mobilize, equip and train a first line of defense. Compare that with the time it took Germany to sweep over Poland."

Asserting the Pacific coast would be defenseless if an emergency necessitated moving the fleet to the Atlantic, he added, "we have no coast defense."

"Of course, we would make an attempt at defending the coast, but it would only be a show."
