Louis Bromfield's Novel Wins Crowds Craterian Showing

"The Rains Come," the sensational successful best-seller by Louis Bromfield, was presented at the Craterian theatre last night with Myrna Loy, Tyrone Power and George Brent in the stellar roles, and the occasion was one of which the producers may well be proud.

For a truly great motion picture has been made of Bromfield's thrilling story of a handful of humans, cut off from the world in the colorful mythical city of Hanchipur, India, their emotions at the breaking point, their lives at the climax, and all restraint swept away as the untamed forces of nature ravage the earth.

Featured in the perfect supporting cast are Brenda Joyce, latest discovery, who triumphs in her film debut as Fern Simon; Nigel Bruce, Marie Ouspenskaya, Joseph Schildkraut, Mary Nash, Jane Darwell, Marjorie Rambaun, Henry Travers and H. B. Warner.

The film will play through Saturday. Use Mail Tribune want ads.

FRISKY - You can't blame this young colt for having a frisky look with the present company it's keeping. The girl is Iowa-born Priscilla Lane of the films, going western at a dude ranch. Better watch those chins, Priscilla.
