

Oregon Battles Trojans to 7-7 Tie: Staters Conquer Stanford 12 to 0

BOB SMITH HURLS TOUCHDOWN PASS, GLORY FOR LINE

Webfeet Stave Off Attacks Of Reserves — Touted Troy Ekes Out Deadlock.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 30.—(AP)—University of Southern California's Rose Bowl dreams received a rough going over today when the Webfeets of Oregon battled the mighty Trojans to a 7-7 deadlock.

Forty thousand fans gathered for this Pacific Coast conference opener saw Doyle Nave, the passing-throwing hero of S. C.'s victory in the Rose Bowl last January, return to action and pitch his embattled mates to a coach in the final quarter.

Coch Gerald (Tex) Oliver's well drilled lads from the north, expected to give Troy a workout and little more, staged a brilliant 84-yard aerial attack in the second period, and left the field at half time leading by 7-0 count.

Southern California rushed in its one, two and three teams, but the Webfeets staved off all scoring threats until Nave and his deadly right arm went to work in the last frame.

The last time Oregon defeated the Trojans was in 1915. Since then they had been unable even to tie the men of Troy, and Oregon in the closing minutes today froze on to the ball, content with an even break on the scoreboard.

Nine plays and 56 yards brought the Oregon touchdown. Little Jay Greybeak started the fireworks and turned the job over to southpaw Bob Smith, who finished it with a perfect pass into the arms of John Berry, as he stood just over the line, surrounded by Trojans. Ralph Anderson came and converted.

Southern California's line of backs, including Grenville Lansell, Jack Banta, Bob Peoples and a few more, piled up yardage but the Webfeets gallant forward wall held tight as soon as the ball reached within scoring distance.

With minutes fading, Nave came in. Troy moved from midfield as Peoples and Joe Shell began holding his perfect passes. With the ball on the 11, Nave found Peoples over in one corner. The ball went home and Oklahoma Bob jerked and wiggled past two Oregon backs for the score. Phil Gaspar added the tying point.

Again Nave began throwing the ball and Troy started toward midfield, but Berry, one of the best men on the field, intercepted one hurl and Oregon kept the ball until the final seconds.

Southern California had a big edge in statistics, but that was all. Lineup and summary:

ASHLAND BEATEN BY PASS, 12 TO 0

GRANTS PASS, Sept. 30.—(AP)—The 1939 Oregon conference first 1939 football victory went to Grants Pass last night as the Cavenem beat Ashland 12 to 0.

In the first quarter, Dick Espy intercepted a pass on his 48 and ran for a touchdown. An intercepted fumble on the Ashland 28 paved the way for the second quarter score. Pruess carried the ball across the second half received itself into an Ashland aerial attack pitted against scrimmage plays and punting.

The Grizzlies made four first downs and 136 yards while Grants Pass collected five first downs and 157 yards.

Pendleton Coach Hurt
PENDLETON, Ore., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Byron Haines, football coach at Pendleton high school, was seriously injured and four companions suffered minor injuries last night when their car skidded and overturned on a curve on Emigrant Hill, east of here, as they were en route home from the La Grande-Milton-Freswater night football game at La Grande.

STATERS HUMBLE STANFORD 12 TO 0, OLSON SPARKLES

Cardinals Are Weak Before Passes and Power Of The Corvallis Squad.

PALO ALTO, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Oregon State college, ranked as a pre-season contender for the Pacific Coast conference football championship, established itself as a definite challenger today with a 12 to 0 victory over Stanford University before a crowd of 20,000.

The northern team, enjoying slight favoritism at the opening kickoff, produced a finely drilled team that quickly had Stanford on the run.

Superior blocking, better choice of plays and a solid running and passing attack, produced touchdowns for Oregon State in the first two periods.

In contrast, Stanford turned in a loosely played game. Its aerial series failed to function, except in isolated instances, and the ground attack found the linemen tangled in confused masses with the backs on many occasions.

The game had barely gotten under way when Oregon State put together a drive of 74 yards on ground plays entirely to reach Stanford's 3-yard marker, before being driven back two yards where the ball was lost on downs.

The march served as a preview of what was to be expected. Beginning on the ball, Coach Lon Stiner's club charged 47 yards for the first score. A 21-yard pass from Left Half Olson to Left End Vandiver put the ball 10 yards from the goal. On the next play, Pullback Kieselburgh tossed a short one to Quarterback Peters, who ran four yards for the touchdown.

In the second quarter John Tsoulovas, Oregon State center, whose brother served in a similar role for Stanford a few seasons ago set the stage for the second touchdown. He blocked a punt by Left Half Albert and OSC took possession on the opponents' 40-yard line. Two line bumps and two passes, the second from Olson to Right Half Morris Kohler good for 29 yards, put the ball two yards from the last chalk line. Kieselburgh cracked center for the remaining yardage.

Each time attempted place kick conversions by Right Guard Younce were blocked. On the first try substitute Left Half Vic Kohler caught the ball in mid-air but was tackled while trying to run it over the goal line.

Stanford backs, especially Frank Albert, Sophomore Left Half, his running mate on the other side, Jim Groves, and Pullback Norman Standie showed flashes of brilliancy, but they received woefully weak support from the line. The OSC offense merely breezed through the right side of the Stanford line, Bob Olson, OSC left half, was outstanding back on the field.

While thoroughly beaten, Stanford also received some bad breaks such as losing the ball when a substitute back, Kmetovic, fumbled after signaling for a free catch, and when a player accidentally touched the oval before an Oregon State man after being blocked punt. Credit for the freakest casualty also went to the home team. Bill Willard, substitute end, wrenched his ankle while warming up in front of the bench. He could not play when his services were sorely needed.

PACIFIC UPSETS CALIFORNIA 6-0; BEARS BEFUDDLED

Berkeley, Calif., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, 76-year-old football wizard, signaled his fiftieth year of coaching today as his College of the Pacific Tigers scored a smashing upset in beating University of California, 6 to 0.

Pacific, outmaneuvering the highly favored Bears virtually all the way, pushed over a touchdown late in the third period as the climax to a 94-yard march.

The touchdown thrust was a pass from Halfback Bob Adamina to End Doug Smallwood, tossed from the 10. Smallwood grabbed the ball on the third period as the climax to a 94-yard march.

The touchdown thrust was a pass from Halfback Bob Adamina to End Doug Smallwood, tossed from the 10. Smallwood grabbed the ball on the third period as the climax to a 94-yard march.

Halfback Roy Cooper's attempted place kick for the extra point sailed wide.

The game was the second half of a double bill. California beat the California Aggies in the first contest, 32 to 14.

Punching holes in the California line and dazzling the Bears with smart aerial strategy, the Pacific boys from Stockton, who upset South Dakota, 6 to 0, last week, appeared deep into California territory several times. They were on the Bear 10-yard line and going strong at the final gun.

The Bears never penetrated further into Pacific territory than the 30-yard line. Frequently they tumbled or had passes intercepted, while Pacific tore off huge gains on long passes and tricked California with backfield maneuvers.

Pacific scored 10 first downs to six for California, and netted 309 yards from scrimmage against 151 for the Bears.

It was close only in the first half when Corvallis scored both its touchdowns. It was 7 to 7 at the end of the first quarter and 19 to 14, Medford, at the close of the first half. As in the second game, the Tigers were forced to come from behind twice, but after they finally grabbed a 19 to 14 advantage they were never in danger.

Undoubtedly the quickest touchdown ever scored on the local field was turned in by Corvallis on the opening kickoff. The Spartans kicked off and the ball sailed into the end zone, over the head of Ike Orr, sophomore fullback. Orr, playing only his second game of high school football, turned and trotted after the ball. A swarm of Spartans rushed into the end zone and Orr, suddenly realizing that it was a "live" ball, dove for it. He partially clutched the leather but it slipped from his grasp and Anderson, Corvallis left tackle, fell on it for a touchdown.

Anderson then added the extra point with a place kick and it was 7 to 0. Corvallis, with less than 20 seconds of the game completed.

It didn't take the Tornado long to deadlock the score. Bob Newland returned a Corvallis punt 17 yards to his own 47-yard line and there he attacked back and Reynolds fired a 15-yard aerial shot to Don Moyer, right end, and the latter ran seven more yards. Newland and Orr advanced the ball to the Corvallis 23-yard stripe on line plunges, then Newland hauled back and shot another 15-yard bomb to Moyer in the deep third and Don, after making a spectacular catch near the sidelines galloped the remaining eight yards into pay territory. Dale Howard tied the score with a place kick.

Shortly after the second period opened Corvallis drove to its final touchdown. Mardis Lemon, left half, broke loose for 15 yards around his own right end and Reynolds, on a sweet quarterback sneak, exploded through the Tiger line and raced 35 yards to the 11-yard line. On the next play Lemon plunged off Medford's left tackle for the touchdown. Anderson converted and it was 14 to 7, Corvallis.

Passes Make Ground
The Tigers drove 54 yards to their second score a few minutes later Newland tossed one of his beautiful passes to Louie Thurman for 19 yards. After Orr picked up a few yards on line smashes, Newland skirted his own left end for 17 yards to the Corvallis 20. A smashing block by Stan Vinter, left end, cleared the way for Newland. Newland then lined a five-yard aerial to Thurman, who galloped six yards to the Corvallis five. Orr circled his own left end, on a reverse from Newland, for the touchdown. Howard's attempted conversion was wide, and the Tigers still trailed, 13 to 14.

Just before the half ended the Tornado tallied again, on the most spectacular play of a game jammed with thrillers. Corvallis, deep in its

CORVALLIS LOSES TO TIGERS AFTER JIG-TIME SCORE

Opening Kick Goes For First Touchdown—Medford Passes And Ground Attack Win 31 to 14.

Medford high's gridiron troops, operating with a savagely blocking forward wall and a set of super streamlined backs, broke out a blistering aerial and ground attack to put the crusher on a tough Corvallis club at the stadium Friday night, 31 to 14, in front of an estimated 3500 spectators.

It was the second straight victory for the Black Tornado, and if Coach Bill Bowerman has any worries concerning his 1939 football creation they can't be of an offensive nature.

The Tigers tallied five touchdowns, four on the land and one through the air, and only in the final quarter, when the "fighting thirds" were doing their stuff, did the red and black clad lads fail to cross the Spartan goal line. The Tornado smashed over one touchdown in the first period and two each in the second and third heats. With a 31 to 14 bulge at the end of the third quarter, Bowerman tossed his entire reserve squad into the fray, and the second and third stringers responded by holding the enemy scoreless.

The touchdowns were evenly distributed among five Tiger pickers. Don Moyer, Ike Orr, Billy Piche, Bob Newland and John Salsberry each romping into the promised land.

First Half Close
It was close only in the first half when Corvallis scored both its touchdowns. It was 7 to 7 at the end of the first quarter and 19 to 14, Medford, at the close of the first half. Just before the half ended the Tornado tallied again, on the most spectacular play of a game jammed with thrillers. Corvallis, deep in its OWN TERRITORY, PUNTED TO THE MEDFORD 38-YARD LINE. THE BALL STRUCK THE GROUND, BOUNCED CRAZILY A FEW TIMES AND WAS APPARENTLY GOING TO BE GROUNDED. SUDDENLY, NEWLAND SCOOPED IT UP, AWING WIDE TO THE LEFT SIDELINES AND STREAKED FOR THE GOAL LINE, 62 YARDS DISTANT. NOT A CORVALLIS MAN LAID A HAND ON THE SPEEDY LEFT HALFBACK AS HE FLASHED DOWN THE SIDELINES AND OVER THE LAST LINE. PICHE'S ATTEMPTED PLACEKICK WAS BLOCKED, BUT THE TIGERS HAD THE LEAD FOR THE FIRST TIME, 19 TO 14.

FIELD GOAL FROM SUBSTITUTION'S TOE GIVES IRISH WIN

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 30.—(AP)—A 21-year-old Irishman named John Charles Kelleher bobbed up from the ranks for one brief glory-filled moment today, booting a field goal that gave Notre Dame a hard won 3 to 0 spectators in the Irish stadium.

Kelleher, who lives in Lorain, Ohio, and struggled gamely through the past two seasons as a fifth or sixth string quarterback, trotted onto the field in the third period to coolly collect the points which gave the Irish their hardest won opening game in years.

Steve Sitko, first string Irish signal caller, opened the Notre Dame drive that ended with Kelleher's boot. Sitko returned a Purdue punt 34 yards to the Bollermaker 34-yard stripe to start a smashing offense which carried to the Purdue 21. Then Joe Thesing, Irish fullback, spun and fought his way 17 yards to the Purdue four-yard marker.

Purdue's forwards gallantly halted the Notre Dame surge, tossing Notre Dame back six yards on two straight plays. Thesing smashed to the Purdue eight-yard marker on the next try and Kelleher entered the game to replace Sitko, sending a low, straight kick between the uprights as the throng roared. Kelleher, a senior, played a large portion of the remainder of the battle.

Each team made five first downs, indicating the closeness of the game. Notre Dame picked up 131 yards by rushing to Purdue's 61, with Lou Zoultin the best Irish ball carrier with a total of 31 yards to 20 tries. The speedy Byelene gained 48 yards on nine smashes at the tough Notre Dame line.
